City And Area Escape Latest Big Snowfall

Southern Local's Schools Still Out, Hancock's Reopen

While Southern Ohio and other areas were receiving their heaviest snowfalls in years, East Liverpool and the immediate district got only a smattering of the white stuff Tuesday afternoon and night despite a forecast of two to four inches.

No complaints had been received up to press time.

Things don't look too bad for tonight and tomorrow, either, with little change in temperature and a few light flurries the word from the weatherman. A

2nd Ban On Parking Set In Snow Cleanup

A second parking ban is scheduled from 11 tonight until 7 Thursday morning to allow a snow blower and city equipment to remove snow from sections of six downtown streets, Mayor George E. Willshaw said.

The ban will cover: Jefferson, Jackson and Market Sts., all between 3rd and 6th Sts.; Washington St. from E. 4th to E. 6th St.; Broadway from E. 3rd St. to St. Clair Ave., and Walnut St. from E. 3rd St. to Bradshaw Ave.

Snow Blower Used To Clear Parking Area

A big snow blower worked nine hours Tuesday night and this morning to clear packed snow from the curbside parking areas along East Liverpool's three major downtown arteries —E. and W. 4th, 5th and 6th Sts.

A fleet of city - owned trucks and hired rolling stock was used to move the snow and ice to the riverfront and municipal property at the rear of Westgate School.

Powered by a 36-horsepower motor and taking a six - foot swath through the snow, the blower loaded a truck every two minutes.

The equipment cleared most of the area listed in a schedule issued yesterday by Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey— 4th, 5th and 6th Sts. between Broadway and Monroe Sts. The intersecting streets and alleys were not cleared, however.

The blower was on loan for demonstration from Roy Brammer of Salineville, an equipment dealer who took it on trade. The machine is manufactured by Sicard Industries, Inc., of Watertown, N. Y.

Plows were used to shove the compacted snow from the curb areas into big windrows in the middle of the street. Then the blower moved along the center

Worst In Nearly 50 Years

Heavy Snow Hits In Southern Ohio

By The Associated Press

The worst snowstorm in nearly 50 years pounded southern Ohio today and spread into Virginia after weaving a snow-strewn path across Kentucky from the Plains.

Deaths attributable to the severe weather across the nation the last few days reached 145, including 47 persons who died in fires and heating accidents. Another 33 perished from exposure to the cold. The others died in traffic accidents on slick roads and from heart attacks caused by overexertion.

The storm dumped more than 12 inches of snow along the Ohio River to southwestern Illinois.

Heavy-snow warnings were posted for most of the Ohio Valley and central Appalachian area.

The storm struck southern Ohio with a fury Tuesday, jammed traffic, closed schools and stranded workers. The snow fell at the rate of 2 to 3 inches an hour part of the day.

The Weather Bureau said 13 inches of snow covered Cincinnati, including 10 inches which fell Tuesday.

Cincinnati stores closed in midafternoon. The University of Cincinnati suspended classes and many southern Ohio schools were shut down early.

Major hotels were jammed by midafternoon by workers who couldn't get home. Basketball games and meetings were canceled.

A 40-mile-per-hour speed limit was posted on the Ohio Turnpike from Fremont-Port Clinton to the Pennsylvania line.

The snow ranged from 4 to 12 inches in southern Illinois, southern Indiana and southern Ohio, and in parts of eastern Missouri and most of northern Kentucky.

At Louisville, Ky., and at Belleville, Ill., across the river from St. Louis, snow measured 12 inches: Dayton, Ohio, counted 10 inches, Evansville, Ind., 9 inches, and Indianapolis 5.

Snow, sleet and freezing rain covered a large section of Kentucky and parts of eastern Tennessee and south-central West Virginia.

The heaviest snowstorm in more than 40 years moved into Kentucky, closed one-fourth of the schools and choked off traffic.

Frankfort had 12 to 15 inches.

Communities which escaped the snow were pelted with freezing rain. The storm dumped 9 inches on Lexington and 10 on Covington. Louisville had 12 inches, bringing most business to a standstill. Downtown stores did not open and factory workers were sent home early.

The streets were lined with abandoned cars, and those which ran creeped slowly along the streets.

The snow in Louisville was the worst since Jan. 14, 1918, when 10.4 inches covered the ground.

The edge of the storm struck Virginia with a mixture of snow, sleet and rain Tuesday night. The storm concentrated on the sections of Virginia hardest hit

Resolution On Viet Nam Back In Spotlight Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The congressional resolution on Viet Nam signed by President Johnson a hot August afternoon in 1964 has rocketed back into the limelight in snow-covered Washington. Exactly what does it say?

In one form or another, the resolution has, like an undercurrent, swept beneath the great decisions and debates over Viet Nam the past five days.

It was used by President Johnson as guidance in his decision to resume bombing of targets in North Viet Nam.

It was cited by Chairman J.W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee who said he was "not at all proud of" the part he had in its passage.

Its repeal is being sought by Sen. Wayne Morse, D- Ore., persistent critic of the Johnson administration's handling of the Viet Nam situation.

Johnson requested the resolution shortly after the Gulf of Tonkin incidents in which North Vietnamese PT boats attacked American destroyers.

Here is the text of the joint resolution passed Aug. 10, 1964, "to promote the maintenance of international peace and security in Southeast Asia."

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

Whereas naval units of the Communist regime in Viet Nam, in violation of the principles of the Charter of the United Nations and of international law, have deliberately and repeatedly attacked United States naval vessels lawfully present in international waters and have thereby created a serious threat to international peace;

Whereas these attacks are part of a deliberate and systematic campaign of aggression that the Communist regime in North Viet Nam has been waging against its neighbors and the nations joined with them in

Filings Mount For Ballot To Beat Deadline

Both Parties Gain New Aspirants In May 3 Primaries

The County Election Board's staff was busy today with a last - minute rush of candidates seeking to beat the deadline at 4 p. m. for filing for ballot places for the primary elections on May 3.

Both parties gained new candidates in the filings Tuesday afternoon and this morning. More were expected this afternoon.

A third Republican entered this morning for the nomination for state senator in the new 30th District. Democrats already had four in the field.

He is Robert M. Bell of Steubenville, who also is seeking return as a member of the Republican State Central Committee from the 18th Congressional District.

John Longsworth, 26, of 1347 E. State St., Salem, filed for the GOP nomination in the district, which is made up on Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll and Harrison counties and the eastern half of Tuscarawas County.

Donald Elliott, a Rogers attorney, also entered officially yesterday for the Republican senatorial nomination. He had announced his candidacy in November.

19 Are Killed As Labor Bus, Engine Crash

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Nineteen young Puerto Ricans, who came to Florida's fields to earn some extra dollars, were killed Tuesday when a farm labor bus collided with a diesel engine.

Fifteen others were badly injured as the engine crushed the bus like an accordion and pushed it 432 feet.

It was the second-worst traffic accident in Florida's history and another in a long series of accidents involving vehicles that carry Florida's field hands.

Friends of the Puerto Ricans heard the news at the labor camp where the bus was bound following a day in a pole-bean field.

"Did these men have families," a man asked one of the few who spoke English.

"They were Puerto Ricans," was the reply. "In Puerto Rico everybody has a family."

Conductor Edward B. Shaw said the Seaboard Air Line Railroad engine, which carried only a single caboose, was traveling about 30 miles an hour when it reached the crossing, about 15 miles from downtown Miami.

"The bus just ran in front of us," Shaw said. "Then I heard the racket. I looked back and couldn't see anything but dust. Then it settled and I saw bodies lying at the side of the road.

Soviet Hints Formal Split With China

Kremlin Indicated As Preparing Step At Party Congress

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin may be preparing the Soviet Communist party for a formal split with Red China. It may come at the party congress next month.

Soviet Communist sources said a long letter from the Kremlin detailing the charges against Peking had been circulated to party groups during the past two weeks.

Party Presidium members, including First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, have spoken at meetings where the letter was read, the sources said.

The purpose of the letter, the sources said, is to prepare the party membership for a formal declaration that a reconciliation with Peking is impossible. It may come at the party congress opening March 29 in Moscow, the informants added.

The letter reportedly accuses China of hindering Soviet aid to North Viet Nam, attempting to subvert areas like Mongolia, staging border incidents, flooding the Soviet Union with anti-Soviet leaflets and falsely proclaiming that the Soviet Union cooperates with the United States on international problems.

Some sources said the letter also accuses China of trying to drive the Soviet Union and the United States into a nuclear war.

The informants said the letter is meant to be a basic document on relations with China and takes about two hours to read. It is reportedly meant only for trusted party members, but its circulation has been so wide that many ordinary Soviet citizens have heard about it.

The letter follows a renewal of attacks on the Chinese leadership in the Soviet press. After Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin displaced Nikita Khrushchev in October 1964, they tried to patch up the quarrel with China and avoided answering the continuing Chinese criticism for more than a year.

The Chinese Communist party's official newspaper, the Peking People's Daily, accused the Soviet leaders today of helping the United States contain Red China through actions in Asia.

"The course taken by Soviet leaders on the Viet Nam, the India-Pakistan and Japan questions completely conforms with the requirements of U.S. imperialism, and especially with the latter's policy of encircling China," the newspaper said in an article signed by "Observer." The signature usually means a senior official of the Chinese Communist party.

On the Viet Nam question, the article said, "the Soviet leaders have been steadily hand in glove with the U.S. imperialists."

Winds Delay Launch Of Weather Satellite

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — High-altitude winds early today forced postponement of the launching of the world's first operational weather satellite.

The launching of the Tiros satellite was delayed at least 24 hours because of winds which were recorded at about 150 miles an hour at an altitude of 40,000 feet.

Operation Masher

Viet Cong Losses Reported Heavy In Bloody Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist losses were reckoned today at more than 1,100 killed or captured in Operation Masher, the big Allied drive in the central coastal plains, U.S. military spokesmen reported. They called it one of the bloodiest fights of the Vietnamese war.

U.S. fighter-bombers continued the renewed air war against North Viet Nam for the third consecutive day, hitting mainly at bridges, railroad tracks, truck convoys and storage areas. Bad weather again hampered assessment of damage.

Jets from 7th Fleet carriers flew 20 combat missions and Air Force planes hit Ben Thuy, the port on the South China Sea for the city of Vinh, 160 miles south of Hanoi, for the second day in a row, spokesmen said.

U.S. air cavalrymen, South Vietnamese paratroopers and South Koreans carried Operation Masher into the ninth day in a 13-mile-square battleground around Bong Son, 290 miles northeast of Saigon. Spokesmen said the Allied troops found several hundred more enemy bodies.

The spokesmen said the Communist toll has been established as 695 killed, 102 captured and 437 suspects detained. Three-fourths of the latter have been identified as Viet Cong, they said.

Fighting, however, tapered off into only an occasional fire fight, and U.S. B52s from Guam lashed the western borders of the battle zone to cut off any Communist retreat toward Cambodia.

Commenting on the large find of Communist victims, a U.S. spokesman said: "It proves they are no longer able to get their bodies out as they used to do."

No report was made of Allied losses in the operation, which began last Tuesday, but they were believed light.

However, a U.S. military spokesman announced that the number of Americans killed

Programs On Global Scale

LBJ Asks Health And School Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today to authorize $524 million for expanded programs to promote education and health on a global scale.

He challenged "all nations, friend and foe alike, to join this battle."

In the education field, the President called for strengthened international cooperation to promote learning, expanded exchanges of students and teachers and concrete steps to build and staff schools abroad.

One innovation would be a Peace Corps-in-reverse, with 5,000 volunteers from other countries to be enlisted to teach in the United States and serve in community programs alongside the American volunteers of the antipoverty program.

As for health, Johnson proposed creation of an international career service in health fields — including the assignment of health experts to diplomatic missions. And he called for training more manpower to meet the health needs of developing nations, programs to combat hunger and disease, and cooperation in solving problems of overpopulation which he said threaten "the dignity of the individual and the sanctity of the family."

Johnson fixed as goals the eradication of malaria within 10 years from the Western Hemisphere and parts of Africa, Asia and the Near East, elimination of smallpox throughout the world by 1975 and vaccination programs to reduce the hazards of measles.

Peking-Hanoi 'Willing'

3 Senate Leaders Join In Urging Geneva Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Senate leaders joined today in urging action to accept what they interpreted as willingness on the part of Peking and Hanoi to reopen the Geneva Conference to talk Viet Nam peace terms.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana prepared to appeal in a Senate speech for new administration efforts to get the conference, which negotiated the 1954 division of Viet Nam, back into session for fresh negotiations.

Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Foreign Relations Committee proposed Tuesday the sessions be reconvened. His proposal won support from Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., dean of Senate Republicans and a member of Fulbright's committee.

The three senators based their fresh hope for negotiations on a North Vietnamese statement transmitted by Radio Hanoi and Peking's New China News Agency. The statement said the Viet Nam question "falls within the competence of the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina."

Fulbright said that if China and North Viet Nam are willing to join in discussions, "why not take them up on it?"

"There is some logic in utilizing the same group which attempted to settle the war in 1954," he said. "If the effort in the United Nations fails, why

Council May Receive Viet Case Today

Jordan Holds Key; U.S. Needs Vote To Put It On Agenda

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States may succeed in putting its Viet Nam case before the Security Council today, but an American proposal that the council sponsor peace negotiations appeared doomed.

Jordan held the answer to whether the 15-nation council woud debate the issue at all. By Tuesday night the United States had mustered only eight of the nine affirmative votes required to place the issue on the agenda.

Waleed Sadi of Jordan asked the council to postpone decision on the debate until today so his government could instruct him whether to support the U.S. request for debate on its proposal that the council sponsor preparatory talks to set up a Viet Nam peace conference.

Even if the proposal goes up for debate, opposition led by the Soviet Union and France virtually killed any chance of the United States getting the council to take a hand in a Viet Nam peace settlement.

The big-power veto does not appy to procedural questions such as putting items on the agenda. But it does apply to substantive proposals such as setting up a peace parley.

About all the United States can hope for is a chance to air its peace efforts before the council and try to lay the blame for failure of those efforts at the door of the Communists.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg has introduced a resolution calling on the council to arrange discussions with interested governments on holding a conference that could lead to peace in Viet Nam and all Southeast Asia.

Soviet reaction to Goldberg's opening appeal Tuesday made plain that the U.S. proposal would run into a Soviet veto, even if it mustered the nine affirmative votes needed for adoption.

Goldberg called on the council to help open a new way to peace. He defended the resumption of U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam as the only course open because of Hanoi's refusal to respond to U.S. peace overtures. He proposed that representatives of both North and South Viet Nam be invited to

Pope Studies New Steps To End Viet War

VATICAN CITY (AP)— Pope Paul VI was reported today considering "dramatic new steps" to try to end the Viet Nam war—perhaps even making a new peace trip outside Italy.

Sources said these new steps could include another series of public appeals to leaders of the involved nations and accelerated diplomatic contacts.

The sources said they did not exclude the Pope might go to Geneva or wherever else he felt his intervention might help end the conflict.

Pope Paul has pledged himself to serve wherever and however he can to resolve conflicts. He made an unprecedented peace pilgrimage to the United Nations Oct. 4.

Soviet Hints Formal Split With China

Kremlin Indicated As Preparing Step At Party Congress

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin may be preparing the Soviet Communist party for a formal split with Red China. It may come at the party congress next month.

Soviet Communist sources said a long letter from the Kremlin detailing the charges against Peking had been circulated to party groups during the past two weeks.

Party Presidium members, including First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev, have spoken at meetings where the letter was read, the sources said.

The purpose of the letter, the sources said, is to prepare the party membership for a formal declaration that a reconciliation with Peking is impossible. It may come at the party congress opening March 29 in Moscow, the informants added.

The letter reportedly accuses China of hindering Soviet aid to North Viet Nam, attempting to subvert areas like Mongolia, staging border incidents, flooding the Soviet Union with anti-Soviet leaflets and falsely proclaiming that the Soviet Union cooperates with the United States on international problems.

Some sources said the letter also accuses China of trying to drive the Soviet Union and the United States into a nuclear war.

The informants said the letter is meant to be a basic document on relations with China and takes about two hours to read. It is reportedly meant only for trusted party members, but its circulation has been so wide that many ordinary Soviet citizens have heard about it.

The letter follows a renewal of attacks on the Chinese leadership in the Soviet press. After Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Viet Cong Losses Reported Heavy In Bloody Fight

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist losses were reckoned today at more than 1,100 killed or captured in Operation Masher, the big Allied drive in the central coastal plains, U.S. military spokesmen reported. They called it one of the bloodiest fights of the Vietnamese war.

In the education field, the President called for strengthened international cooperation to promote learning, expanded exchanges of students and teachers and concrete steps to build and staff schools abroad.

One innovation would be a Peace Corps-in-reverse, with 5,000 volunteers from other countries to be enlisted to teach in the United States and serve in community programs alongside the American volunteers of the antipoverty program.

As for health, Johnson proposed creation of an international career service in health fields — including the assignment of health experts to diplomatic missions. And he called for training more manpower to meet the health needs of developing nations, programs to combat hunger and disease, and cooperation in solving problems of overpopulation which he said threaten "the dignity of the individual and the sanctity of the family."

Johnson fixed as goals the eradication of malaria within 10 years from the Western Hemisphere and parts of Africa, Asia and the Near East, elimination of smallpox throughout the world by 1975 and vaccination programs to reduce the hazards of measles.

Peking-Hanoi 'Willing'

3 Senate Leaders Join In Urging Geneva Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Senate leaders joined today in urging action to accept what they interpreted as willingness on the part of Peking and Hanoi to reopen the Geneva Conference to talk Viet Nam peace terms.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana prepared to appeal in a Senate speech for new administration efforts to get the conference, which negotiated the 1954 division of Viet Nam, back into session for fresh negotiations.

Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Foreign Relations Committee proposed Tuesday the sessions be reconvened. His proposal won support from Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., dean of Senate Republicans and a member of Fulbright's committee.

The three senators based their fresh hope for negotiations on a North Vietnamese statement transmitted by Radio Hanoi and Peking's New China News Agency. The statement said the Viet Nam question "falls within the competence of the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina."

Fulbright said that if China and North Viet Nam are willing to join in discussions, "why not take them up on it?"

"There is some logic in utilizing the same group which attempted to settle the war in 1954," he said. "If the effort in the United Nations fails, why

Council May Receive Viet Case Today

Jordan Holds Key; U.S. Needs Vote To Put It On Agenda

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States may succeed in putting its Viet Nam case before the Security Council today, but an American proposal that the council sponsor peace negotiations appeared doomed.

Jordan held the answer to whether the 15-nation council woud debate the issue at all. By Tuesday night the United States had mustered only eight of the nine affirmative votes required to place the issue on the agenda.

Waleed Sadi of Jordan asked the council to postpone decision on the debate until today so his government could instruct him whether to support the U.S. request for debate on its proposal that the council sponsor preparatory talks to set up a Viet Nam peace conference.

Even if the proposal goes up for debate, opposition led by the Soviet Union and France virtually killed any chance of the United States getting the council to take a hand in a Viet Nam peace settlement.

The big-power veto does not appy to procedural questions such as putting items on the agenda. But it does apply to substantive proposals such as setting up a peace parley.

About all the United States can hope for is a chance to air its peace efforts before the council and try to lay the blame for failure of those efforts at the door of the Communists.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg has introduced a resolution calling on the council to arrange discussions with interested governments on holding a conference that could lead to peace in Viet Nam and all Southeast Asia.

Soviet reaction to Goldberg's opening appeal Tuesday made plain that the U.S. proposal would run into a Soviet veto, even if it mustered the nine affirmative votes needed for adoption.

Goldberg called on the council to help open a new way to peace. He defended the resumption of U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam as the only course open because of Hanoi's refusal to respond to U.S. peace overtures. He proposed that representatives of both North and South Viet Nam be invited to

Pope Studies New Steps To End Viet War

VATICAN CITY (AP)— Pope Paul VI was reported today considering "dramatic new steps" to try to end the Viet Nam war—perhaps even making a new peace trip outside Italy.

Sources said these new steps could include another series of public appeals to leaders of the involved nations and accelerated diplomatic contacts.

The sources said they did not exclude the Pope might go to Geneva or wherever else he felt his intervention might help end the conflict.

Pope Paul has pledged himself to serve wherever and however he can to resolve conflicts. He made an unprecedented peace pilgrimage to the United Nations Oct. 4.

Charles Lang discussed "The Vocation of Law" and outlined opportunities it provides for performing community services during the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

After tracing his background and the preparations which he underwent in order to enter the legal profession, Lang introduced Frank Mangano, city Heart Fund chairman, and Margaret Violand, field representative for the Heart Association.

Plans for conducting the February Heart Fund campaign were announced.

The field representative discussed the Stroke Rehabilitation Program sponsored by the Heart Association and displayed canes, supports and exercising devices incorporating the latest developments to speed the cure of stroke patients.

Visiting Rotarians were Jack Pozenel of Lisbon and Donald Green of Midland. Two guests, R. G. May of the National Church Supply Co. in Chester, and Roy Wilson of the First National Bank, were introduced.

The Rev. D. Ross Salisbury gave the invocation.

take part in council deliberations.

"What is at stake here is not the United States position," Goldberg said. "We have brought the matter to the council. What is at stake is: How will the world judge the council if it refuses even to consider that problem which public opinion almost everywhere considers to be the most serious threat to peace now confronting mankind?"

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko said that Goldberg was staging a propaganda show which he said made clear that the United States had not yet begun to think of a genuine Viet Nam settlement.

French Ambassador Roger Seydoux supported Fedorenko's stand. He said putting Viet Nam on the council agenda would achieve nothing since Red China, North Viet Nam and South Viet Nam were not members of the United Nations.

Both Red China and North Viet Nam warned that they would regard as null and void any Viet Nam resolution approved by the council.

Hanoi declared that the 1954 Geneva Conference which ended the French Indochina war and divided Viet Nam was the only competent body to arrange peace.

"If the U.N. wants to act in favor of peace, it must compel its member country — the United States — to stop the aggressive war in Viet Nam and strictly implement the 1954 Geneva agreements on Viet Nam which the United States undertook to respect," said Nhan Dan, the organ of the North Vietnamese Communist party.

Britain and the Soviet Union were co-chairmen of the Geneva Conference. The British government has urged the Soviets repeatedly to join it in reconvening the conference. The Russians have refused each time.

During the debate Goldberg expressed U.S. willingness to join in another Geneva conference.

"Let the joint chairmen issue a call today to reconvene the Geneva Conference and we will be in Geneva tomorrow," he declared.

Snow

by three previous assaults in the last 10 days.

Heavy snow fell throughout the Shenandoah Valley with 1 to 4 inches of new snow on top of 20- to 30-inch accumulations.

Two Army helicopters from Ft. Belvoir worked through the day Tuesday in Loudoun County delivering basic supplies to isolated areas and evacuating ill persons.

All primary roads were open in Virginia, but are still dangerous, and air and train schedules were back to near normal.

Most Virginia schools were closed.

The storm blanketed southern and central Indiana and closed hundreds of schools, industries and retail stores. Several main highways were closed.

Drifts up to 3 feet plagued the Jasper area. Residents were urged to stay home.

Up to a foot of snow staggered much of southern Illinois. Schools closed, airports suspended operations and trains ran late, if at all.

Scott Air Force Base reported 11 inches of snow and Decatur had 8 inches, a record for a one-day fall. There were 10 inches at the Mount Vernon airport, Olney had 9 and Robinson 8.

Winds raised two-foot drifts in the Illinois prairie land, making most rural roads impassable.

In Sullivan, Ill., Lynn Swango took a bite out of the Farmers Almanac. Swango told his Sullivan High School class last fall that he would eat the almanac if its prediction of a blizzard on Feb. 1 came true.

Prediction became fact and schoolteacher Swango ate.

In the Northeast, people were still crawling out of snow-isolated buildings.

Entire counties of upper New York State were buried under drifts of up to 30 feet. Oswego, in the Lake Ontario area, had 102 inches on the ground.

Industry was shut down and schools and stores closed. Some newspapers didn't publish and others couldn't be delivered.

A shortage of bread and milk threatened and streets were impassable to emergency vehicles.

The streets of Syracuse, N.Y., which has a population of 216,000, were drifted in some places 10 to 15 feet deep.

Civil Defense helicopters were used to bring food to residents of Onondaga and Cayuga counties.

The snowbanks were so deep in Syracuse that 40 sales girls of Mohawk Airlines were trapped in their offices from Saturday night until plows broke through to rescue them Tuesday.

"We just couldn't get out," said one girl. "The drifts were 12 feet high outside the building."

Maryland, digging out from under its worst snowstorm in more than a century, was hit with 3 to 5 inches of new snow and sleet Tuesday. Most schools in the state were closed. Most secondary roads in the north and west were closed.

Helicopters supplied areas in two counties with emergency food for residents.

Baltimore dairies received only 10 per cent of their normal milk supply because milk could not be moved from the farms. Carroll County farmers were dumping their milk because no one could pick it up.

Washington, D.C., had 2 to 4 inches of new snow.

The Pittsburgh vicinity had 1 to 3 inches of new snow from the raging storm, snarling rush hour traffic. Mayor Joseph M. Barr appealed to motorists to use public transportation.

In the South, freezing weather plagued Arkansas. Hazardous-driving warnings were in effect after a freezing rain and snow, the fourth significant snowfall in a dozen days. The snow measured 3 inches in northern Arkansas, closing many schools.

In the West, the Sacramento, Calif., area had a freak hailstorm which featured two funnel-shaped clouds southwest of the city. A dozen cars were involved in a freeway pileup.

Snow Delays 'Dimes' Campaign In Midland

Weather conditions have hampered the Midland Mothers' March of Dimes Drive, Mrs. Maurice Newman, chairman, reports.

The mothers started a house-to-house solicitation Monday and have about two - thirds of the borough covered.

The drive is scheduled to end Feb. 11 when the money collected will be tabulated, Mrs. Newman said.

of the thoroughfares, its auger-like blades picking up the snow and hurling it into the beds of the trucks.

"I'm convinced it's something we need," Mayor George E. Willshaw said after watching the blower in operation. He said the device used here sells new for about $3,600.

The blower is mounted on the bucket of a high - lift, which supplies the motive power. The separate motor on the blower powers its blades. The bucket of the high - lift can be used to raise or lower the blower.

"The only problem I could see was the requirement for a fleet of trucks big enough to keep up with the blower," the mayor said. "It could keep 10 or more trucks busy."

Vodrey was up all night supervising the operation. He went home to bed at 6 this morning.

The mayor said he will confer with the director to find where the next snow removal operation will be scheduled.

Rapport Gets Post In CIC

Maurice Rapport, East Liverpool businessman, was elected Tuesday afternoon as treasurer of the Community Improvement Corp. to fill the unexpired term of Ben H. Berman, resigned.

The action was taken when the CIC Board of Trustees met in the board room at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The board also ratified the action taken Friday by the CIC Executive Committee in advising the option committee of the Columbiana County Airport Authority it would provide money for additional land at the proposed County Airport site at Swaney Airport.

The Executive Committee had agreed to provide the funds to purchase property owned by Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Mays adjacent to the Swaney site. The committee told J. Warren Bettis, chairman of the option committee, it would provide up to $3,000 for the Airport Authority if it exercises an option to purchase the Mays tract at $100 an acre.

Mike Turk, owner of Swaney, has offered without cost whatever property on the tract is needed for runways and other facilities for a county airport.

In other business, the CIC board discussed industrial development financing in connection with industrial prospects being considered for location in East Liverpool and northern Hancock County.

Southern Ruritan Committees Set

3 Drivers Uninjured In Route 170 Mishaps

Three drivers escaped injury in two Route 170 mishaps Tuesday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

George William Pershing, 38, of Negley R. D. 1, headed north about three miles south of Negley at 9:15 p. m., lost control on a curve, and his 1966 sports model auto veered off the roadway and struck a route marker sign.

Marilyn Stewart, 19, of East Palestine R.D. 1 was rounding a curve leading off Route 14 at Unity, and went left of center because of a snow drift, and her 1963 sedan collided with a northbound coach driven by Paul Edward Brown, 50, of 392 W. Clark St., East Palestine.

India's current population is estimated at 437 million and is increasing by 11 million a year.

the collective defense of their freedom;

Whereas the United States is assisting the peoples of Southeast Asia to protect their freedom and has no territorial, military or political ambitions in that area, but desires only that these peoples should be left in peace to work out their own destinies in their own way;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

The Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as commander in chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression.

Sec. 2. The United States regards as vital to its national interest and to world peace the maintenance of international peace and security in Southeast Asia. Consonant with the constitution of the Charter of the United Nations and in accordance with its obligation under the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty, the United States is, therefore, prepared, as the President determines, to take all necessary steps, including the use of armed force, to assist any member or protocol state of the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty requesting assistance in defense of its freedom.

Sec. 3. This resolution shall expire when the President shall determine that the peace and security of the area is reasonably assured by international conditions created by action of the United Nations or otherwise, except that it may be terminated earlier by concurrent resolution of the Congress.

Suspension Ordered In Case At Wellsville

Three suspensions to be served concurrently, have been ordered by the Ohio State Liquor Control Commission at Columbus against Ann's New House cafe at 1317 Main St., Wellsville.

The 14-day suspensions were ordered for the sale of beer to a minor, for furnishing beer to a minor and for conviction in Common Pleas Court for sale to a minor. The suspension will begin at noon Feb. 21 and end at noon March 7.

Duquesne Light Plans $70 Million Facility

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Duquesne Light Co. has announced plans for a $70 million coal-fired power station in nearby Springdale.

The station is to have an initial generating capacity of more than 500,000 kilowatts. It is slated for operation in the summer of 1970.

Duquesne disclosed its plans Tuesday in a preliminary report for 1965.

missing or captured in Viet Nam last week was more than triple that of the week before.

The spokesman said 57 Americans were killed in action, 11 were missing or captured and 281 were wounded. The figures for the week that ended Jan. 22 were 21 killed, 193 wounded and 1 missing.

Viet Cong losses were put at 519 killed and 224 captured, while a Vietnamese military spokesman said government losses were 127 killed and 52 missing.

Viet Cong losses the week before had been reported as 408 killed and 56 captured, while the government reported 209 of its men killed and 185 missing.

American officials did not report any plane losses on the third day of attacks against the Communist North since the 37-day bombing pause.

North Viet Nam claimed two planes were brought down Tuesday by its gunners. U.S. spokesmen did not report any losses in Tuesday's raids but said three planes were downed in the first day of strikes.

The official Cambodian News Agency said Cambodian antiaircraft fire hit a U.S. Navy C130 Hercules cargo plane Sunday about 1,000 yards inside Cambodian territory in the region of Kaam Samnar in Kandal Province. The report said the plane limped back across the border and landed in South Viet Nam at An Along after dropping two wing tanks and seven rockets on Cambodian territory.

There was no confirmation from U.S. officials.

Operation Masher had developed into pincer movements, with American air cavalrymen coming in from the south and north, the Korean marines hitting from the east, and South Vietnamese troops taking on the Communists on a broad front six to 16 miles north of Bong Son.

As a result, U.S. spokesmen said, the combined Viet Cong forces and the 18th Regiment of the North Vietnamese 325th Division were left with only one escape route — the hills in the west pointing toward Cambodia.

Two Cars Involved In Skidding Mishap

Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported two cars damaged in a collision Tuesday afternoon on Fairview Rd. in the vicinity of Chester.

A northbound 1964 station wagon driven by Mrs. Martha V. Reed of Chester R. D. 1 skidded on ice and struck an oncoming 1956 sedan driven by John E. Snow of Chester R. D. 1.

Neither motorist was injured. The accident was timed at 5:41.

No citations were issued, the mishap being blamed on poor road conditions.

The annual incidence of malaria in India, 75 million cases only a decade ago, is now down to less than 100,000 cases a year.

Shippingport Sets Budget

Shippingport Council adopted a tentative budget for 1966 and passed the first reading of two tax ordinances at its meeting in the Community Building Tuesday night.

The budget was set at $4,301, with final approval scheduled at the March 1 meeting.

The borough taxes will remain the same as last year, council members said. Then real estate tax will be set at .008 mills and the occupation tax at .014 mills.

Two appointments were made by the council.

Ralph Mortimer was named to a five-year term on the planning committee and David Stewart to a three-year term on the board of adjusters.

Mortimer also was appointed as acting chairman of the planning committee.

The auditor's report for 1965 was received and approved.

Georgetown Council Postpones Meeting

The meeting of the Georgetown Council scheduled for Tuesday night was postponed until Feb. 10 at 7 p. m. Glenn Mackall, council president, will preside.

The MacArthur Memorial in Norfolk, Va., housing the crypt of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, has attrcted more than 700,000 visitors in the two years it has been open.

County Shares Listed On Ohio School Funds

East Liverpool received $65,394.21 as its share of the January distribution of school foundation funds, according to a report issued by State Auditor Roger Cloud at Columbus.

Wellsville received $27,832.21. Other city school districts in the county listed were East Palestine, $29,536.08, and Salem, $27,237.17.

Local districts in the county received a total of $89,147.72. The County Board of Education received $5,565.16.

The share for exempted village districts included Lisbon, $22,523.78; Leetonia, $18,666.23, and Columbiana $17,704.68.

Rapport Gets Post In CIC

Maurice Rapport, East Liverpool businessman, was elected Tuesday afternoon as treasurer of the Community Improvement Corp. to fill the unexpired term of Ben H. Berman, resigned.

The action was taken when the CIC Board of Trustees met in the board room at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The board also ratified the action taken Friday by the CIC Executive Committee in advising the option committee of the Columbiana County Airport Authority it would provide money for additional land at the proposed County Airport site at Swaney Airport.

The Executive Committee had agreed to provide the funds to purchase property owned by Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Mays adjacent to the Swaney site. The committee told J. Warren Bettis, chairman of the option committee, it would provide up to $3,000 for the Airport Authority if it exercises an option to purchase the Mays tract at $100 an acre.

Mike Turk, owner of Swaney, has offered without cost whatever property on the tract is needed for runways and other facilities for a county airport.

In other business, the CIC board discussed industrial development financing in connection with industrial prospects being considered for location in East Liverpool and northern Hancock County.

Resolution

the collective defense of their freedom;

Whereas the United States is assisting the peoples of Southeast Asia to protect their freedom and has no territorial, military or political ambitions in that area, but desires only that these peoples should be left in peace to work out their own destinies in their own way;

Now, therefore, be it resolved, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

The Congress approves and supports the determination of the President, as commander in chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression.

Sec. 2. The United States regards as vital to its national interest and to world peace the maintenance of international peace and security in Southeast Asia. Consonant with the constitution of the Charter of the United Nations and in accordance with its obligation under the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty, the United States is, therefore, prepared, as the President determines, to take all necessary steps, including the use of armed force, to assist any member or protocol state of the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty requesting assistance in defense of its freedom.

Sec. 3. This resolution shall expire when the President shall determine that the peace and security of the area is reasonably assured by international conditions created by action of the United Nations or otherwise, except that it may be terminated earlier by concurrent resolution of the Congress.

Suspension Ordered In Case At Wellsville

Three suspensions to be served concurrently, have been ordered by the Ohio State Liquor Control Commission at Columbus against Ann's New House cafe at 1317 Main St., Wellsville.

Duquesne Light Plans $70 Million Facility

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Duquesne Light Co. has announced plans for a $70 million coal-fired power station in nearby Springdale.

The station is to have an initial generating capacity of more than 500,000 kilowatts. It is slated for operation in the summer of 1970.

Duquesne disclosed its plans Tuesday in a preliminary report for 1965.

missing or captured in Viet Nam last week was more than triple that of the week before.

The spokesman said 57 Americans were killed in action, 11 were missing or captured and 281 were wounded. The figures for the week that ended Jan. 22 were 21 killed, 193 wounded and 1 missing.

Viet Cong losses were put at 519 killed and 224 captured, while a Vietnamese military spokesman said government losses were 127 killed and 52 missing.

Viet Cong losses the week before had been reported as 408 killed and 56 captured, while the government reported 209 of its men killed and 185 missing.

American officials did not report any plane losses on the third day of attacks against the Communist North since the 37-day bombing pause.

North Viet Nam claimed two planes were brought down Tuesday by its gunners. U.S. spokesmen did not report any losses in Tuesday's raids but said three planes were downed in the first day of strikes.

The official Cambodian News Agency said Cambodian antiaircraft fire hit a U.S. Navy C130 Hercules cargo plane Sunday about 1,000 yards inside Cambodian territory in the region of Kaam Samnar in Kandal Province. The report said the plane limped back across the border and landed in South Viet Nam at An Along after dropping two wing tanks and seven rockets on Cambodian territory.

3 Drivers Uninjured In Route 170 Mishaps

Three drivers escaped injury in two Route 170 mishaps Tuesday, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

George William Pershing, 38, of Negley R. D. 1, headed north about three miles south of Negley at 9:15 p. m., lost control on a curve, and his 1966 sports model auto veered off the roadway and struck a route marker sign.

Marilyn Stewart, 19, of East Palestine R.D. 1 was rounding a curve leading off Route 14 at Unity, and went left of center because of a snow drift, and her 1963 sedan collided with a northbound coach driven by Paul Edward Brown, 50, of 392 W. Clark St., East Palestine.

India's current population is estimated at 437 million and is increasing by 11 million a year.

Half A Loaf At The Best

President John's proposal for a constitutional amendment providing for four-year terms for House members has met with mixed reaction.

At first glance there would seem to be some merit to the argument that congressmen now are required to spend too much of their brief two years in office campaigning for re-election and that, as a result, they have insufficient time to devote to the enormous task of legislating.

PUBLIC OPINION POLLSTER Samuel Lubell puts the finger on the issue when he warns against the President's "lulling soft sell" and points out that four-year terms, filled when a president is elected, would tend to increase immeasurably a president's control over Congress.

The historical fact is that in a majority of presidential elections in this century, and before, the party of the man elected president captured the House. Call it riding on the presidential candidate's coattails, or what you will, it happens.

Conversely, in a majority of midterm elections — such as the one coming up in 1966 — the president's predominance in the House has been weakened by the voters.

THE NET EFFECT of the four-year term thus would be to give a president a firmer command over a more disciplined party in Congress.

A two-year election affords the people an opportunity to express pleasure or displeasure with the president's program so that Congress can be guided accordingly. The founding fathers planned it that way.

Even as prominent a Democrat as Rep. Celler of New York has expressed the belief that four years is too long a time to pass without permitting the people to register their will at an election.

If the idea of four-year terms for House members ever did prevail, the only way it could be made acceptable would be on a "staggered" basis, the same way one-third of the Senate now is elected every two years. This would bring half a new House ever two years.

Welcome News

Announcement of a $3½-million expansion program by the Globe Brick Co. provides a pleasant relief from talk about the weather and Viet Nam.

Globe Brick's plans will provide another shot in the arm for the immediate area in an economic sense.

The Kenilworth plant for years has played a major role in the industrial complex. With expansion in the offing, the role should become even more important.

It's always with considerable satisfaction that one reads of a long-established business continuing to grow and prosper.

Too Much For One Man

The clinching reason for dividing responsibility for going to war between the executive and legislative branches is to relieve the president of some of the crushing role declaring that goes with the office.

Congress plays its constitutional role declaring war, thereby making that fateful decision part of the process of popular government. Congress also should back up the chief executive in his constitutional role of commander-in-chief of the armed services. It can do that best by a declaration of war.

Part of the conventional wisdom of the American people in recent years has been to acknowledge that the presidency is too much for one man. There is too much responsibility.

The burden of the office is multiplied in wartime by military responsibility. No task could be more unpalatable for a man like Lyndon B. Johnson than sending his fellow Americans into combat. Everything in his life has been calculated to make him despise war.

Even his hardest-hitting opponents must be aware of the lines of agony in his face, the tones of remorse in his voice, the revulsion against military violence in his eyes. The war the United States has drifted into is blotting out Mr. Johnson's vision of a Great Society.

No amount of diplomatic double-talk can conceal the fact the United States has reached this crisis in its relationship with other nations devoid of allies.

In the metaphor of the Asiatics, it is riding a tiger.

And in the only realistic appraisal possible for Americans to make, President Johnson is riding a personal tiger — the fact he must carry out his constitutional duty as commander-in-chief without the benefit of a declaration of war that would have stilled his critics.

A Few–Not Many

It's refreshing to read the story of the 39-year-old Georgia state senator who has refused pay for his public service. His name is Brooks Pennington.

He refuses to collect $10,500 in back pay the state owes him for seven years' service, plus several thousands dollars more in uncollected expense money.

"I have, through my own choice," he says simply, "elected to draw no compensation, travel or any other remuneration from the people of this state."

There are a few like him—school board members, members of various commissions, cabinet members who sell their securities at great sacrifice to avoid any taint of self-interest. But not many.

It Didn't Bother Us

By Truman Twill

Some of the growing boys of my generation didn't know about women's legs until they left home and became patrons of the arts. Their first plunge into burlesque was a traumatic shock that sent them scurrying back to their mother's apron strings and floor-length skirts, mentally speaking.

Physically speaking, it was the other way around. They became patrons of burlesque, because it was fun to be reminded on a Saturday night that female creatures not only had legs but shapely legs.

This led to a further misapprehension.

Growing boys of my generation got off on the wrong track because they thought the legs on burlesque cuties were standard equipment. They didn't find out until later that the cuties had been chosen for their shapeliness. They thought they had been picked for the quality of their voices.

Then things changed.

Came the flapper. Came disenchantment as dresses shortened and the long and short of it, the bitter and the sweet, were revealed for all the world to see.

It was disenchanting. Burleycue-queen-type legs were infrequent. There were piano legs, chair legs, table legs, bridge supports, legs that bent in, legs that bent out, straight-up-and-down legs, spindle legs, legs with bulging muscles, legs with no muscles—every shape and variety.

The boys of my generation were astounded. Some joined the French Foreign Legion. Others went blind. For some, the disenchantment was too much. They turned against life. What would have happened if they had seen what is in sight now is too grisly to think about. They would volunteer for Viet Nam.

Now it's knees—knees like sackfuls of rock candy, knees like something copied from mechanical monsters, knees like something incurred in a football scrimmage, thin knees, fat knees.

And the way things are going, thighs are next in sight—the knee bone is connected to the thigh bone.

The boys of my generation never have quite adjusted themselves to the thought that these appurtenances belong to mothers and grandmothers—the kind sentimental ballads are written about.

Give a thought to Whistler's Mother in a skirt so short she had to sit sideways in the rocker to get the picture through the U.S. mail.

Picture Mother Machree getting into a car wth a low silhouette.

Get a load of a modern Mother Hubbard standing on a chair to look into a cupboard.

There are times when the boys in my generation could wish fashion designers never had revealed that women's legs came in all shapes and sizes. It never seemed important when what we didn't know didn't bother us.

High-speed photography has shown that a sneeze sprays nasal secretions about three feet, the Public Health Service reports.

The first submarine to be named "Nautilus" was designed by Robert Fulton. He believed it to have more merit than his steamboat.

The Bills Go Into Pigeonholes

By Victor Riesel

From the razor-edged tongue of the fast-tempered Sen. Wayne Morse comes an awesome warning that a massive Asian war is shaping up and that this land had better make certain it has stable labor-management relations during the coming conflict.

Victor Riesel

Meaning, it appears, there shall be no serious strikes supposedly, such as the one which some weeks ago paralyzed the lone U.S. gun powder plant, which, in turn, forced the shutting down of bullet factories.

Yet, Sen. Morse and a group of his colleagues have jammed a long-lost pigeonhole with several long-lost bills which would prevent wartime strikes.

It has all been discussed angrily, but quietly in the cloak room and corridors in and around the Senate quarters, since the dueling began over the repeal of the ban on the union shop. Morse is for repeal of the law which says, in effect, that a worker need not join a union to hold a job in a plant.

He has joined with his friends inside labor in demanding the energetic septuagenarian, Sen. Dirksen, yield to the union chiefs' demand that "you vote us down or vote us up but permit a vote on 14B."

THE GENTLEMAN from Oregon has warned that there will be labor trouble as we head into a possible "world war" unless 14B is repealed.

But the senator's critics—and there are many—point out that he has prevented any vote from being taken, even in the Senate Labor Committee, on bills which would restrict strikes at the Cape Kennedy space and Moonports, on missile bases and in defense plants.

Nor has Morse been willing to permit any vote or even discussion of McClellan's proposal that "city crippling" disputes such as the New York transit strike be subjected, as part of the country's transportation system, to anti-trust laws.

Some of these bills have been in the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee for more than a year. They're still there, untouched, unread, unmoved. Nominally the committee chairman is Alabama's Sen. Lister Hill, a genial gentleman of 71, who is the colleague of Sen. Sparkman, once running-mate of Adlai Stevenson.

BUT THE REAL POWERS on the committee, members of which are also Senators Jack Javits, Edward and Bob Kennedy, are Wayne Morse and Michigan's 71-year-old Pat McNamara.

Morse is an old ally of West Coast labor chiefs. McNamara is part of the labor movement despite his years in the Senate. For some 20 years he was president of a pipefitters' union and active in the Michigan construction trades unions.

They have not permitted any action on McClellan's bills despite their outcry for a simple yes or no vote on the 14B repealer. This has angered the inexorable Sen. McClellan, and he does not easily forget a campaign.

He and his famed Government Operations Committee now have considerable detailed knowledge of costs and delays springing from jurisdictional strikes—civil war between unions—at Cape Kennedy.

HIS INVESTIGATORS have prepared detailed and documented reports of brutal wastage caused by strikes which had little or no relationship to the space base itself—though it always gets caught in the crossfire.

Furthermore, McClellan and other senators are convinced that no bill remotely critical of labor now stands a chance of getting heard in committee, much less on the Senate floor.

As an example, they point to a McClellan bill which is aimed simply at tightening up the pension fund laws. McClellan has discovered pilfering of millions of dollars by locals right across the U.S. He has the evidence. He will hold public hearings within the year. But he speaks sadly of any chance to get the Senate Labor Committee even to consider the bill.

So, it is with considerable satisfaction that this bloc, critical of labor, backs the Dirksen filibuster and listens amusedly to cries for a simple Senate vote on repeal of the ban on union shops.

Carrying On The Byrd Tradition

By Raymond Moley

When Harry Flood Byrd Jr. was appointed in November to succeed his father in the United States Senate, a new tradition of continuity may have been projected in the history of the Old Dominion State. For the father had served 32 years in the Senate, and the son may serve as long. Re-election of senators in Virginia is a tradition. In the last 71 years six senators have served an average of 24 years.

There is something more than continuity that marks the significance of the Byrds of Virginia. The term "one-party system" is hardly descriptive of what prevails in most of the states of the south. For in most cases there are no parties at all, only personal factions and followings.

Virginia, largely because of the two Byrds, has had an authentic Democratic party organization for many years. It has been building since the elder Byrd entered the Virginia Senate half a century ago. After 1926 he served as governor, and when Claude Swanson was appointed by F.D.R. as secretary of the Navy he entered the Senate.

There have been references to the "Byrd machine." But the organization maintained by the Democratic party headed by Harry Flood Byrd has been quite unlike the dominations and powers of which we have heard so much in the United States.

THE ELDER BYRD, capably assisted by his son since 1940, has created a responsible party organization which has held its supremacy by constant personal attention to the needs of the state and has commended itself to a highly literate electorate by providing good government and a prosperous economy.

During his years in the Senate, the elder Byrd was accustomed to fare forth in his automobile from his home in Winchester on weekends and when Congress was in recess and travel through the state, surveying its problems and maintaining contacts with leaders in the counties and cities.

The prudent economic philosophy of Harry F. Byrd, so often explained to the Senate, has survived many versions of "new economics" which have been proclaimed by the bureaucrats and economists in Washington and which have had their rise and decline. The Byrd philosophy is based upon the simple proposition that governments and people should not spend more than they earn and that in what is spent there must be constant recognition of the necessity of useful service.

UNLIKE MOST of the new "isms," this Byrd philosophy has met the pragmatic test. In their personal enterprises—farming, fruit growing and publishing—the Byrds have prospered. Their state has seen remarkable progress since the great depression.

Public improvements such as highways have made the old state, with its rich reminders of great history, a favorite place for tourists and a home for many who have fled from the complications of the North and Northeast. The per capita income of Virginians is the highest in the South.

All this striving for economic growth by internal development of the state's resources, the younger Byrd will carry on. He served in the Virginia Senate for 18 years. He has been chairman of the Virginia Advisory Board on Industrial Development and Planning, which he originated four years ago.

IN THESE FOUR YEARS investment in new plants and equipment has been remarkable, and during the last year alone 97 new industrial plants have been established in the state.

The Byrds have proved that a state can revere its traditions and have great progress, too.

Young Harry is not taking his election at the polls in November for granted. For there has been a formidable rise in Republican strength in Virginia in recent years, and he will have strong opposition. His concern will be not only to establish himself as a junior senator in Washington; he will, like his father, by tireless travel maintain his contacts with the people of the state.

In Virginia the illustrious past looks over your shoulder. The Byrds, without rejecting what that past has taught, have provided new lessons for the present and the future.

Why Aren't Streets Cleared?

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I am writing this letter relative to the way the city looks. I can't understand why so many of our streets have not been cleared off.

For the money East Liverpool has coming in from parking meters and city income taxes, why does our city look like this? I had a friend come to visit me from Weirton. She couldn't understand why the streets were not cleared.

It isn't safe to walk on some of these streets. We have to pay taxes, so why don't we get something out of them?

School Vacation Change Urged

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Ever since I have been in school we have gotten off for vacation in June and gone back the first week of September.

The reason that the school board used to do this was because most of the people worked on farms and needed these days for plowing and so forth. Now that few people in Ohio do this any longer, it seems silly to continue this routine.

School usually have to close in winter quite a few times because the roads are so bad. I think that we should still have a vacation, but it should be spaced throughout the year.

When we get out three months at one time, the students get out of the habit of studying also. I am freshman in high school and I am not alone in my idea. The poor mothers have to put up with us brats, too, you know.

Half A Loaf At The Best

President John's proposal for a constitutional amendment providing for four-year terms for House members has met with mixed reaction.

At first glance there would seem to be some merit to the argument that congressmen now are required to spend too much of their brief two years in office campaigning for re-election and that, as a result, they have insufficient time to devote to the enormous task of legislating.

PUBLIC OPINION POLLSTER Samuel Lubell puts the finger on the issue when he warns against the President's "lulling soft sell" and points out that four-year terms, filled when a president is elected, would tend to increase immeasurably a president's control over Congress.

The historical fact is that in a majority of presidential elections in this century, and before, the party of the man elected president captured the House. Call it riding on the presidential candidate's coattails, or what you will, it happens.

Conversely, in a majority of midterm elections — such as the one coming up in 1966 — the president's predominance in the House has been weakened by the voters.

THE NET EFFECT of the four-year term thus would be to give a president a firmer command over a more disciplined party in Congress.

A two-year election affords the people an opportunity to express pleasure or displeasure with the president's program so that Congress can be guided accordingly. The founding fathers planned it that way.

Even as prominent a Democrat as Rep. Celler of New York has expressed the belief that four years is too long a time to pass without permitting the people to register their will at an election.

If the idea of four-year terms for House members ever did prevail, the only way it could be made acceptable would be on a "staggered" basis, the same way one-third of the Senate now is elected every two years. This would bring half a new House ever two years.

It's always with considerable satisfaction that one reads of a long-established business continuing to grow and prosper.

Too Much For One Man

The clinching reason for dividing responsibility for going to war between the executive and legislative branches is to relieve the president of some of the crushing role declaring that goes with the office.

Congress plays its constitutional role declaring war, thereby making that fateful decision part of the process of popular government. Congress also should back up the chief executive in his constitutional role of commander-in-chief of the armed services. It can do that best by a declaration of war.

Part of the conventional wisdom of the American people in recent years has been to acknowledge that the presidency is too much for one man. There is too much responsibility.

The burden of the office is multiplied in wartime by military responsibility. No task could be more unpalatable for a man like Lyndon B. Johnson than sending his fellow Americans into combat. Everything in his life has been calculated to make him despise war.

Even his hardest-hitting opponents must be aware of the lines of agony in his face, the tones of remorse in his voice, the revulsion against military violence in his eyes. The war the United States has drifted into is blotting out Mr. Johnson's vision of a Great Society.

No amount of diplomatic double-talk can conceal the fact the United States has reached this crisis in its relationship with other nations devoid of allies.

In the metaphor of the Asiatics, it is riding a tiger.

And in the only realistic appraisal possible for Americans to make, President Johnson is riding a personal tiger — the fact he must carry out his constitutional duty as commander-in-chief without the benefit of a declaration of war that would have stilled his critics.

A Few—Not Many

It's refreshing to read the story of the 39-year-old Georgia state senator who has refused pay for his public service. His name is Brooks Pennington.

He refuses to collect $10,500 in back pay the state owes him for seven years' service, plus several thousands dollars more in uncollected expense money.

"I have, through my own choice," he says simply, "elected to draw no compensation, travel or any other remuneration from the people of this state."

There are a few like him—school board members, members of various commissions, cabinet members who sell their securities at great sacrifice to avoid any taint of self-interest. But not many.

It Didn't Bother Us

By Truman Twill

Some of the growing boys of my generation didn't know about women's legs until they left home and became patrons of the arts. Their first plunge into burlesque was a traumatic shock that sent them scurrying back to their mother's apron strings and floor-length skirts, mentally speaking.

Physically speaking, it was the other way around. They became patrons of burlesque, because it was fun to be reminded on a Saturday night that female creatures not only had legs but shapely legs.

This led to a further misapprehension.

Growing boys of my generation got off on the wrong track because they thought the legs on burlesque cuties were standard equipment. They didn't find out until later that the cuties had been chosen for their shapeliness. They thought they had been picked for the quality of their voices.

Then things changed.

Came the flapper. Came disenchantment as dresses shortened and the long and short of it, the bitter and the sweet, were revealed for all the world to see.

It was disenchanting. Burleycue-queen-type legs were infrequent. There were piano legs, chair legs, table legs, bridge supports, legs that bent in, legs that bent out, straight-up-and-down legs, spindle legs, legs with bulging muscles, legs with no muscles—every shape and variety.

The boys of my generation were astounded. Some joined the French Foreign Legion. Others went blind. For some, the disenchantment was too much. They turned against life. What would have happened if they had seen what is in sight now is too grisly to think about. They would volunteer for Viet Nam.

Now it's knees—knees like sackfuls of rock candy, knees like something copied from mechanical monsters, knees like something incurred in a football scrimmage, thin knees, fat knees.

And the way things are going, thighs are next in sight—the knee bone is connected to the thigh bone.

The boys of my generation never have quite adjusted themselves to the thought that these appurtenances belong to mothers and grandmothers—the kind sentimental ballads are written about.

Give a thought to Whistler's Mother in a skirt so short she had to sit sideways in the rocker to get the picture through the U.S. mail.

Picture Mother Machree getting into a car wth a low silhouette.

Get a load of a modern Mother Hubbard standing on a chair to look into a cupboard.

There are times when the boys in my generation could wish fashion designers never had revealed that women's legs came in all shapes and sizes. It never seemed important when what we didn't know didn't bother us.

of New Philadelphia also entered officially yesterday afternoon for the Democratic nomination, confirming an earlier announcement. He now represents the 17th, 18th, 19th and 28th District, but the section of Tuscarawas County in which he resides was incorporated into the 30th District in the recent legislative reapportionment.

The earlier Democratic entrants were Roy Allen, editor of the weekly Columbiana Ledger, Arthur Bowers, a Steubenville councilman, and Joseph Loha, a Steubenville attorney.

Mrs. Isabelle K. Chaney of Cadiz entered for woman member of the Republican State Central Committee from the 18th Congressional District, opposing Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, the incumbent.

Republicans also gained a new candidate for county commissioner—Albert C. Althouse of Tower Rd., near Winona, a Butler Township trustee. Althouse is a foreman at the Mullins Manufacturing Co. in Salem. He was re-elected to the township post at the November 1965 general election.

Ernest A. Lowe, East Liverpool Council president, entered for the Republican nomination for county auditor, confirming a previous announcement.

Longsworth, the new GOP senator candidate, was born in Sherrodsville, Carroll County, a son of the Rev. and Mrs. William Longsworth. A one-time resident of East Liverpool, he attended McKinley School.

He was graduated from Columbiana High School in 1957, received a bachelor of science degree in 1957 at Baldwin-Wallace College and a master's degree in biochemistry at Rutgers University in 1963. He continued his studies at Rutgers until 1965. He lives with his parents in Salem.

Formerly part of the 20th-22nd State Senatorial District, Columbiana County was represented by Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville. He could not seek a new term because Belmont County, in which he resides, was not included in the new district. Sargus decided to run for probate judge in Belmont County.

Mrs. Chaney, the new candidate for state committeewoman, is a member of the Harrison County GOP Central and Executive Committees. She is county chairwoman of her party and president of the Harrison County Republican Women's Club.

She was an alternate delegate to the GOP National Convention in 1960. She also has served on committees at the Republican state convention.

Bell is assistant manager of service and inspection for the Weirton Steel Co. He has served six years as state central committeeman and previously served 22 years as a Steubenville councilman.

Chairman of the Ohio GOP State Convention Committee, Bell attended the 1960 and 1964 National Conventions. He attended Steubenville High School, Bellefonte (Pa.) Academy and Marshall College at Huntington, now Marshall University.

Youngstown Lawyer To Ask Post On Court

Council President Joseph E. O'Neill of Youngstown filed Tuesday with the Mahoning County Election Board to seek the Democratic nomination for a full term on the bench of the 7th District Court of Appeals.

A practicing attorney in Youngstown, O'Neill is serving his second term as Council president. Married and the father of six, he attended John Carroll University and Youngstown University. He served in the Navy in both World War II and the Korean conflict.

O'Neill is secretary of the Mahoning County Democratic Central and Executive Committee.

The two major parties will select nominees in the May primaries for one full term and one unexpired term on the three-judge panel of the court, which has a 13-county jurisdiction extending from Lake Erie to the Ohio River.

Collision

Lord, we've killed a bunch of people."

"They were all hollering and crying."

The bus was hit squarely in the middle and wrapped around the front of the engine.

Battered straw and felt hats were scattered along the road bed. Inside the bus were shoes, shreds of clothing, a battered tin cup and a paper bag that carried lunch to the field.

Police and firemen worked for hours under floodlights to pry the bus from the engine with wreckers and acetylene torches.

Friends from the labor camp, called to identify the dead, crossed themselves as they lifted each blanket.

Some electrical equipment for a warning light was strewn by the crossing. The railroad had decided to install a flashing light after another collision several weeks ago when a tomato bus knocked a train off the track. The light had not been finished.

The crossing was marked by a railroad cross painted on the narrow country road and by stop signs on both sides.

Rows of trees grew along the road and it would be difficult to see an approaching train. The sheriff's office said it found no skid marks.

Weather

low ranging from 12 to 18 above is predicted.

Southern Local School District's six schools, with an enrollment of 1,425 pupils, remained closed for the third consecutive day as a result of snow-clogged secondary roads.

Supt. Jack Baker said the decision to extend the suspension of classes was made because a number of rural roads remain hazardous and there are no turn-around sites available for buses.

Baker said township road crews have been able to clear most areas, but the condition of snow roadways is such that it was decided to cancel classes for today. The Southern Local—Jefferson Union basketball game scheduled last night was canceled.

Baker said it is uncertain whether additional days will be added to the school calendar to make up the loss of three days this week and one last week due to weather.

All Hancock County public schools reopened today, with regular schedules followed, Supt. Robert H. Hall's office announced.

The schools had been closed Monday and Tuesday because of hazardous road conditions.

Old Man Groundhog got into the weather act also as he had his annual "day."

Reports from groundhog-conscious Pennsylvania points — including world - famed Punxsutawney — had the groundhog seeing his shadow, which means six more weeks of winter for those who place faith in the tradition.

Our local groundhog, on Deidrick's Hill, could not be reached for official comment, but some in the area report they heard mumblings of "Did I or didn't I" as the old fellow ambled back into his hole.

So it could be a standoff so far as the groundhogs are concerned, with Punxsutawney Phil and members of the Slumbering Groundhog Lodge of Quarryville prepared for the worst and Donald of Deidrick's Hill confused about the whole thing.

Congress

not try to get the Geneva Conference reconvened?"

Led by opposition from the Soviet Union and France, the 15-member U.N. Security Council delayed until today a vote on a U.S. request for peace discussions. Observers said the opposition virtually killed any chances for immediate U.N. action.

Aiken forecast failure for President Johnson's effort to get U.N. action on the Viet Nam question, although he said he is glad the attempt is under way.

"Our difficulty lies in the fact that nobody in the Communist world — and some in our own — believes that we really and seriously want peace," he said. "I am convinced that one man does and that's President Johnson."

Mansfield said that despite Russian and French opposition, "the door has not quite been shut yet" on U.N. efforts.

The United States was not a party to the 1954 Geneva agreement although it accepted its terms. Britain and the Soviet Union are cochairmen of the conference and it would require agreement between them for its reconvening.

Mansfield said that if Peking and Hanoi really want to talk, "I would think that the Soviet Union would go along with her sister Communist states."

The Montana Democrat said he assumes that Hanoi's demand for an end to North Viet Nam bombing, withdrawal of American troops and recognition of the Viet Cong would be open to debate in any reconvened conference.

He and Fulbright said they take the view that these are Communist "talking points," which would not have to be accepted in advance of any peace conference.

In a television interview Tuesday night, Fulbright said he is "not at all proud" of the role he played in helping to win Senate approval for the Aug. 10, 1964, resolution giving President Johnson broad powers to wage war in Viet Nam.

"I regret that the President ever started the bombing," he said on a CBS news special, "Fulbright, Advise and Dissent." "I have to say that I played a part in that that I am not at all proud of."

Fulbright introduced the resolution, which authorized Johnson "to take all necessary measures" in Viet Nam.

Last week Johnson told 16 senators who appealed for further consultations on Viet Nam war policies that he would "continue to be guided in these matters by the resolution of Congress."

Johnson's decision to resume bombing of North Vietnamese targets was quickly endorsed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower, now vacationing in Palm Desert, Calif., said Tuesday: "It is my view that we must never allow our friends in that region to believe we have weakened — or shall weaken — in our purpose of supporting freedom."

But two senators objected that Johnson's decision to restrict the air strikes will have little effect on the war.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, who just returned from a visit to Viet Nam said that "toe nibbling" strikes had not worked. He called for attacks on the main North Vietnamese port facilities at Haiphong, and on key bridges, power plants and petroleum distribution points.

"Unless the enemy's logistics system is much more severely impeded," Miller said, "we can expect a longer and more costly ground war in the south."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., who visited Viet Nam in December, called for "a real effort to knock out important military targets." He said the most important of such targets are not being hit at all.

2 Men Are Arrested In Fight At Wellsville

Two East Liverpool men were arrested for disorderly conduct following a fight, which hospitalized one of them, Tuesday night in Wellsville.

Wellsville police arrested Thomas McElroy, owner of the Heritage House at 518 E. 3rd St., and Herman Hoppel of Valley Dr. following the fracas at 9 in the street at 9th and Main Sts.

McElroy was admitted later to City Hospital with multiple contusions of the left forearm, left hand and right ear. He was "fairly good" today.

Police arrested both and then released them for appearance later.

McElroy returned home and his wife called East Liverpool police to take him to the hospital for treatment.

Flying Hunk Of Wood Causes Fire At Home

A burning piece of lumber that lodged in a window frame of a vacant dwelling at 206 Pennsylvania Ave. was blamed for a fire Tuesday afternoon which caused slight damage to the house being remodeled.

Asst. Chief James Pelley explained the firebrand came from a pile of scrap lumber being burned in the yard. It lodged in the frame where the window had been removed while the home is being converted into a duplex by the owner, Herman Hoppel.

Workmen noticed the fire and used snow in an attempt to extinguish it, and firemen used a booster line to finish the job. The fire was confined inside the wall and did not burn through to the interior or exterior, Pelley said.

Pumpers from North Side and Central along with the emergency truck answered the alarm at 2:27 p.m.

of New Philadelphia also entered officially yesterday afternoon for the Democratic nomination, confirming an earlier announcement. He now represents the 17th, 18th, 19th and 28th District, but the section of Tuscarawas County in which he resides was incorporated into the 30th District in the recent legislative reapportionment.

The earlier Democratic entrants were Roy Allen, editor of the weekly Columbiana Ledger, Arthur Bowers, a Steubenville councilman, and Joseph Loha, a Steubenville attorney.

Mrs. Isabelle K. Chaney of Cadiz entered for woman member of the Republican State Central Committee from the 18th Congressional District, opposing Mrs. Letha Astry of Salem, the incumbent.

Republicans also gained a new candidate for county commissioner—Albert C. Althouse of Tower Rd., near Winona, a Butler Township trustee. Althouse is a foreman at the Mullins Manufacturing Co. in Salem. He was re-elected to the township post at the November 1965 general election.

Ernest A. Lowe, East Liverpool Council president, entered for the Republican nomination for county auditor, confirming a previous announcement.

Longsworth, the new GOP senator candidate, was born in Sherrodsville, Carroll County, a son of the Rev. and Mrs. William Longsworth. A one-time resident of East Liverpool, he attended McKinley School.

He was graduated from Columbiana High School in 1957, received a bachelor of science degree in 1957 at Baldwin-Wallace College and a master's degree in biochemistry at Rutgers University in 1963. He continued his studies at Rutgers until 1965. He lives with his parents in Salem.

Formerly part of the 20th-22nd State Senatorial District, Columbiana County was represented by Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville. He could not seek a new term because Belmont County, in which he resides, was not included in the new district. Sargus decided to run for probate judge in Belmont County.

Mrs. Chaney, the new candidate for state committeewoman, is a member of the Harrison County GOP Central and Executive Committees. She is county chairwoman of her party and president of the Harrison County Republican Women's Club.

She was an alternate delegate to the GOP National Convention in 1960. She also has served on committees at the Republican state convention.

Bell is assistant manager of service and inspection for the Weirton Steel Co. He has served six years as state central committeeman and previously served 22 years as a Steubenville councilman.

Chairman of the Ohio GOP State Convention Committee, Bell attended the 1960 and 1964 National Conventions. He attended Steubenville High School, Bellefonte (Pa.) Academy and Marshall College at Huntington, now Marshall University.

Youngstown Lawyer To Ask Post On Court

Council President Joseph E. O'Neill of Youngstown filed Tuesday with the Mahoning County Election Board to seek the Democratic nomination for a full term on the bench of the 7th District Court of Appeals.

A practicing attorney in Youngstown, O'Neill is serving his second term as Council president. Married and the father of six, he attended John Carroll University and Youngstown University. He served in the Navy in both World War II and the Korean conflict.

Deaths and Funerals

Hollie Reed

Hollie Kelsey Reed, 66, of Georgetown R.D. 1, a retired carpenter, died of a heart attack while in the car of his son, Arthur Reed of Burgettstown, Tuesday morning. He was going to visit in Burgettstown and became ill near Florence, Pa., where he suffered the attack. He had been ailing.

He was born Aug. 22, 1899, to the late Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Reed.

In addition to his son, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Anna Reed of Burgettstown; five other sons, Earl Reed, Harold Reed and Kenneth Reed, all of Georgetown, Okey Reed of Burgettstown R. D. 1, and Ernest Reed of Burgettstown; four daughters, Mrs. Ruth Baker, Mrs. Anna Mae Stevens and Mrs. Agnes Orgovan, all of Burgettstown, and Mrs. Dorothy Jablonski of Georgetown R. D. 1; a brother, Guy Reed of Burgettstown R. D. 3; 60 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 1 p.m. at the Lee Funeral Home in Burgettstown. Burial will be in Mill Creek Hill Cemetery, Hookstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Abraham Stein

Services were held Sunday at New York City for Abraham Stein, a former Midland resident, who died of a heart attack Saturday at his home in Long Island. He was 68.

He was employed by the Westminister Tire Co. of New York City. At one time he worked at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He had resided in New York for 30 years.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Rosella (Silverberg) Stein, at home, also formerly of Midland; two sons, Lewis Stein and Martin Stein, both of New York City, and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Joseph Hennessy

Mrs. Helen Gertrude Hennessy, 83, of Youngstown, mother of Fr. James R. Hennessy, who was former pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Wellsville, died Tuesday night at her home after a long illness.

She was born in Youngstown July 5, 1882, to the late Patrick Kaden and Bridget Dorsey Kaden. She was a member of the St. Columba Cathedral of Youngstown.

In addition to her son, who is pastor of St. Rose's Parish at Girard, she leaves her husband, Joseph Hennessy; a niece, Mrs. Carl Buchman of Youngstown, whom she reared, and two other nieces.

A Requiem High Mass will be sung Friday at 11 a.m. at the cathedral with Fr. Hennessy as the celebrant. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Youngstown.

Friends may call at the McVean & Hughes Funeral Home, 711 Wick Ave., Youngstown, Thursday afternoon and night.

Chester Clark

Chester Todd Clark, 55, of Belpre, formerly of East Liverpool, died of a heart attack Tuesday afternoon at his home.

He was born in Long Bottom, Ohio. While here, he was a plant policeman at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gladys Clark, and two daughters, all at home; a sister, Mrs. Edith Weaver of Sharpsburg, Ohio, two brothers, Ralph Clark and Lewis Clark, both of Belpre and uncles and aunts in the East Liverpool area.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Spencer Funeral Home in Belpre. Burial will be in Belpre Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Survey Eyes College's Use Of Old School

LISBON — The Lisbon Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday made an inspection of Lincoln School to determine its condition relative to possible use as a classroom building by the Columbiana County Community College if a charter is granted the institution.

The Chamber recently offered the old school to the Board of Trustees of the college for use as a classroom building.

Charles R. MacKenzie, president of the Chamber, said no work will be done on the building until a charter is granted officially by the Ohio Board of Regents. This action is expected March 18.

MacKenzie said the walls, windows, floors and ceilings in the structure are in good condition and the lighting is adequate, but the building needs cleaning and painting. It currently is being used as a Civil Defense storage house.

If the charter is granted, the Chamber plans to contact the state building inspector to determine what can be done to the structure to bring it up to standards for public use.

Although the Chamber would like to make use of volunteer help as part of a community project in cleaning and decorating, it said it realizes the two big expenditures will be for plumbing and heating. Bids will be taken on those two items if the charter is granted, MacKenzie said.

Rainbow Girls Seat Officers In Ceremonies At Midland

"Climb 'til Your Dreams Come True" was the theme when Miss Karen Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Murphy of Ohio Ave., Midland, was installed as worthy adviser of Midland Assembly 83, International Order of Rainbow Girls, at ceremonies in the First Presbyterian church Monday night.

Miss Janice Castelli, past worthy adviser, and Miss Lois Myers, junior past worthy adviser, who placed the crown on Miss Murphy's head, were installing worthy advisers.

Other installing officers included Amy Wilson, past worthy adviser and past grand lecturer, marshal; Becky Craik, past worthy adviser, chaplain; Jeanne Petrosky, past worthy adviser and assistant grand musician, musician; Penny Bradshaw, recorder, and Gloria McClain, treasurer.

MISS KATHY ROACH, past worthy adviser and past grand representative to Alabama, installed her mother, Mrs. Leslie B. Roach as mother adviser. Mrs. Herbert Miller, grand deputy of district 2A, installed the advisory board.

Miss Margaret Ann Regney presented Miss Murphy a wicker arm basket of red and white carnations as she was escorted to the East. Mrs. Arnold F. Robbins gave her a gavel on behalf of her parents. Roach presented his wife with a bouquet of American Beauty roses as she was escorted to the East.

Miss Murphy presented Miss Myers her past worthy adviser's pin. Miss Lyn Petrosky gave her a gift from the officers and Mrs. William Petrosky, past mother adviser, a white Bible from the advisory board.

Mrs. Louise Finley, retiring mother adviser, gave the welcome and presented the installing officers. Mrs. William Hulme, past mother adviser, presented her with her past mother adviser's pin.

The worthy adviser outlined plans for her term and spoke on her theme. She honored her parents with original tributes. Miss Myers gave her retiring address and Mrs. Roach an acceptance address. Miss Finley also gave a farewell speech.

Pots of gold, one of the highest honors awarded to Rainbow Girls, were presented Linda Bailey and Kathy Sepos by Miss Karin Oberg, a member of the advisory board. A wreath, the highest award, was presented to Lyn Petrosky. They received red carnation corsages to which the pots of gold and wreath were attached. Installing officers wore corsages of red and white carnations and all the new officers carried velvet muffs. The girls in the bow had muffs the color of their stations.

LYN PETROSKY, Kathy Sepos, Patty Deer, Linda Bailey, Lois Myers, and Becky Craik presented original tributes to Miss Murphy and Miss Finley. Miss Jeanne Petrosky was the accompanist. Each was presented a gift.

Speakers included Mrs. Miller, Mrs. O. N. Carter, worthy matron of Jessamine chapter Order of Eastern Star, Miss Castelli and Miss Wilson.

Mrs. William Duck, soloist, was accompanied by Miss Vivian Jacobs. The Rev. W. Stanton River of the Methodist church gave the benediction.

A floral arrangement of red and white carnations with silver tapers centered the L-shaped tea table, which was covered with red net. Mrs. Joseph Andrews and Mrs. George Myers poured. Members of the advisory board and mothers of Rainbow Girls assisted at the reception.

Hancock Sheriff Issues Report On January Activity

Twenty - three accidents involving 31 motor vehicles occurred in Hancock County during January, according to the report released today by the sheriff's office.

Ten persons were injured as a result of the accidents, but there were no fatalities.

Total estimated damage in auto accidents amounted to $6,700. There were 167 papers served.

Thirty-seven were arrested by the department during the month, including 20 prisoners confined in the Hancock County jail. Weirton police confined four additional prisoners.

Eighteen prisoners were released, with 15 remaining in jail at the end of the month. One juvenile was listed among the prisoners. There were six transients.

A total of 8,018 miles was logged on sheriff's cruisers. One trip was made to the Pine Crest Tuberculosis Hospital.

Scranton Signs Legislation For New Plan On School Aid

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton signed into law Tuesday legislation establishing a new subsidy program of state aid to public schools and creating a new Department of Community Affairs within state government.

Scranton also approved a new borough code.

Scranton hailed the new subsidy bill for setting down in law the state's intent to share on a 50-50 basis the reimbursable cost of public education with local officials.

"This 50-50 partnership ... makes for a healthy and viable relationship in support of education," Scranton said.

The new bill, to apply to the 1966-67 school year with subsidies to be distributed a year later is intended to simplify the complex system presently used to determine state aid to local school districts.

It places emphasis on the average state-wide expenditure per pupil rather than on the old "teaching unit."

Budget Secretary Martin H. Brackbill estimated the first payments in 1967-68 would total some $519 million, $111 million over what districts would have received under the present system.

The new community affairs department, to be headed by a cabinet - level secretary at a $25,000 annual salary is intended to place all state functions relating to local governments under the jurisdiction of one agency.

The principal transfer would have the Bureau of Municipal Affairs, presently housed in the Department of Internal Affairs, switched to the new department. This transfer would not take place until next Jan. 17, after the November statewide elections.

The new department is to act as a coordinating and clearing house for state participation in such federal programs as the anti - poverty and Appalachia projects, as well as serving as a centralized information agency for local governments.

Hollie Reed

Hollie Kelsey Reed, 66, of Georgetown R.D. 1, a retired carpenter, died of a heart attack while in the car of his son, Arthur Reed of Burgettstown, Tuesday morning. He was going to visit in Burgettstown and became ill near Florence, Pa., where he suffered the attack. He had been ailing.

He was born Aug. 22, 1899, to the late Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Reed.

In addition to his son, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Anna Reed of Burgettstown; five other sons, Earl Reed, Harold Reed and Kenneth Reed, all of Georgetown, Okey Reed of Burgettstown R. D. 1, and Ernest Reed of Burgettstown; four daughters, Mrs. Ruth Baker, Mrs. Anna Mae Stevens and Mrs. Agnes Orgovan, all of Burgettstown, and Mrs. Dorothy Jablonski of Georgetown R. D. 1; a brother, Guy Reed of Burgettstown R. D. 3; 60 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 1 p.m. at the Lee Funeral Home in Burgettstown. Burial will be in Mill Creek Hill Cemetery, Hookstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 tonight.

Abraham Stein

Services were held Sunday at New York City for Abraham Stein, a former Midland resident, who died of a heart attack Saturday at his home in Long Island. He was 68.

He was employed by the Westminister Tire Co. of New York City. At one time he worked at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. He had resided in New York for 30 years.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Rosella (Silverberg) Stein, at home, also formerly of Midland; two sons, Lewis Stein and Martin Stein, both of New York City, and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Joseph Hennessy

Mrs. Helen Gertrude Hennessy, 83, of Youngstown, mother of Fr. James R. Hennessy, who was former pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Wellsville, died Tuesday night at her home after a long illness.

She was born in Youngstown July 5, 1882, to the late Patrick Kaden and Bridget Dorsey Kaden. She was a member of the St. Columba Cathedral of Youngstown.

In addition to her son, who is pastor of St. Rose's Parish at Girard, she leaves her husband, Joseph Hennessy; a niece, Mrs. Carl Buchman of Youngstown, whom she reared, and two other nieces.

A Requiem High Mass will be sung Friday at 11 a.m. at the cathedral with Fr. Hennessy as the celebrant. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Youngstown.

Friends may call at the McVean & Hughes Funeral Home, 711 Wick Ave., Youngstown, Thursday afternoon and night.

Chester Clark

Chester Todd Clark, 55, of Belpre, formerly of East Liverpool, died of a heart attack Tuesday afternoon at his home.

He was born in Long Bottom, Ohio. While here, he was a plant policeman at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gladys Clark, and two daughters, all at home; a sister, Mrs. Edith Weaver of Sharpsburg, Ohio, two brothers, Ralph Clark and Lewis Clark, both of Belpre and uncles and aunts in the East Liverpool area.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Spencer Funeral Home in Belpre. Burial will be in Belpre Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Survey Eyes College's Use Of Old School

LISBON — The Lisbon Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday made an inspection of Lincoln School to determine its condition relative to possible use as a classroom building by the Columbiana County Community College if a charter is granted the institution.

The Chamber recently offered the old school to the Board of Trustees of the college for use as a classroom building.

Charles R. MacKenzie, president of the Chamber, said no work will be done on the building until a charter is granted officially by the Ohio Board of Regents. This action is expected March 18.

MacKenzie said the walls, windows, floors and ceilings in the structure are in good condition and the lighting is adequate, but the building needs cleaning and painting. It currently is being used as a Civil Defense storage house.

If the charter is granted, the Chamber plans to contact the state building inspector to determine what can be done to the structure to bring it up to standards for public use.

Although the Chamber would like to make use of volunteer help as part of a community project in cleaning and decorating, it said it realizes the two big expenditures will be for plumbing and heating. Bids will be taken on those two items if the charter is granted, MacKenzie said.

Rainbow Girls Seat Officers In Ceremonies At Midland

"Climb 'til Your Dreams Come True" was the theme when Miss Karen Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Murphy of Ohio Ave., Midland, was installed as worthy adviser of Midland Assembly 83, International Order of Rainbow Girls, at ceremonies in the First Presbyterian church Monday night.

Miss Janice Castelli, past worthy adviser, and Miss Lois Myers, junior past worthy adviser, who placed the crown on Miss Murphy's head, were installing worthy advisers.

Other installing officers included Amy Wilson, past worthy adviser and past grand lecturer, marshal; Becky Craik, past worthy adviser, chaplain; Jeanne Petrosky, past worthy adviser and assistant grand musician, musician; Penny Bradshaw, recorder, and Gloria McClain, treasurer.

MISS KATHY ROACH, past worthy adviser and past grand representative to Alabama, installed her mother, Mrs. Leslie B. Roach as mother adviser. Mrs. Herbert Miller, grand deputy of district 2A, installed the advisory board.

Miss Margaret Ann Regney presented Miss Murphy a wicker arm basket of red and white carnations as she was escorted to the East. Mrs. Arnold F. Robbins gave her a gavel on behalf of her parents. Roach presented his wife with a bouquet of American Beauty roses as she was escorted to the East.

Miss Murphy presented Miss Myers her past worthy adviser's pin. Miss Lyn Petrosky gave her a gift from the officers and Mrs. William Petrosky, past mother adviser, a white Bible from the advisory board.

Mrs. Louise Finley, retiring mother adviser, gave the welcome and presented the installing officers. Mrs. William Hulme, past mother adviser, presented her with her past mother adviser's pin.

The worthy adviser outlined plans for her term and spoke on her theme. She honored her parents with original tributes. Miss Myers gave her retiring address and Mrs. Roach an acceptance address. Miss Finley also gave a farewell speech.

Pots of gold, one of the highest honors awarded to Rainbow Girls, were presented Linda Bailey and Kathy Sepos by Miss Karin Oberg, a member of the advisory board. A wreath, the highest award, was presented to Lyn Petrosky. They received red carnation corsages to which the pots of gold and wreath were attached. Installing officers wore corsages of red and white carnations and all the new officers carried velvet muffs. The girls in the bow had muffs the color of their stations.

Snow And Election Dates Occupy Chester Council

Improvements in snow removal methods were discussed during Chester Council's meeting Tuesday night at City Hall and dates pertaining to the coming election were announced by Clerk Roy Cashdollar.

Councilman Charles Kology relayed complaints of residents in the area bordered by 1st and 3rd Sts. and Montana Ave. regarding accumulations. In addition, the 6th St. hill was described as a particularly troublesome location.

The councilmen decided to contact various city employes concerning the possibility of working additional hours to remove snow, especially at street intersections.

The deadline for filing in the coming primary is March 5, with the primary election April 5 and the general election Jr. 7. Newly - elected officials will take office July 1.

Contested will be the offices of mayor and city clerk and five Council seats.

A bid from Clifford Smith for painting the hallway and stairway of the City Building was tabled until the next meeting Feb. 15.

Approved were remittances of $5,054.29, including state liquor taxes of $1,781.93, electric utility taxes of $1,477.88 and gas utility taxes of $1,794.48.

Bills totaling $1,732.56 were ordered paid.

Chester Girl Runnerup In Baton Event

A Chester girl was crowned first runnerup in the Miss Majorette of America pageant Sunday night at the St. Paul Winter Carnival in St. Paul, Minn.

Cookie Richards, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Richards of Chester R.D. 2, also won third place in the finals in national solo competition.

Ninety girls from 37 states and from Canada took part in the contest. Judging was based on ability to twirl and strut and on personality, poise and gown modeling.

Cookie has been West Virginia champion for six years.

The winner of Sunday night's pageant was Miss Susan Capaletto of Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Man, Woman Found Dead In Apartment

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A man and a woman were found dead Tuesday night in an apartment on the city's North Side, apparently the victims of carbon monoxide fumes from a gas stove.

An attendant at the Allegheny County morgue said the man was John Protulipac, 59. He said the woman has not been identified.

Coal Miners Plan To Seek Wage Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Mine Workers Union says it plans to seek salary increases for about 150,000 soft coal miners, without threat of a strike.

W. A. (Tony) Boyle, Mine Workers president will call a meeting of the independent union's Wage Policy Committee later this month to plan contract demands, a union spokesman said Tuesday.

The amount of the increase to be sought is still undetermined, the spokesman said. The present wage rate is $26.25 a day.

The Mine Workers operate under an open-end contract with no termination date unless either side serves a 60-day notice of cancellation.

Boyle has no intention of serving such a notice, the spokesman said.

Last March, the union won contract gains for the first time in five years. They included a $2 a day pay raise, and improvements in vacation, holiday and working conditions.

If a new contract is negotiated with soft coal operators, it is likely that any gains would be extended later to approximately 17,000 hard coal miners, who are under separate contracts.

Pennsylvania Court Ready To Offer Reapportion Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House of Representatives would have 203 seats and all 50 Senate seats would be up for election in November under a legislative reapportionment plan reportedly drawn up by the State Supreme Court.

The report came from authoritative sources who declined to be identified. They said formal announcement of the plan was imminent.

Patrick Bolsinger, Supreme Court prothonotary, said, "They have been working vigorously on it for quite awhile. I would think you could expect it anytime now."

The court has had the thorny problem of reapportionment in its hands since mid-October, after the politically divided legislature failed to agree on plan.

The court in September 1964 mandated reapportionment of Pennsylvania's General Assembly on a one man, one vote principle set down by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The details of the new court plan were not known at this point. However, sources said all legislative seats were drawn to within 15 per cent of the population variance of 56,597 for House districts and 226,387 for Senate districts.

A 203-member House would be a reduction of six seats from the present membership.

There never was bipartisan agreement among legislators on a over-all House reapportionment plan, although both sides generally agreed on the total of 203 seats.

Both parties reached agreement on a Senate plan, but that measure also died when a joint conference committee was unable to agree on a new House alignment.

The Senate plan would have required only the 25 senators from even-numbered districts to stand for election as scheduled in November.

Those Senators elected two years ago in the odd-numbered districts would have been permitted under the Senate plan to serve the two remaining years of their current terms.

The court's order reportedly will have the 25 senators from the odd-numbered districts run for two-year terms this time and then full four-year terms in 1968. The 25 senators from the even-numbered districts would be elected to four-year terms in November.

The date for the first filing of nomination petitions for the May 17 primary is Feb. 15, only two weeks away. The deadline is March 8.

Ohio Criticizes Pennsy Pike Unit On Closing Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some criticism of Pennsylvania Turnpike authorities was voiced by Ohio Turnpike Commission here Tuesday for failure to notify Ohio of the pike's closing during last week's heavy snowstorm.

First word that the Pennsylvania Turnpike had been closed, Ohio officials reported, came from motorists who had been turned back at the state line. As a result, a few cars were allowed to pass through Ohio without knowing they would be turned back.

Charles Chastang, commission member, pointed out that many motorists could have been warned in advance to prevent the traffic jam which resulted from the closing. Later, Ohio officials only learned that the pike had been reopened when cars started to reach Ohio.

Chastang said efforts should be made to bring about better cooperation between turnpike officials, for such emergencies, both with Pennsylvania and Indiana.

The commission also reported it saved $81,000 in its 1965 maintenance budget because of good weather in November and December.

Patrick Bolsinger, Supreme Court prothonotary, said, "They have been working vigorously on it for quite awhile. I would think you could expect it anytime now."

The court has had the thorny problem of reapportionment in its hands since mid-October, after the politically divided legislature failed to agree on plan.

The court in September 1964 mandated reapportionment of Pennsylvania's General Assembly on a one man, one vote principle set down by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The details of the new court plan were not known at this point. However, sources said all legislative seats were drawn to within 15 per cent of the population variance of 56,597 for House districts and 226,387 for Senate districts.

A 203-member House would be a reduction of six seats from the present membership.

There never was bipartisan agreement among legislators on a over-all House reapportionment plan, although both sides generally agreed on the total of 203 seats.

Both parties reached agreement on a Senate plan, but that measure also died when a joint conference committee was unable to agree on a new House alignment.

The Senate plan would have required only the 25 senators from even-numbered districts to stand for election as scheduled in November.

Those Senators elected two years ago in the odd-numbered districts would have been permitted under the Senate plan to serve the two remaining years of their current terms.

The court's order reportedly will have the 25 senators from the odd-numbered districts run for two-year terms this time and then full four-year terms in 1968. The 25 senators from the even-numbered districts would be elected to four-year terms in November.

The date for the first filing of nomination petitions for the May 17 primary is Feb. 15, only two weeks away. The deadline is March 8.

Ohio Criticizes Pennsy Pike Unit On Closing Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some criticism of Pennsylvania Turnpike authorities was voiced by Ohio Turnpike Commission here Tuesday for failure to notify Ohio of the pike's closing during last week's heavy snowstorm.

First word that the Pennsylvania Turnpike had been closed, Ohio officials reported, came from motorists who had been turned back at the state line. As a result, a few cars were allowed to pass through Ohio without knowing they would be turned back.

Charles Chastang, commission member, pointed out that many motorists could have been warned in advance to prevent the traffic jam which resulted from the closing. Later, Ohio officials only learned that the pike had been reopened when cars started to reach Ohio.

Chastang said efforts should be made to bring about better cooperation between turnpike officials, for such emergencies, both with Pennsylvania and Indiana.

The commission also reported it saved $81,000 in its 1965 maintenance budget because of good weather in November and December.

Local Realtors Hear Canton Man

A need for increased membership was stressed by Charles Burson of Canton, District 2 vice president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, when he addressed the meeting of the East Liverpool Board of Realtors Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel. Sixteen attended.

Introduced by Standley Hilbert, president of the city realtors, Burson outlined 1966 programs of the Ohio and national boards.

County Recorder John Wargo, a guest, briefly explained the new data processing system in use in his office.

The next meeting will be March 1 at the hotel.

Miss Jean Allison Weds In Ceremonies At Crafton

Lace medallions accented the gown of Miss Jean May Allison when she became the bride of Kevin L. Foody the morning o Jan. 22 at 11 o'clock in St. Phillips Catholic Church of Crafton, Pa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allison of Hookstown. Her husband, a resident of Pittsburgh, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Foody.

Fr. William John McCashin officiated for the nuptial mass before an altar background of white gladioli and carnations. Miss Mary Flood of Crafton was organist. The bride placed a bouquet of white roses before the statue of the Blessed Virgin.

THE BRIDE was given in marriage by her father. Her floor - length gown of peau de soie was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long sleeves. The princess-style bodice was trimmed with Alencon lace motifs reembroidered with seed pearls. The modified skirt was designed with a chapel train.

Her elbow length veil of imported silk illusion made by her mother, was held in place by a crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried rosary beads, a gift of Mrs. Joseph Daugherty, placed among an arrangement of roses and stephanotis.

In observing the traditions, she carried a lace handkerchief her late grandmother, Mrs. Ralph Tate, had given to her mother when she was married. There was a six pence in her shoe.

Mrs. Jack Marraccine of Monongahela was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Frances Allison and Mrs. James Floyd, sisters of the bride; Mrs Thomas Billette of Sheraden, and Mrs. Donald Shaw of Chester.

They were attired in dresses designed with Empire - style, deep red velvet bodices, featuring three - quarter length sleeves and pink crepe sheath skirts, accented with small velvet bows. Pink crepe cabbage roses with short butterfly veils formed their headpieces. They carried red velvet muffs adorned with pink rose corsages.

DIANE FLOYD, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dress and headpiece identical to that of the other attendants. Her dress and all the muffs and headpieces were made by Mrs. Floyd.

Paul Lowery served as best man. Ushers were Rudy Gastner, Ray Donty, Regis Nairn and Joseph Meise. They all are from Pittsburgh. John Allison, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer.

MRS. KEVIN FOODY
Former Hookstown Resident.

The mother of the bride chose a blue lace dress and Mrs. James Foody, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, a two - piece blue dress. Matching accessories and pink rosebud corsages complemented their attire.

A reception for 400 followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Crafton, where decorations predominated in a pink, red and white theme. The buffet table was centered with a three - tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Guests were from Kansas City, Sandusky, Connellsville, Glenshaw, Carnegie and Aliquippa.

Following a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains, the newlyweds are residing in Crafton.

The bride is a graduate of South Side High School and the Louise Suydam School of Nursing of St. Margaret's Memorial Hospital, Pittsburgh, where she remains on the staff.

The bridegroom, who resided with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Foody, was graduated from Langley High School and attended Robert Morris Junior College. He is taking undergraduate work in business administration at the University of Pittsburgh and is employed as a sales representative for Mrs. Paul's Frozen Foods.

Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson of Crafton entertained for the buffet rehearsal dinner.

Instrumental Trio Presents Second Civic Music Concert

A small but appreciative audience greeted The Tichman Trio, instrumentalists, who presented a program of chamber music in the second concert of the season for the Tri - State Civic Music Association Tuesday night at Westgate School.

The young American artists comprising the group were Herbert Tichman, clarinetist; Jacob Maxin, pianist, and John Goberman, cellist.

The highlight of the program was the outstanding presentation of a clarinet solo by Tichman entitled "Rhapsody" (DeBussy). Maxin provided the piano accompaniment.

Trio selections included "Opus 11" (Beethoven); "Trio in B Flat Major" opus 11 (Beethoven); "Three Pieces From Opus 83" (Bruch) and "Trio in A Minor, Opus 114" (Brahms).

The third part of the program included selected solos and duets with Goberman presenting a cello solo unaccompanied. The closing encores were various trio arrangements of composer Max Bruch.

There was no intermission due to the weather.

Paul Blair, president, welcomed the audience. Miss Marjorie Weir, a student of the Junior Class at the high school, assisted the trio with the sheet music.

Club Briefed On Activity At Kent Branch

The operation of the Kent State Academic Center here was outlined by John Hedrick, director, during a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

Hedrick said the principal reason for academic centers is to permit students to obtain their first two years of college education at a greatly reduced cost. There is no expense of travel, campus life, etc., he pointed out.

The center also enables students to maintain part - time work and summer jobs. The center offers non - credit courses which a student may take to help determine how he would do in college.

Some high school students, those in the upper 5 per cent of their class, can take limited courses.

The academic standards are the same as those at the university, Hedrick explained. The center is fully accredited and the credits earned my be transferred to other universities.

Hedrick also touched on new draft regulations, which he feels will effect the male enrollment. The regulations require freshmen to be in the upper half of the class, sophomores the upper two - thirds and juniors the upper three - fourths in order to be deferred.

Hedrick said he is "pleased" with the enrollment at the center here. He also commented that students have started their own "campus life" by forming various organizations and clubs.

Twenty - two attended. The Board of Directors will meet Friday noon at Meade's Restaurant.

2 Meetings Postponed By Extension Officials

SALEM — Two meetings on the selection of appliances for the home, sponsored by the Columbiana County Cooperative Extension Service, have been postponed until Feb. 15 and 22.

Miss Ann Overturf, home economics agent, said the meetings, scheduled Tuesday and Feb. 8, were postponed because of weather conditions. Both sessions will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Strouss - Hirshberg Store here.

Fresh okra may be sliced and simmered in butter in a heavy covered skillet. After washing the okra, cut off the stem ends before slicing.

Jefferson Board Spurs '66 Plans On Conservation

The 1966 program will be advanced when the Jefferson County Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Supervisors meets Feb. 22 at the home of Robert W. Smith in Wintersville.

Smith is work unit conservationist.

At the January meeting, the supervisors approved coming events, including a "Double Q Hay Club," the annual meeting, the ministerial breakfast, election, an essay contest in the schools, Grange talks, corn and forage day, the see-all tour, the farm-city tour, recognition of the outstanding wildlife farmer of the year, fair exhibits, conservation science fair project and forestry tours.

All supervisors attended the Area 3 winter meeting in Mt. Vernon, with Edgar Buchanan elected Area 3 director, Walter N. Sutton, sub-area chairman, and Paul Ramsey, sub-area secretary.

The Jefferson board was awarded the distinctive service recognition of "superior" during the recent meeting of the state federation in Columbus.

It was announced that the district's annual meeting will be held March 8 at Unionport.

Legislation Ordered

Action Launched On Police, Fire Pay At Wellsville

Wellsville Council Tuesday night ordered legislation to grant 10 per cent wage increases to members of the police and fire departments for consideration at its next meeting.

Both departments were bypassed when increases were granted other city employes in December.

The departments had petitioned Council for raises last year and again in December.

The recommendation for the boosts was made by Councilman George Lawton, chairman of the finance committee. He said the proposal also calls for two paid holidays for each department.

A new fireman or policeman would receive a starting salary of $357 a month, with a 5 per cent increase after the first year and another after the second year.

IN OTHER action, Council tabled legislation to provide $500 to have the Ohio Title Corporation of Columbus run an abstract and issue title insurance on city property at 12th and Main Sts.

The previous Council had passed such legislation, but it was returned to the present legislators by Mayor William Daugherty, with a veto attached. The mayor urged Council to have the abstract run at a cost of $125.

Under the proposal by the Columbus firm, the city would pay $200 for the abstract and $250 for the insurance.

Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara said the offer is a "bargain" and that any prudent businessman would want title insurance on his property. He called the offer reasonable because there are three different pieces of property involved, which means three separate abstracts.

The mayor called the proposal a "raid on the city treasury" and said he personally would guarantee the lower figure for the title search.

DURING the discussion, O'Hara said the firm had saved the city some $1,000 by calling attention to the fact the property had not been taken off the tax duplicate. This later was taken care of, O'Hara explained.

He also pointed out that the city owes $3,472.96 in unpaid taxes on the sewage disposal plant because the property never was removed from the tax duplicate. He said he will check to determine if the payment must be made.

Councilman Jack Call opposed tabling the legislation.

Council authorized the solicitor to sign a journal entry stating that the city does not want to be a part of a suit by Patrolman Charles Amato to have himself named a regular police officer on the Wellsville department.

Amato won a decision in Common Pleas Court, but the mayor and Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare have carried the issue to the Seventh District Court of Appeals.

The mayor questioned Council's knowledge of the affair and its decision to authorize the agreement to have the city withdraw.

Lawton opposed the action.

Council authorized the solicitor and one of its members to attend a hearing March 3 at 1 p. m. in Columbus by the Ohio Liquor Control Board on a request by Angelo Infanti to transfer a liquor permit from 1339 Main St. to 1747 Main St.

Council is opposing the transfer on grounds of "suitability of location" and with the feeling there are an excessive number of permits in operation within Wellsville in proportion to the population. The Wellsville Board of Education also is opposing the transfer.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis reported a mutual aid agreement is to be renewed with East Liverpool within the next week under which each community agrees to furnish what men and equipment it can spare in event of a major fire. The renewal takes place every three years.

The mayor's report for January showed $690 collected in fines and fees.

LAWTON SAID the finance committee had received a request from the Civil Service Commission for a budget of $730 for the year. The commission also asked the clerk's salary be increased to $40 a month.

Council amended legislation adopted previously showing from what funds various employes are paid as there was an error in the recording of the sewage disposal operator.

Councilman Nunzio Lombardozzi said his street and light committee will check with the safety - service director on the city's snow removal program.

Legislation was ordered to establish the position of an extra policeman. Those on the eligibility list then can be trained and worked when needed, it was pointed out.

O'Hara urged Council to give careful study to the plans and various facets of the proposed relocation of Route 7 through the community.

The Ohio Department of Highways has submitted an ordinance of consent which should be studied to determine where the city will get the money to pay for its share and other costs, he said.

O'Hara also suggested a public meeting be held to air complaints or suggestions from residents.

Council also ordered legislation authorizing payment of 10 cents a mile, $2 per meal and the cost of a "first-rate hotel" for anyone who must travel out of town on city business.

The mayor urged careful study of the budget before Council acts on financial matters.

Some of the discussions were long and at times heated, leading Lawton to comment that Council "can do without the animosities" displayed.

Charges Flare In Utah Over Fair Trade Law

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The two-month-old battle of the market basket for $285 million worth of Utah's annual retail grocery trade brought charges today of failure to enforce the state's fair trade law.

A price-slashing contest involving an estimated 125 to 160 metropolitan food stores has continued since December, with few signs of a letup.

Housewives have saved as much as 30 cents on shortening, 15 cents on detergents and 10 to 15 cents per pound on meat. Everyday prices have been cut from 2 or 3 per cent to 10 per cent on other staples such as coffee, cereal, flour, sugar and baby food.

"The cutting is still on," said Bob Nelson, owner of a large Salt Lake City discount food store. "Prices are still way below what it takes to be a healthy situation. Most staples are at cost or 4 per cent below."

The cutting has threatened Utah's "six per cent law" with a State Supreme Court test. The law bans prices that cut profit below 6¾ per cent of cost to wholesalers.

Nelson said officials have failed to enforce the law — passed in 1937 — for the past 20 years.

"They should test the law, enforce it, or take it off the books," said Nelson.

Vern Brazell, executive secretary of the Utah Retail Grocers Association, joined the call for enforcement. "We want the law," he said, "but we want it enforced."

Other grocers have expressed fear that a long price war could leave the entire market in the hands of large grocery chains.

Dale Jones, member of the policy committee of the Independent Grocer Association said: "The guy with the deep pocket is the guy who's still going to be here when the smoke clears away."

The Utah Trade Commission said in early December the attorney general's office was preparing cease and desist orders. But Trade Commissioner Frank Wilkins now says the orders won't be issued until the State Supreme Court rules on the law.

Wilkins and Atty. Gen. Phil Hansen agree that the law is being broken. But a spokesman for Hansen said the attorney general is having trouble initiating a suit.

'King For A Day' Theme Features Church Program

Deacon Ralph Pope was crowned "King for a Day" during the annual Men's Day program Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at the Midland First Baptist Church, with 250 in attendance.

The crowning was part of a pageant arranged by James H. Morrison. Following the crowning, Pope and John Hosey spoke briefly.

The Rev. James E. Curry, pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church at Weirton, was guest speaker in the absence of the Rev. Alfred Hunt, who was unable to attend because of inclement weather.

Will T. Leavell was master of ceremonies.

Booker Newberry of Youngstown was guest soloist during the morning and afternoon service. Music was presented by a mass choir under the direction of Joseph Simpson. Simpson was presented a gift by Hosey, who served as program chairman.

Chamber Sends E. R. Chandler To Capital Sessions

E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, left today to attend the three-day annual mid-winter management conference of the Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio at the Pick-Fort Hayes Hotel in Columbus.

Chandler is secretary of the statewide organization of professional Chamber executives and also is a member of the Board of Directors and Executive Committee. He will attend a meeting of the board and Executive Committee this afternoon.

The CCEO conference will continue through Friday, using the theme, "What's Ahead — 1970." Discussions will include anticipated developments in education, highways, building construction and business.

John Krizan, former manager of the East Liverpool Chamber, is immediate past president of the organization. He now is executive vice president of the Findlay Chamber. The incumbent president is Jack E. Lautenslager, manager of the Marion Area Chamber. The conference chairman is Robert Muckler, manager of the Chillicothe Chamber and vice president of the CCEO.

Legislation Ordered

Action Launched On Police, Fire Pay At Wellsville

Wellsville Council Tuesday night ordered legislation to grant 10 per cent wage increases to members of the police and fire departments for consideration at its next meeting.

Both departments were bypassed when increases were granted other city employes in December.

The departments had petitioned Council for raises last year and again in December.

The recommendation for the boosts was made by Councilman George Lawton, chairman of the finance committee. He said the proposal also calls for two paid holidays for each department.

A new fireman or policeman would receive a starting salary of $357 a month, with a 5 per cent increase after the first year and another after the second year.

IN OTHER action, Council tabled legislation to provide $500 to have the Ohio Title Corporation of Columbus run an abstract and issue title insurance on city property at 12th and Main Sts.

The previous Council had passed such legislation, but it was returned to the present legislators by Mayor William Daugherty, with a veto attached. The mayor urged Council to have the abstract run at a cost of $125.

Under the proposal by the Columbus firm, the city would pay $200 for the abstract and $250 for the insurance.

Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara said the offer is a "bargain" and that any prudent businessman would want title insurance on his property. He called the offer reasonable because there are three different pieces of property involved, which means three separate abstracts.

The mayor called the proposal a "raid on the city treasury" and said he personally would guarantee the lower figure for the title search.

DURING the discussion, O'Hara said the firm had saved the city some $1,000 by calling attention to the fact the property had not been taken off the tax duplicate. This later was taken care of, O'Hara explained.

He also pointed out that the city owes $3,472.96 in unpaid taxes on the sewage disposal plant because the property never was removed from the tax duplicate. He said he will check to determine if the payment must be made.

Councilman Jack Call opposed tabling the legislation.

Council authorized the solicitor to sign a journal entry stating that the city does not want to be a part of a suit by Patrolman Charles Amato to have himself named a regular police officer on the Wellsville department.

Amato won a decision in Common Pleas Court, but the mayor and Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare have carried the issue to the Seventh District Court of Appeals.

The mayor questioned Council's knowledge of the affair and its decision to authorize the agreement to have the city withdraw.

Lawton opposed the action.

Council authorized the solicitor and one of its members to attend a hearing March 3 at 1 p. m. in Columbus by the Ohio Liquor Control Board on a request by Angelo Infanti to transfer a liquor permit from 1339 Main St. to 1747 Main St.

Council is opposing the transfer on grounds of "suitability of location" and with the feeling there are an excessive number of permits in operation within Wellsville in proportion to the population. The Wellsville Board of Education also is opposing the transfer.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis reported a mutual aid agreement is to be renewed with East Liverpool within the next week under which each community agrees to furnish what men and equipment it can spare in event of a major fire. The renewal takes place every three years.

The mayor's report for January showed $690 collected in fines and fees.

Brawl Mars Wellsville's 70-68 Win Over Oak Glen

Player Ejected From Each Team; Thornton's 29 Sparks Tigers

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A fight with 56 seconds remaining in the game, which resulted in a player from each team ejected, marred Wellsville's 70-68 victory over Oak Glen before some 600 excited fans Tuesday night at Beacom Memorial Gym.

Wellsville saw its 13-point halftime advantage ripped to shreds by the rallying forces of Oak Glen, but the Tigers never relinquished the lead although the visitors came within one point on three different occasions in the last three minutes.

As the pressure mounted due to the closeness of the contest in the final minutes, tempers flared and a wild swinging affair followed as both benches unloaded. Police, coaches and officials brought the fight under control in short time.

THE INCIDENT was touched off when Oak Glen players, attempting to get possession of the ball fouled Wellsville's Dick Murray. Punches were exchanged and officials Sam Pridon and Stan Evans ejected two players — Oak Glen's leading scorer Tom Thayer and Wellsville's Mick Comparetta.

—:—

FIFTY-SIX seconds showed on the clock at the time of the brawl and both teams were awarded two foul shots by the officials. Wellsville led at the time 68-65. Each team converted one foul and Wellsville remained in front 69-66 after the smoke of the battle had cleared.

With 48 seconds remaining, Bob Morehead dropped in a foul shot, giving the Tigers a 70-66 lead. Oak Glen's John Zielinsky hit with three seconds to go to round out the scoring.

FOLLOWING the contest, Oak Glen coach Bob Starkey commented: "I have seen two other incidents at Wellsville this year like the one we had tonight; this wasn't their first one."

Wellsville's edge came at the foul line as Oak Glen held a 27-25 lead in field goals. The Tigers made 20 of 31 fouls and the Bears 14 of 24.

It was the second victory for Wellsville over Oak Glen, the first meeting at Oak Glen last month ending 79-78.

WELLSVILLE now shows a 7-5 mark, while Oak Glen is 5-9.

The Golden Bears turned in a brilliant second - half rally after trailing by as many as 17 points late in the second quarter.

Wellsville received a steady stream of points from Harry Thornton, who hit the cords for 29 to lead all scorers.

Thornton chalked up 11 field goals with his southpaw offerings and seven of 12 fouls. He scored 18 points the first half, added four in the third period and closed out the fourth period with seven.

COMPARETTA followed with 16 before his departure from the game and Murray added 11.

Coach Jack McDevitt started sophomore Dan Sedor in place of Chris Thornton, who decided to quit the sport. Thornton, a senior, was one of the chief rebounders for the Tigers and had been scoring well in recent games.

Wellsville took a 17-7 lead at the end of the first period as Oak Glen showed signs of being stale and got off to a slow start.

THAYER, who is leading the Bears' scoring with a 21.9 average, failed to tally in the first period, but came back to pour in 24 points in the last three quarters. The senior star hit 10 points to lead the uphill battle in the fourth period.

Dan Clark chipped in with 14 points and also came alive in the second half when he collected 12 of his total. Dan Smith came off the bench to score 10 points and Zielinsky, who did not start, added 11.

LEADING by 10 after one quarter, Wellsville, with an 11-point second period from Thornton, went on top 40-27 at halftime.

Clark pitched in seven points and Thayer six to lead a third-quarter attack that cut into Wellsville's lead, leaving the Tigers in front 56-48 after three periods.

Early in the fourth period with Wellsville leading 58-50 Oak Glen put together three straight buckets by Thayer, Clark and Smith to bring the score to 58-56.

THORNTON hit two fouls, then exchanged buckets with Thayer to keep the Tigers in front 62-58.

A foul by Zielinsky and a basket by Thayer brought the Bears as close as they were to come—one point—62-61 with 4:36 remaining.

Oak Glen got to 64-63 and 66-65 on two other occasions, but did not have enough momentum to get past the Tigers, who fought hard to hold the lead.

Wellsville wound up shooting 36 per cent on 25 of 69, while Oak Glen dropped in 27 of 66 for 40 per cent.

Illinois Springs Big Ten Upset Over 9th Rated Michigan Five

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan's reign as champions of the Big Ten basketball conference is in jeopardy. Illinois is ready to take over.

Don Freeman of Illinois ripped off five consecutive points in the last 30 seconds to thwart a Michigan rally and give the Fighting Illini an upset 99-93 road victory in the top college basketball game Tuesday night.

"If we can win at home we're in," said Harry Combes, Illinois coach, after Freeman's closing heroics capped his aggregate 33 point performance.

Illinois, currently 4-1 in the Conference to 5-1 for Michigan and Michigan State, has six home games left with Ohio State, Northwestern, Indiana, Minnesota, Purdue and Iowa, in addition to three on the road against Michigan State, Minnesota and Northwestern.

"I have to say Illinois is leading the conference since they have won three (or four) on the road and we have lost at home," declared Dave Strack, Michigan coach.

All-America Cazzie Russell, with 33 points, sparked a late Michigan rally that almost pulled the game out for the Wolverines, ninth-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll. They tied the score at 91-91 setting the stage for Freeman, who scored seven of the last eight Illinois points to snap Michigan's seven-game winning streak.

Freeman, a 6-foot-3 senior and captain of the Illini, broke the tie with two free throws. Larry Hinton added another charity toss to make it 94-93. Jim Clawson got two free throws for Michigan before Freeman reeled off his closing five points on a jump shot, a tip-in and a free throw.

Rich Jones, a 6-7 sophomore from Memphis, backed up Freeman with 31 points before fouling out in the last two minutes.

In other games involving teams in the AP Top Ten, fourth-ranked Providence beat Canisius 84-71, unbeaten Texas Western, No. 6, crushed New Mexico State 104-78 for its 15th in a row and Bradley whipped Cincinnati, No. 10, 67-56. All were home-court victories.

Bob Kovalski, a 6-foot-8 senior known as "Big K" came off the bench to pace Providence over Canisius with 22 points. Bobby Joe Hill and Nevil Shed each got 20 points to lead Texas Western over New Mexico State. Bradley, walloped by Cincinnati 85-69 two weeks ago, turned the tables on the Bearcats led by Joe Allen's 19 points.

A lay-up by Johnny Moates after a pass from Tom Green in the last 20 seconds gave Richmond an 82-81 victory that ended Virginia Tech's seven-game winning streak.

Other home - court triumphs were chalked up by Minnesota over Northwestern 86-76, De Paul over Indiana 100-70, Detroit over Western Michigan 91-79, St. Louis over Louisville 64-60, Mississippi State over Georgia 58-54 and Texas Tech over Texas Christian 92-89.

Clemson, St. Mary's of California and Manhattan won on the road. Clemson edged Wake Forest 72-71, Manhattan downed Rutgers 85-75 and St. Mary's took Portland 87-68.

Sophomore Paces Western's Victory

Sophomore Lester Nott poured in 23 points which went a long way in leading Western Beaver to a come from behind, 68-59, victory at Northwestern Tuesday night in a non-league battle.

Western in winning its fifth against 11 defeats, trailed 26-17 at the end of the first period but tied the contest 32-32 by halftime.

Nott scored 12 of his total in the second half and Western picked up a 49-43 margin at the end of the third period.

Northwestern's Skip Watt took game scoring honors with 30 points in a losing cause for the home team.

Western returns to Section 8 play Friday by hosting Midland.

Western Beaver's reserve team scored an easy 55-35 victory in the preliminary with Jim Wilson's 14 points leading the way.

South Side Bows, Fouls Mark Game

In a game marked by 60 personal fouls — 30 on each side — Avalon remained in the running for Section 22 honors with a 64-49 victory Tuesday night at South Side.

When the game ended, South Side has lost all five starters on personal fouls.

Avalon moved to an 18-8 first period lead and was on top 31-18 at halftime to keep the upperhand all the way.

Ed Sullivan, put on the big scoring show for Avalon with 20 points. Dave Ashcroft led South Side with 15 and Ken Peden added 13.

The victory gives Avalon a 5-2 league record and a tie for second place in the standings. South Side is 2-6 in Section 22.

The Avalon reserves won the preliminary, 53-28.

Mississippi State U. Coach Traffic Victim

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. (AP) — Jerry Simmons, assistant basketball coach and head track coach at Mississippi State University, was killed in a car wreck Tuesday night after attending a high school basketball tournament at Prentiss, Miss.

Simmons, 36, was reportedly en route to Morton, Miss., to visit a schoolboy cager at the time of the accident.

Mississippi State officials said he died in a two-car collision and that Simmons was alone. No report was given concerning the number of passengers in the other car or their condition.

Cager Asks To Try For Team—Makes It

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Centenary freshman basketball coach Doug Mooty has troubles these days, what with a squad now reduced to six players.

So when Wayne Curtis of Dallas, Tex., showed up Tuesday and asked to try out for the team, Mooty put him right to work.

At the end of the workout, Curtis diffidently asked the coach if he would be allowed to dress out for tonight's game against the Northeast Louisiana State frosh.

"Dress out?" said Mooty. "You're gonna start!"

Player Ejected From Each Team; Thornton's 29 Sparks Tigers

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A fight with 56 seconds remaining in the game, which resulted in a player from each team ejected, marred Wellsville's 70-68 victory over Oak Glen before some 600 excited fans Tuesday night at Beacom Memorial Gym.

Wellsville saw its 13-point halftime advantage ripped to shreds by the rallying forces of Oak Glen, but the Tigers never relinquished the lead although the visitors came within one point on three different occasions in the last three minutes.

As the pressure mounted due to the closeness of the contest in the final minutes, tempers flared and a wild swinging affair followed as both benches unloaded. Police, coaches and officials brought the fight under control in short time.

THE INCIDENT was touched off when Oak Glen players, attempting to get possession of the ball fouled Wellsville's Dick Murray. Punches were exchanged and officials Sam Pridon and Stan Evans ejected two players — Oak Glen's leading scorer Tom Thayer and Wellsville's Mick Comparetta.

—:—

FIFTY-SIX seconds showed on the clock at the time of the brawl and both teams were awarded two foul shots by the officials. Wellsville led at the time 68-65. Each team converted one foul and Wellsville remained in front 69-66 after the smoke of the battle had cleared.

With 48 seconds remaining, Bob Morehead dropped in a foul shot, giving the Tigers a 70-66 lead. Oak Glen's John Zielinsky hit with three seconds to go to round out the scoring.

FOLLOWING the contest, Oak Glen coach Bob Starkey commented: "I have seen two other incidents at Wellsville this year like the one we had tonight; this wasn't their first one."

Wellsville's edge came at the foul line as Oak Glen held a 27-25 lead in field goals. The Tigers made 20 of 31 fouls and the Bears 14 of 24.

It was the second victory for Wellsville over Oak Glen, the first meeting at Oak Glen last month ending 79-78.

WELLSVILLE now shows a 7-5 mark, while Oak Glen is 5-9.

The Golden Bears turned in a brilliant second - half rally after trailing by as many as 17 points late in the second quarter.

Wellsville received a steady stream of points from Harry Thornton, who hit the cords for 29 to lead all scorers.

Thornton chalked up 11 field goals with his southpaw offerings and seven of 12 fouls. He scored 18 points the first half, added four in the third period and closed out the fourth period with seven.

COMPARETTA followed with 16 before his departure from the game and Murray added 11.

Coach Jack McDevitt started sophomore Dan Sedor in place of Chris Thornton, who decided to quit the sport. Thornton, a senior, was one of the chief rebounders for the Tigers and had been scoring well in recent games.

Wellsville took a 17-7 lead at the end of the first period as Oak Glen showed signs of being stale and got off to a slow start.

THAYER, who is leading the Bears' scoring with a 21.9 average, failed to tally in the first period, but came back to pour in 24 points in the last three quarters. The senior star hit 10 points to lead the uphill battle in the fourth period.

Dan Clark chipped in with 14 points and also came alive in the second half when he collected 12 of his total. Dan Smith came off the bench to score 10 points and Zielinsky, who did not start, added 11.

LEADING by 10 after one quarter, Wellsville, with an 11-point second period from Thornton, went on top 40-27 at halftime.

Clark pitched in seven points and Thayer six to lead a third-quarter attack that cut into Wellsville's lead, leaving the Tigers in front 56-48 after three periods.

Early in the fourth period with Wellsville leading 58-50 Oak Glen put together three straight buckets by Thayer, Clark and Smith to bring the score to 58-56.

THORNTON hit two fouls, then exchanged buckets with Thayer to keep the Tigers in front 62-58.

A foul by Zielinsky and a basket by Thayer brought the Bears as close as they were to come—one point—62-61 with 4:36 remaining.

Oak Glen got to 64-63 and 66-65 on two other occasions, but did not have enough momentum to get past the Tigers, who fought hard to hold the lead.

Wellsville wound up shooting 36 per cent on 25 of 69, while Oak Glen dropped in 27 of 66 for 40 per cent.

Illinois Springs Big Ten Upset Over 9th Rated Michigan Five

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan's reign as champions of the Big Ten basketball conference is in jeopardy. Illinois is ready to take over.

Don Freeman of Illinois ripped off five consecutive points in the last 30 seconds to thwart a Michigan rally and give the Fighting Illini an upset 99-93 road victory in the top college basketball game Tuesday night.

"If we can win at home we're in," said Harry Combes, Illinois coach, after Freeman's closing heroics capped his aggregate 33 point performance.

Illinois, currently 4-1 in the Conference to 5-1 for Michigan and Michigan State, has six home games left with Ohio State, Northwestern, Indiana, Minnesota, Purdue and Iowa, in addition to three on the road against Michigan State, Minnesota and Northwestern.

"I have to say Illinois is leading the conference since they have won three (or four) on the road and we have lost at home," declared Dave Strack, Michigan coach.

All-America Cazzie Russell, with 33 points, sparked a late Michigan rally that almost pulled the game out for the Wolverines, ninth-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll. They tied the score at 91-91 setting the stage for Freeman, who scored seven of the last eight Illinois points to snap Michigan's seven-game winning streak.

Freeman, a 6-foot-3 senior and captain of the Illini, broke the tie with two free throws. Larry Hinton added another charity toss to make it 94-93. Jim Clawson got two free throws for Michigan before Freeman reeled off his closing five points on a jump shot, a tip-in and a free throw.

Rich Jones, a 6-7 sophomore from Memphis, backed up Freeman with 31 points before fouling out in the last two minutes.

In other games involving teams in the AP Top Ten, fourth-ranked Providence beat Canisius 84-71, unbeaten Texas Western, No. 6, crushed New Mexico State 104-78 for its 15th in a row and Bradley whipped Cincinnati, No. 10, 67-56. All were home-court victories.

Bob Kovalski, a 6-foot-8 senior known as "Big K" came off the bench to pace Providence over Canisius with 22 points. Bobby Joe Hill and Nevil Shed each got 20 points to lead Texas Western over New Mexico State. Bradley, walloped by Cincinnati 85-69 two weeks ago, turned the tables on the Bearcats led by Joe Allen's 19 points.

A lay-up by Johnny Moates after a pass from Tom Green in the last 20 seconds gave Richmond an 82-81 victory that ended Virginia Tech's seven-game winning streak.

Other home - court triumphs were chalked up by Minnesota over Northwestern 86-76, De Paul over Indiana 100-70, Detroit over Western Michigan 91-79, St. Louis over Louisville 64-60, Mississippi State over Georgia 58-54 and Texas Tech over Texas Christian 92-89.

Clemson, St. Mary's of California and Manhattan won on the road. Clemson edged Wake Forest 72-71, Manhattan downed Rutgers 85-75 and St. Mary's took Portland 87-68.

Westgaters Even Season Mark At 6-6

Westgate evened its season record at 6-6 with an easy 50-36 victory Tuesday at Weirton Madonna.

Bill Montgomery tallied 17 points and Dan Cunningham found the range for 12 to pace the Wildcats.

Westgate was in command all the way. After a 7-2 first quarter lead, the Wildcats went in front 25-11 at halftime and owned a 36-22 margin at the end of the third period.

Storms Halt Sports Cards Around U.S.

By The Associated Press

Winter storms continued to cut deeply into sports schedules around the country today.

Bowie race track, reeling under a severe storm followed by a disasterous fire that killed more than 40 horses, remained closed for the third consecutive day as workmen battled to clear snow after a second heavy snowfall.

Two basketball games scheduled for tonight were postponed because of the weather. Officials called off Syracuse's game at Penn State and the Bucknell-Army game at West Point because of heavy snow accumulations. An Eastern Hockey League game, scheduled for tonight, Johnstown at Clinton, N.Y., also was postponed because of snow.

A flock of basketball games were called Tuesday night. Included among them was George Washington at Virginia Military, Hampden-Sydney at Lynchburg, Marshall at Morehead, East Tennesee at Eastern Kentucky, Union at Centre and Indiana Central at Bellarmine.

Youngstown had to postpone its home game against Gannon when the team was marooned by the weather at Carlisle, Pa., Monday night after beating Susquehanna.

A heavy snow dumped 11 inches on Lexington, Ky., and delayed the University of Kentucky basketball team's departure for Nashville, Tenn., where the Wildcats were to play Vanderbilt in tonight's top college basketball game.

Graustark Faces Second Test Today At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — John W. Galbreath's Graustark, named for a mythical kingdom, faces the stiffest test of his brief career today but the long-striding colt probably will be 1 to 5 favorite to pass it.

Graustark, unbeaten in his four starts to date, including the Arch Ward at Chicago last summer, heads a field of seven Derby-age colts in the $25,000-added Bahamas Stakes at Hialeah.

The son of undefeated European champion Ribot out of Flower Bowl, Graustark won by 27 lengths in his four starts and has never been extended.

He is prepping for the Flamingo March 3 and other big ones coming up. A meeting with Ogden Phipps' Buckpasser, the 2-year-old champion colt of 1965, may come Feb. 23 in the Everglades Stakes, at the Flamingo distance of 1⅛ miles.

The Flamingo is the first big race of the winter in Florida for Kentucky Derby prospects and it could determine which is the better colt — Buckpasser or Graustark. Buckpasser may make his first start of the winter next week.

The Bahamas drew five Flamingo eligibles in addition to Graustark, and he will concede them from two to eight pounds. The others are Impressive, Better Sea, Gunflight, Gary G., Barmer and Fleet Admiral. All except Fleet Admiral are Flamingo eligibles.

Graustark, under 120 pounds with Braulio Baeza up, is expected to get tough competition from Ogden Phipps' Impressive, winner of the Hibiscus Stakes 10 days ago at the same distance of seven furlongs. Impressive carries 118 pounds with Kenard Knapp to ride.

With seven starters, the race will net the winner $19,467 from a gross purse of $29,950.

Jesse Owens Draws Fine Of $3,000 In Tax Case

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse Owens, the superb track star who ruffled Adolf Hitler by winning four gold medals in the 1936 Olympics, was fined $3,000 Tuesday in an income tax case.

Owens had entered a plea of no contest to charges that he failed to file income tax returns on $29,135 for the years of 1959 through 1962.

Judge Joseph Sam Perry cited Owens' "good influence on the community" and after 35 minutes of comment he imposed the fine of $3,000 which is payable within six months.

The maximum penalty would have been four years in prison and a $40,000 fine under the criminal charge placed by the government.

Owens, who has spent recent years working for the Illinois Youth Commission and making numerous appearances before youth groups in addition to a daily radio program, was elated with Judge Perry's ruling.

"I certaintly regret that I had to be brought before you," Owens told Judge Perry. "I want you to know this was not a willfull violation. For many years I have tried to build an image in this country. All I ask is an opportunity to prove to my family and the community and my country. . . ."

Owens' voice trailed off and brought to mind his greatest feats as a star trackman for Ohio State University.

When he won four gold medals in Berlin, a feat which caused Hitler to stalk off from the Games because Owens' achievement crimped the Fuehrer's propaganda of the super race, Owens was the pride of America and the free world.

In making his decision, Judge Perry said "I see plenty on the credit side. This is a misdemeanor. I can't see why this one error should stop you from going ahead with your youth work. You have been subjected to pressure of public appearances. You have been too generous."

The judge concluded he was convinced Owens "needed no more punishment, yours was an error of omission rather than commission."

Ex-Cincy Coach Jucker Has Mild Heart Attack

By The Associated Press

All that snow couldn't mask it—Tuesday was a black day for Cincinnati collegiate basketball fans.

First, former University of Cincinnati coach Ed Jucker fell ill with what may have been a mild heart attack.

Next, Xavier University announced that its 6-foot-8 first-string center Jim Lacey is ineligible the rest of the season because of scholastic shortcomings.

Finally, Bradley smacked down Cincinnati 67-56 at Peoria, Ill., avenging an 85-69 loss in Bearcat territory and dealing 10th - ranked Cincy a severe crimp in its Missouri Valley Conference title aspirations.

Jucker, who coached the Bearcats to successive NCAA crowns a few seasons back, was reported in good condition at a hospital after being taken from his campus office.

Bradley, which had lost two straight, improved its record to 16-4 and lowered Cincinnati's to 14-4 while knocking the 'Cats out of a first-place MVC tie with Drake. The Braves moved ahead at 33-30 and staved off several second-half rallies. Don Rolfes was top Cincinnati scorer with 18 points.

Other games involving Ohio teams saw Malone rally to beat Cedarville 82-77 in the Mid-Ohio Conference, Ohio Northern whip Manchester (Ind.) 105-98, and Rio Grande edge Cumberland (Ky.) 92-89.

Ohio University's date at Muskingum was postponed to Feb. 17.

Don Andres' 25 points led Malone, which also got 19 from Bill Aggers. Jerry Stechschulte scored 30 for Ohio Northern and Don Trainer led Rio with 27, including three free throws that beat Cumberland in the last 14 seconds.

Celtics Win, Royals Lose In NBA Race

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Boston Celtics are a team that sticks together, and one that looks like it's stuck together.

When the Boston players trotted on to the court at New York's Madison Square Garden Tuesday night they wore so much tape it looked like part of their uniform.

But once the opening buzzer sounded it was the Detroit Pistons, not the Celtics, who came apart as Boston romped to a 100-81 victory to protect their slim lead in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The New York Knicks nipped the Baltimore Bullets 112-109 in the second game of the Garden doubleheader, and the San Francisco Warriors edged the Cincinnati Royals 127-125.

With two of their big guns out of action, the Celtics once again displayed the team work that has become their trademark.

Larry Siegfried scored 39 points and got big second-half assists from Mel Counts and Bill Russell which broke the back of a Detroit rally. Russell, as usual, sparkled on defense, blocking several shots. He finished with 13 points as did Counts, and Tom Sanders added 14. Eddie Miles led Detroit with 22.

Sam Jones remained in Boston with a strep throat, and John Havlicek watched from the bench because of a groin injury as the Celtics boosted their lead over idle Philadelphia to a game and over Cincinnati to 1½ games.

Cincinnati made a last ditch effort to win on the West Coast. Trailing 120-104 with six minutes left, Jack Twyman came off the bench to score 13 of his 17 points as the Royals came with in one point of the Warriors, 124-123, with 26 seconds remaining. San Francisco's Bud Olsen then was fouled intentionally, and he made two shots to clinch the victory.

Rookie Rick Barry scored 37 points to lead the winners. Happy Hairston scored 23, Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson and Adrian Smith 21 each for the Royals.

Browns Sign Another 'Mo'

CLEVELAND (AP)—A third Modzelewski has joined the Cleveland Browns.

The Browns announced Tuesday that Gene (No Mo) Modzelewski, who played collegiate football at New Mexico State, will follow his brothers, Ed and Dick, with the National Football League club.

Gene, 22, 6 - foot - 1 and 230 pounds, was the Browns' 17th draft choice last November. He will be used as a center or guard.

Ed, known as "Big Mo," played fullback for the Browns from 1955 through 1959.

Dick (Little Mo) was traded to the Browns in 1964 by the New York Giants and has been an outstanding defensive lineman.

High Jump King Still Year Away

MOSCOW (AP) — Valery Brumel, the world record holder in the high jump who smashed his right shin in a motorcycle accident last October, still is a year away from knowing whether he can jump again.

Soviet sports sources reported this today after Brumel began therapeutic swimming with his right leg still in a special kind of cast.

The brief swimming sessions gave rise to speculation that Brumel had begun training again. But the sources said Brumel's leg will be in the cast for another month or two.

Doctors will not decide until the end of the year whether Brumel will be able to compete again, the sources said.

Bucs Sign 2 More

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Tommie Sisk, 23, and rookie Don McKinley, 19, both righthanded pitchers, signed 1966 contracts with the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday.

Storms Halt Sports Cards Around U.S.

By The Associated Press

Winter storms continued to cut deeply into sports schedules around the country today.

Bowie race track, reeling under a severe storm followed by a disasterous fire that killed more than 40 horses, remained closed for the third consecutive day as workmen battled to clear snow after a second heavy snowfall.

Two basketball games scheduled for tonight were postponed because of the weather. Officials called off Syracuse's game at Penn State and the Bucknell-Army game at West Point because of heavy snow accumulations. An Eastern Hockey League game, scheduled for tonight, Johnstown at Clinton, N.Y., also was postponed because of snow.

A flock of basketball games were called Tuesday night. Included among them was George Washington at Virginia Military, Hampden-Sydney at Lynchburg, Marshall at Morehead, East Tennesee at Eastern Kentucky, Union at Centre and Indiana Central at Bellarmine.

Youngstown had to postpone its home game against Gannon when the team was marooned by the weather at Carlisle, Pa., Monday night after beating Susquehanna.

A heavy snow dumped 11 inches on Lexington, Ky., and delayed the University of Kentucky basketball team's departure for Nashville, Tenn., where the Wildcats were to play Vanderbilt in tonight's top college basketball game.

Graustark Faces Second Test Today At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — John W. Galbreath's Graustark, named for a mythical kingdom, faces the stiffest test of his brief career today but the long-striding colt probably will be 1 to 5 favorite to pass it.

Graustark, unbeaten in his four starts to date, including the Arch Ward at Chicago last summer, heads a field of seven Derby-age colts in the $25,000-added Bahamas Stakes at Hialeah.

The son of undefeated European champion Ribot out of Flower Bowl, Graustark won by 27 lengths in his four starts and has never been extended.

He is prepping for the Flamingo March 3 and other big ones coming up. A meeting with Ogden Phipps' Buckpasser, the 2-year-old champion colt of 1965, may come Feb. 23 in the Everglades Stakes, at the Flamingo distance of 1⅛ miles.

The Flamingo is the first big race of the winter in Florida for Kentucky Derby prospects and it could determine which is the better colt — Buckpasser or Graustark. Buckpasser may make his first start of the winter next week.

The Bahamas drew five Flamingo eligibles in addition to Graustark, and he will concede them from two to eight pounds. The others are Impressive, Better Sea, Gunflight, Gary G. Barmer and Fleet Admiral. All except Fleet Admiral are Flamingo eligibles.

Graustark, under 120 pounds with Braulio Baeza up, is expected to get tough competition from Ogden Phipps' Impressive, winner of the Hibiscus Stakes 10 days ago at the same distance of seven furlongs. Impressive carries 118 pounds with Kenard Knapp to ride.

With seven starters, the race will net the winner $19,467 from a gross purse of $29,950.

Jesse Owens Draws Fine Of $3,000 In Tax Case

CHICAGO (AP) — Jesse Owens, the superb track star who ruffled Adolf Hitler by winning four gold medals in the 1936 Olympics, was fined $3,000 Tuesday in an income tax case.

Owens had entered a plea of no contest to charges that he failed to file income tax returns on $29,135 for the years of 1959 through 1962.

Judge Joseph Sam Perry cited Owens' "good influence on the community" and after 35 minutes of comment he imposed the fine of $3,000 which is payable within six months.

The maximum penalty would have been four years in prison and a $40,000 fine under the criminal charge placed by the government.

Owens, who has spent recent years working for the Illinois Youth Commission and making numerous appearances before youth groups in addition to a daily radio program, was elated with Judge Perry's ruling.

"I certaintly regret that I had to be brought before you," Owens told Judge Perry. "I want you to know this was not a willful violation. For many years I have tried to build an image in this country. All I ask is an opportunity to prove to my family and the community and my country. . . ."

The judge concluded he was convinced Owens "needed no more punishment; yours was an error of omission rather than commission."

Cincinnati Eyes 2 Sites For Stadium

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two sites—one by the Ohio River and the other in the Crosley Field area—remain in the running for Cincinnati's proposed new stadium, the Cincinnati Enquirer said today.

Sentiment among members of the city's Stadium Steering Committee is strongly in favor of the riverfront site, the newspaper added.

These sites, and two others, one in Springdale and the other the Maketewah Country Club golf course, were recommended by an engineering firm Tuesday to the committee.

The committee did not make a selection, but said it probably would today after hearing from some private engineers hired to study sites by William O. DeWitt, president of the Cincinnati Reds.

Joseph Decourcy, president of the Hamilton County commissioners, also said Tuesday that a special tax would not be needed to finance the stadium, but that it could be done by revenue bonds.

"All the commissioners unanimously accepted the recommendation of the Stadium Steering Committee and City Council that no tax levy would be needed," Decourcy said.

The Reds would be the principal tenants of the stadium. The city is also seeking a National Football League team.

The consulants said cost of a stadium, if built at Crosley Field the present home of the Reds, would be $36,499,000. A dome would cost an additional $9.8 million and an electronic scoreboard about $1.5 million.

Cost of a riverfront stadium east of the Suspension Bridge would be $41,871,000. Adding a dome and the scoreboard would bring the total cost to $53,171,000.

The Maketewah site has apparently been ruled out by the committee because of loud protests voiced by residents in that area north of downtown.

Golfer Admits Wind Helped In Scoring 444-Yard Ace

NEW YORK (AP)—It doesn't take muscle but a lot of luck and a good wind to sink a drive of 444 yards, says the man who scored golf's longest hole-in-one.

Then, adds Bob Mitera dolefully, you spend the rest of your life trying to make people believe it.

"Nobody does," added the 21-year-old Creighton University student today after being honored as the sport's long-distance hole-in-one king.

"People look at me and say, 'You've got to be kidding. Nobody can score a 444-yard hole-in-one, specially a squirt like you. Soon, I get so I feel like I've committed a crime rather than made a hole-in-one.

"So I quit telling anybody."

But Golf Digest Magazine, which serves as a clearing house for holes-in-one (There were a record 14,154 last year) had no intention of keeping it a secret.

They flew Bob out from his home in Omaha, Neb., presented him a huge trophy and subjected him to New York sports writers.

Mitera looks anything but the part of a golf Hercules. He stands only 5-foot-6, weighs 165 pounds and wears glasses. He is an English major. He is a pop hitter normally off the tee, averaging around 240 yards.

Apologetically, he told how he accomplished his amazing feat Oct. 7, while playing with some Creighton teammates over Omaha's Miracle Hill course, 6,700 yards, par 70.

"It was mostly luck," he explained. "The 10th hole is straightaway with a sharp drop-off about 290 yards from the tee. There was a wind with gusts up to 50 miles an hour.

"The wind caught the ball, and it carried to the drop-off, then rolled into the hole. Even I was astounded."

Until Mitera cranked up and let fly, the longest hole-in-one on record measured 427 yards. Lou Kretlow, the former major league pitcher, made it on the 16th hole of the Oklahoma City Lake Hefner course March 23, 1961.

Probation Violated, Jail Term Ordered

LISBON — A New Waterford man, placed on five years' probation last July 21, must now serve six months in the County Jail on a charge of assault after breaking conditions of the probation order.

Edward Wheaton, 23, was accused of assault against his wife, Sandra, and was indicted in January 1965.

Among the conditions of his probation order were that he be "of good behavior, maintain steady employment and support his wife and family."

Hope Classic Draws Top 28 Pro Golfers

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The golfing marathon that bears the name of Bob Hope — it's the Hope $100,000 Desert Classic — got under way today and will continue, whether you can stand the suspense or not, for five days.

Th etournament sports a select field of 28 professionals, including the 1965 winner, Bill Casper Jr., Arnold Palmer, and the newest champion of the winter circuit, former U. S. Open champion Ken Venturi.

It also has 384 promising amateurs, which tends to complicate matters for at least four days.

Among the amateurs is, you might guess, Bob Hope.

The official pairing sheet is about the size of the Palm Springs telephone directory. Hope is identified as a member of the A-184 team. His pro is Q-30, which is possibly more intriguing than James Bond's 007. A later report will go into more details about Mr. Q-30.

On the serious side, the tournament is 90 holes and the issue will not be decided until the fifth day, Sunday.

Casper is the logical favorite but, of course, Palmer, as well as the rejuvenated Venturi, merit attention.

Venturi, the 1964 National Open champion, reclaimed his stature with a brilliant come-from-behind victory in the San Francisco Lucky International last weekend.

It ended more than a year of misery and pain for the handsome San Franciscan, not to mention tournament disappointments in a fight against a circulatory ailment in his hands.

The tournament play is over four courses. Each of the 128 pros has a different threesome of amateurs each day for the first four rounds.

The pros go it alone on the final round.

The country club courses in use are Indian Wells, the host and fifth-round site; Bermuda Dunes, La Quinta, and Eldorado. All are par 36-36—72.

The yardage ranges from Indian Wells' 6,654 to Bermuda Dunes' 7,010.

Casper won in 1965 with a 348, which is 12 shots under par. He had a final-round 72 at Bermuda Dunes. One stroke back, both with a 70, were Palmer and Tommy Aaron.

Cincinnati Eyes 2 Sites For Stadium

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two sites—one by the Ohio River and the other in the Crosley Field area—remain in the running for Cincinnati's proposed new stadium, the Cincinnati Enquirer said today.

Sentiment among members of the city's Stadium Steering Committee is strongly in favor of the riverfront site, the newspaper added.

These sites, and two others, one in Springdale and the other the Maketewah Country Club golf course, were recommended by an engineering firm Tuesday to the committee.

The committee did not make a selection, but said it probably would today after hearing from some private engineers hired to study sites by William O. DeWitt, president of the Cincinnati Reds.

Joseph Decourcy, president of the Hamilton County commissioners, also said Tuesday that a special tax would not be needed to finance the stadium, but that it could be done by revenue bonds.

"All the commissioners unanimously accepted the recommendation of the Stadium Steering Committee and City Council that no tax levy would be needed," Decourcy said.

The Reds would be the principal tenants of the stadium. The city is also seeking a National Football League team.

The consulants said cost of a stadium, if built at Crosley Field the present home of the Reds, would be $36,499,000. A dome would cost an additional $9.8 million and an electronic scoreboard about $1.5 million.

Cost of a riverfront stadium east of the Suspension Bridge would be $41,871,000. Adding a dome and the scoreboard would bring the total cost to $53,171,000.

The Maketewah site has apparently been ruled out by the committee because of loud protests voiced by residents in that area north of downtown.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our bridge club has a real Ann Landers type problem. The husband of one of the members retired last year. Whenever the club meets at her home (every eighth week) this woman's husband pulls up his chair and kibitzes the game. He always parks himself next to me.

Yesterday he snatched a card out of my hand and shouted, "THIS one, not THAT one. Dummy." Don't you feel he went too far?

How can we tell the woman we don't want her husband around? We don't wish to hurt her because she is a dear person. Thank you. — LONDON (ONT.)

Dear Bridgers: Suggest to the dear person that when she has the game at her home she should invite three male players (there must be other retired men in town) so her husband can have his own game.

Madly In Love

Dear Ann: I'm a high school junior, aged 17, and madly in love with my history teacher. Please don't tell me it is puppy love. I'm not a puppy. I'm a human being.

The teacher is 32 years old, married and has three children. To make matters worse he doesn't know I exist. Half the time he calls me by another girl's name. Whenever I correct him he apologizes with, "I'm sorry, but Henrietta sat in that seat last semester."

Please don't say this is infatuation or I'll scream. Compared to him high school boys look like babies. I'd rather stay home and think about my secret love than go out with the captain of the football team.

I dread graduation. How can I do well in college when this man is on my mind constantly? Help me. — FRUSTRATED AND HEARTSICK.

Dear Frus: Your "illness" is common among both high school girls and boys. It is called "Crushonteacheritis."

You'll recover — probably at graduation time. Until then, spend less time in the dream world and get back to reality. It may not be as much fun but it's healthier and more practical.

Assembly Job

Dear Ann: A girl who works in this office wears false eyelashes, a wig, several layers of makeup, contact lenses and her teeth are capped. I can't prove it, but I'll bet her fantastic measurements are phony, too — just like the rest of her.

I'm no beauty but at least I never have to worry about anything falling off. Furthermore, I'm very neat about my person while the patched-up job is downright sloppy.

So how come she gets asked out five or six nights out of seven and I'm lucky to have a date on Saturday night? Does this make sense to you? I'm not envious. I am — BAFFLED.

Dear Baff: Apparently Miss Loose Parts keeps glued together long enough to make a good impression and the men must enjoy her company if they continue to take her out. I'll bet the most important thing going for her is the ability to communicate. This quality nobody can fake.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Man Sent To Jail For Violation Of Probation Order

LISBON — A Salem man was committed to the County Jail Tuesday to serve the remainder of a suspended sentence after he had violated a probation order of the court.

French Lee Webb, 36, of 308 Newgarden Rd. was indicted by the September Grand Jury on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was granted probation Oct. 5 after changing a plea of not guilty to guilty.

At the time, Judge Joel H. Sharp fixed Webb's punishment at a $500 fine and a six-month sentence in the County Jail, but suspended $400 of the fine and all but 10 days of the jail sentence.

The probation order called for Webb to refrain from drinking any alcoholic beverages. A month and 16 days later he was convicted in mayor's court at Salem on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis said he will notify the registrar of motor vehicles that Webb now has three drunken driving convictions.

A total of 1,371,000 visitors attended Chicago conventions and trade shows in 1965, representing an income of $310.1 million for the city.

Transit Proposal Would Be Backed By McClelland

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Chairman William D. McClelland of the Allegheny County commissioners says he would support a referendum on any proposals for a rapid transit system for the Pittsburgh area.

McClelland, speaking Tuesday at the first International Conference on Urban Transportation, said "the final key for the success of rapid transit is in the hands of the citizens, the voters who will be asked to pledge their money and faith in rapid transit.

"I believe," he said, "that the voters will — properly informed of both the costs and benefits — respond with a resounding yes."

McClelland also said that the commissioners will appropriate funds to meet a $4 million operating deficit of the Allegheny County Port Authority's Transit Division for 1965.

U.S. Attorney Aide Quits In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Samuel J. Reich, first assistant U.S. attorney for Western Pennsylvania, resigned Tuesday, effective Feb. 4.

Reich, associated with the department since 1960, said he intends to enter private law practice in Pittsburgh.

Pig Production Talks Conducted

LISBON — Thirty - five feeder pig producers from Columbiana, Mahoning, Portage and Stark counties recently attended a series of three meetings at Damascus on the subject of swine breeding.

W. H. Bruner, an extension specialist in animal science from Ohio State University, conducted the sessions, sponsored by the Damascus Feeder Pig Committee and the Cooperative Extension Service.

He emphasized at all three sessions that many times producers blame the sow or boar for breeding problems which actually may be the result of a mistake by the farmer himself.

The Feeder Pig Committee is considering the possibility of bringing more boars from certified litters into the area breeding program.

Farm Mishap Fatal

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Just a short time after his wife gave birth to their fifth child, Ralston King was killed in an accident on his Darke County farm Tuesday. King, 25, became caught in machinery attached to his tractor inside his barn.

An estimated 400,000 persons are franchise operators of businesses ranging from pancake houses to motels.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our bridge club has a real Ann Landers type problem. The husband of one of the members retired last year. Whenever the club meets at her home (every eighth week) this woman's husband pulls up his chair and kibitzes the game. He always parks himself next to me.

Yesterday he snatched a card out of my hand and shouted, "THIS one, not THAT one, Dummy." Don't you feel he went too far?

How can we tell the woman we don't want her husband around? We don't wish to hurt her because she is a dear person. Thank you. — LONDON (ONT.)

Dear Bridgers: Suggest to the dear person that when she has the game at her home she should invite three male players (there must be other retired men in town) so her husband can have his own game.

Madly In Love

Dear Ann: I'm a high school junior, aged 17, and madly in love with my history teacher. Please don't tell me it is puppy love. I'm not a puppy. I'm a human being.

The teacher is 32 years old, married and has three children. To make matters worse he doesn't know I exist. Half the time he calls me by another girl's name. Whenever I correct him he apologizes with, "I'm sorry, but Henrietta sat in that seat last semester."

Please don't say this is infatuation or I'll scream. Compared to him high school boys look like babies. I'd rather stay home and think about my secret love than go out with the captain of the football team.

I dread graduation. How can I do well in college when this man is on my mind constantly? Help me. — FRUSTRATED AND HEARTSICK.

Dear Frus: Your "illness" is common among both high school girls and boys. It is called "Crushonteacheritis."

You'll recover — probably at graduation time. Until then, spend less time in the dream world and get back to reality. It may not be as much fun but it's healthier and more practical.

Assembly Job

Dear Ann: A girl who works in this office wears false eyelashes, a wig, several layers of makeup, contact lenses and her teeth are capped. I can't prove it, but I'll bet her fantastic measurements are phony, too — just like the rest of her.

I'm no beauty but at least I never have to worry about anything falling off. Furthermore, I'm very neat about my person while the patched-up job is downright sloppy.

So how come she gets asked out five or six nights out of seven and I'm lucky to have a date on Saturday night? Does this make sense to you? I'm not envious. I am — BAFFLED.

Dear Baff: Apparently Miss Loose Parts keeps glued together long enough to make a good impression and the men must enjoy her company if they continue to take her out. I'll bet the most important thing going for her is the ability to communicate. This quality nobody can fake.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Man Sent To Jail For Violation Of Probation Order

LISBON — A Salem man was committed to the County Jail Tuesday to serve the remainder of a suspended sentence after he had violated a probation order of the court.

French Lee Webb, 36, of 308 Newgarden Rd. was indicted by the September Grand Jury on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol. He was granted probation Oct. 5 after changing a plea of not guilty to guilty.

At the time, Judge Joel H. Sharp fixed Webb's punishment at a $500 fine and a six-month sentence in the County Jail, but suspended $400 of the fine and all but 10 days of the jail sentence.

The probation order called for Webb to refrain from drinking any alcoholic beverages. A month and 16 days later he was convicted in mayor's court at Salem on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

Corporate Levy Measure Seen Dead

W. Va. Legislature Okay Of Wage Bill Held Likely

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Passage of wages-and-hours legislation this session now seems probable, but the proposed corporate income tax suddenly appears dead.

Informed sources Tuesday said House and Senate leadership have agreed to find $5 million for the budget to bolster appropriations to higher education and mental health.

But a corporate income tax reportedly won't be the method used.

Instead, insiders said $2 million will be pared from budget requests. And they said the leadership hopes the Board of Public Works will increase its revenue estimates to account for the other $3 million.

Senate Finance Chairman Hans McCourt, D-Webster, whose committee now has the corporate tax measure, confirmed the reports to a degree.

"If Tuesday's committee action was an indication," he said, "I don't think the corporate tax bills will move."

McCourt's statement threw a damper on supporters whose hopes soared Monday when the House Finance Committee reported out the corporate income tax bills and recommended passage.

Sponsored by Sen. Paul J. Kaufman, the measures would modify the gross sales tax on natural resources and the levy on the transportation privilege tax, while imposing a 7 per cent income tax on corporations.

The proposed minimum wage measure received a boost Tuesday when the Senate Judiciary Committee reported out the House - passed measure, with passage recommended and only a few minor amendments attached.

Basically, the bill would establish a $1-an-hour minimum wage and time-and-a-half pay for work beyond 48 hours a week, except for exempt occupational categories.

The main Senate amendments would delay the measure's effect from July 1 this year until Jan. 1, 1967, and would add three more exempt categories: persons 62 or older receiving Social Security; job trainees, and youths working in summer camps.

Other amendments would make the bill conform with the federal fair labor standards act.

Meanwhile, both houses were scheduled to convene at 1 p.m. today.

The Senate had no major legislation at passage or amendment stage.

But nine bills were to be voted on in the House, including two bills of a three-bill package designed to divert $5.2 million worth of tax revenues from veterans bonus bonds into general revenue fund.

The two measures to be voted on today would earmark for general revenue 1 cent of the state 6-cent cigarette tax and about $1.6 million in state liquor store price markups.

The third bill, to divert beer tax revenue, has moved more slowly, clearing the House Finance Committee only Tuesday.

At amendment stage in the House were proposed legislative and judicial amendments to the state constitution. Both amendments were reported out of judiciary committee Tuesday and were pushed through the first reading stage.

The legislative amendment, altered considerably by the committee, was introduced by Del. Kenneth Auvil, D-Barbour.

As revised, the committee cut a provision to lengthen House terms from two to four years and a proposal to let the legislature set its own salaries instead of having them prescribed by the constitution.

The committee version would have the constitution set the salaries, but at $2,500 a year for annual 60-day sessions. It also would authorize the lawmakers to allow reimbursement up to $25 a day for expenses incurred in attending the sessions.

The judicial amendment would give the legislature power to detemine the number of judges for each of the state's judicial districts.

Both amendments must be passed by two - thirds votes before they can be placed before the voters.

More Plants Are Urged In Rural Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—A business leader has called on industry to decentralize its operations by establishing new plants in rural areas. He said this would benefit both industry and the nation.

The recommendation was made by W. B. Murphy, president of Campbell Soup Co. at a meeting Tuesday of the Agriculture Department's National Advisory Committee on Rural Areas Development. Murphy is chairman of the committee of leaders in business, labor, education, agriculture and social work.

Murphy told the meeting that his company has set up 20 food processing plants in rural communities and was so pleased with their operations that it plans no longer to establish new ones in cities.

Murphy said Campbell executives were pleased with assignments to rural plants. Many, he said, would not return to the cities.

"We have found an ample supply of workers," he said. "They turn out to be loyal workers. There is a much smaller rate of turnover than in the cities.

1965 Payments To Farmers Hit All-Time High

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers received a record $2.45 billion in government payments during 1965 for cooperating with controls and farm price and income stabilization programs.

This meant that farmers got $1 from the government for every $15.90 in general receipts from the sale of products.

Agriculture Department records show total farm payments were $281 million more than in 1964 when they represented 5.88 per cent of the income producers received from the sale of commodities.

Last year's big payment represented a vast jump from 1933, the first year payments were made, when they totaled $131 million. Last year was the first in which they were over $2 billion.

Inasmuch as this year's farm programs make greater use than ever of direct payments, the 1966 total to be paid farmers is likely to exceed $3 billion.

Guilty And Innocent Pleas Entered In Robbery Case

Two Wellsville men pleaded guilty and a third pleaded innocent when arraigned Tuesday in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court at Steubenville on charge of strong-armed robbery.

Thomas Randall Buckel, 22, of Danberry Ave. and Kenneth Dean Buckel, 19, of Wellsville R. D. 1 entered guilty pleas when arraigned before Judge Arthur L. Hooper, but Sidney Hubert Uhl, 18, of 2115 Chester Ave. pleaded innocent to the indictment returned by the Grand Jury.

The trio is accused of the unarmed robbery of Norman Cunningham, 17, of Empire on Jan. 9.

Bond was set at $1,000 for each. The Buckels retained William Bush of Wellsville as counsel, while Uhl retained Nathan Stern of Steubenville.

Twelve of 15 indicted by the Grand Jury were arraigned yesterday. The Buckels pleaded guilty, all others innocent.

Arraignment on the other three indictments was postponed.

Any changes of pleas will be heard Thursday at 9:30 a. m.

Others pleading innocent included:

Archie Charles Mosti, 24, of 1223 North 5th St., Toronto, tending to contribute to minor's delinquency. Bond was set at $1,000.

Calvin Lawrence, 24, of Toronto R. D. 1, four counts of issuing checks with intent to defraud. Bond set at $1,500.

Eisenhower's Son Selected To GOP Post

HARRISBURG (AP) — John S. D. Eisenhower, 44-year-old son of the former President, will serve as chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican Primary campaign committee.

His selection was announced Tuesday by Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer, Republican candidate for governor. Gov. Scranton praised Shafer for his choice.

"John Eisenhower is perfectly suited to the task of heading up our primary campaign effort," Shafer said. "He is well-acquainted with each of the candidates on the ticket and is vitally concerned that progressive Republican government be continued in Pennsylvania."

Scranton added:

"It is through the leadership of such outstanding men as John Eisenhower that our party will be strengthened. We can look for him to bring thousands of new people to active participation in a vigorous and progressive campaign."

Eisenhower, who resigned from the Army as a lieutenant colonel, is on a leave of absence as executive vice president of the Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge. He currently is engaged in editing of his father's latest book.

Shafer heads a ticket that includes Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandroni as candidate for lieutenant governor.

Discipline Being Hinted For GOP's Conventions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man in charge of a Republican effort to remove some of the noise and confusion from presidential nominating conventions thinks a dose of disciplinary medicine will do the job without major surgery.

National Committeeman Robert L. Pierce of Menomonie, Wis., said he does not subscribe to all the stern steps recommended by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose complaints about convention deportment led to the reform move.

Pierce is chairman of a 12-member committee that will make convention reform suggestions to the Republican National Committee. Pierce's group has just been organized, and plans to begin its investigation late in May.

The first step: a New York meeting to view television films of what went on during the San Francisco convention two years ago.

Eisenhower said last June that television puts the quadrennial conventions under the nation's eye — and "I think most of the United States is horrified by what they see."

The Republican National Committee promptly ordered an investigation to find ways of modernizing and reforming the conventions.

Pierce said in an interview Tuesday he doesn't think all the hoopla of conventions should go. "I'm not so sure that people don't like the noise and the confusion and the flags and the whole works," he said. But enough is enough, he said, and more discipline is in order.

"There's plenty of room for improvement in the operation of the convention floor itself," he said.

It is normally a scene of milling delegates, newsmen, onlookers who talk, clog the aisles and keep convention chairmen slamming their gavels.

$1 Million Fire Hits Hotel-Motel In Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) —A million-dollar fire early today destroyed the older half of Teplitzky's Hotel-Motel, a popular Jewish convention site.

Two guests escaped safely from the building and no injuries occurred among the 100 firemen who fought the raging fire.

The upper three floors of the original old hotel near the Boardwalk collapsed into the lower floors, shooting up high flames and loosing heavy smoke over ths area while snow blanketed the city. The five-story building was of frame construction with a brick front.

"It was going like hell when we got there," said Deputy Fire Chief Edward W. Jordan. He directed all the city's on-duty firemen, who were called to the scene shortly after 1 a.m. Jordan said the cause could not be determined immediately.

Guilty And Innocent Pleas Entered In Robbery Case

Two Wellsville men pleaded guilty and a third pleaded innocent when arraigned Tuesday in Jefferson County Common Pleas Court at Steubenville on charge of strong-armed robbery.

Thomas Randall Buckel, 22, of Danberry Ave. and Kenneth Dean Buckel, 19, of Wellsville R. D. 1 entered guilty pleas when arraigned before Judge Arthur L. Hooper, but Sidney Hubert Uhl, 18, of 2115 Chester Ave. pleaded innocent to the indictment returned by the Grand Jury.

The trio is accused of the unarmed robbery of Norman Cunningham, 17, of Empire on Jan. 9.

Bond was set at $1,000 for each. The Buckels retained William Bush of Wellsville as counsel, while Uhl retained Nathan Stern of Steubenville.

Twelve of 15 indicted by the Grand Jury were arraigned yesterday. The Buckels pleaded guilty, all others innocent.

Arraignment on the other three indictments was postponed.

Any changes of pleas will be heard Thursday at 9:30 a. m.

Others pleading innocent included:

Court Rejects Ewing Plea In Larceny Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court today rejected the appeal of Alice Ewing convicted of using the charge-plate of murder victim Wanda Cook, whose body was shipped from Cincinnati to Cleveland in a trunk.

Atty. Frank J. Longano said in the appeal that "an extremely bad public image was created" for his client by excessive publicity during the 1964 trunk murder trial in which Robert Abbott received a life sentence for the slaying.

Longano claimed she admitted taking the plate from the murder victim's purse to protect Abbott. Convicted in Cincinnati Municipal Court on a charge of larceny by trick, she was sentenced to 90 days in the workhouse and fined a total of $800. The 1st District Appellate Court upheld her conviction.

In other actions, the Supreme Court:

Let stand a 5th District Appellate Court decision favoring Mrs. Janet Fox in her damage suit against the 2300 Taxi Co., Inc., for injuries received Aug. 23, 1961, in an automobile collision in Lancaster. Common Pleas Court held for the taxi firm but the appellate court reversed and returned the case for further proceedings.

Turned down the appeal of Donald McClellan from decisions of lower courts in Fairfield County holding that he was the father of a child born to Miss Dolores Huston, Lancaster, last year.

Let stand the 1962 conviction of Ballard Gayhart Jr. in the armed robbery of Harry Marlott, Middletown. Gayhart, sentenced to a 10-25 year term, appealed to the high court under a post-conviction remedy statute with a request for state-appointed counsel.

It was the Shakespearean character Puck, in "Midsummer Night's Dream," who uttered the words "Lord, what fools these mortals be."

Parked Auto Hit By Fire Truck In Run To Peake St.

One of the city's fire trucks was involved in an accident while answering an alarm to the home of Ray Wright of 1045 Peake St. Tuesday night.

The 1964 model Seagraves fire truck was damaged in a collision with a parked car in Sutton Alley about 7:20 while en route to the blaze, police reported.

Fireman Frank J. Butler, 43, of 1864 Lisbon St. was operating the truck when it was involved in the mishap with the auto, whose owner still is unidentified, police said. The mishap damaged a big tool compartment on the right rear of the fire truck.

Patrolman L. E. Richard investigated. He said Butler reported he started to proceed through Sutton Alley on the fire call, noting a car was parked on the right side of the alley. The fireman reported he pulled to the left to avoid hitting the car, but the right side of the truck hit the right front of the auto. The fire truck was moving about 5 miles an hour at the time, officers said.

Richard said while he was on duty at the scene of the fire Asst. Chief James Pelley told him a fire truck had hit a parked car in Sutton Alley. Richard said he investigated after the fire was extinguished. Persons residing in the alley told the officer they saw an unidentified man get into the auto and drive away immediately after the truck had passed.

No one came to police headquarters subsequently to report damage to his auto in such an incident, Richard said. At the site of the crash, the alley is narrow and the driver of the truck pulled as far as possible from the auto without going over a hillside, Richard reported.

The fire was in a kitchen wall and extended to a nearby sink. Damage was minor. The blaze was extinguished with a booster line.

Firemen were called at 12:29 a.m. today to the home of Mrs. Robert Gallagher of 910 May St. to investigate an odor of smoke in the house. Firemen said a thermostat was sticking, allowing the furnace to overheat.

Bill Urges Creation Of Brooke Park Board

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Senate has received a measure which would authorize creation of a park and recreation board in Brooke County.

The bill passed 96-0 in the House of Delegates Tuesday.

The measure calls for five board members to be appointed to four-year terms by the Brooke County court.

Longano claimed she admitted taking the plate from the murder victim's purse to protect Abbott. Convicted in Cincinnati Municipal Court on a charge of larceny by trick, she was sentenced to 90 days in the workhouse and fined a total of $800. The 1st District Appellate Court upheld her conviction.

In other actions, the Supreme Court:

Let stand a 5th District Appellate Court decision favoring Mrs. Janet Fox in her damage suit against the 2300 Taxi Co., Inc., for injuries received Aug. 23, 1961, in an automobile collision in Lancaster. Common Pleas Court held for the taxi firm but the appellate court reversed and returned the case for further proceedings.

Turned down the appeal of Donald McClellan from decisions of lower courts in Fairfield County holding that he was the father of a child born to Miss Dolores Huston, Lancaster, last year.

Let stand the 1962 conviction of Ballard Gayhart Jr. in the armed robbery of Harry Marlott, Middletown. Gayhart, sentenced to a 10-25 year term, appealed to the high court under a post-conviction remedy statute with a request for state-appointed counsel.

It was the Shakespearean character Puck, in "Midsummer Night's Dream," who uttered the words "Lord, what fools these mortals be."

County Board Forwards 43 On Draft Call

LISBON — Five chartered buses carrying 229 Columbiana County men left Draft Board 16 here at 7:05 a.m. today for the induction and physical examination center at Cleveland.

Forty-three of the group were scheduled for induction while the remaining 186 were sent for pre-induction physicals.

Board 16 has a call for 19 for induction and 23 for physicals on Tuesday, Feb. 15, Miss Elaine Griffith, board clerk, said.

The group forwarded for physicals included several married men but there was none among the inductees representing 14 communities. The inductees and their home areas are:

East Liverpool — Thomas H. Vincent, Charles E. Emmerling, Jerry L. Wheeler, William E. Davie, Clyde E. Null and Gary W. Coleman.

Salem — Vaughn K. Harshman, Thomas L. Brunner, John J. Callahan, David A. Walker, David A. Birchak and William G. Sherwood Jr.

Wellsville — Anthony J. Owens, John R. Kozora, David L. Mobley and James S. Boyd.

East Palestine — John A. Ferko, Lou G. Fennell, Keith A. Fulton, David A. Black, and Nicholas T. Duley.

Salineville — William R. Hays, David C. Orr, George A. Justice, Charles D. Moore and Daniel L. Leffler.

New Waterford — Richard J. Moffett and George J. Mollenkopf; Hanoverton — John J. Gruszecki and David C. Kiewall; Homeworth — James E. Wallace; Alliance R. D. 5 — Dale E. Tuel and Minerva R. D. 2—Joseph C. Phillips.

Parked Auto Hit By Fire Truck In Run To Peake St.

One of the city's fire trucks was involved in an accident while answering an alarm to the home of Ray Wright of 1045 Peake St. Tuesday night.

The 1964 model Seagraves fire truck was damaged in a collision with a parked car in Sutton Alley about 7:20 while en route to the blaze, police reported.

Fireman Frank J. Butler, 43, of 1864 Lisbon St. was operating the truck when it was involved in the mishap with the auto, whose owner still is unidentified, police said. The mishap damaged a big tool compartment on the right rear of the fire truck.

Patrolman L. E. Richard investigated. He said Butler reported he started to proceed through Sutton Alley on the fire call, noting a car was parked on the right side of the alley. The fireman reported he pulled to the left to avoid hitting the car, but the right side of the truck hit the right front of the auto. The fire truck was moving about 5 miles an hour at the time, officers said.

Richard said while he was on duty at the scene of the fire Asst. Chief James Pelley told him a fire truck had hit a parked car in Sutton Alley. Richard said he investigated after the fire was extinguished. Persons residing in the alley told the officer they saw an unidentified man get into the auto and drive away immediately after the truck had passed.

No one came to police headquarters subsequently to report damage to his auto in such an incident, Richard said. At the site of the crash, the alley is narrow and the driver of the truck pulled as far as possible from the auto without going over a hillside, Richard reported.

Firemen said the blaze at the Wright home was caused by open flame being used to thaw frozen water lines.

The fire was in a kitchen wall and extended to a nearby sink. Damage was minor. The blaze was extinguished with a booster line.

Firemen were called at 12:29 a.m. today to the home of Mrs. Robert Gallagher of 910 May St. to investigate an odor of smoke in the house. Firemen said a thermostat was sticking, allowing the furnace to overheat.

Bill Urges Creation Of Brooke Park Board

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Senate has received a measure which would authorize creation of a park and recreation board in Brooke County.

The bill passed 96-0 in the House of Delegates Tuesday.

The measure calls for five board members to be appointed to four-year terms by the Brooke County court.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Boy's Feminine Ways Worry Parents

Dr. Garry Myers

I'm getting an increasing number of letters from parents who are concerned over boys under six or eight who prefer feminine fun and girl playmates. To illustrate, a mother from California writes: "My husband and I are concerned about our boy, five. Although he is small for his age (my husband and I are both small), he is bright, good-looking, good-natured and in most respects a delightful child. He is the oldest in the family with two younger sisters, four and 2½. When Bobby was three he went two days (mornings) a week to a cooperative nursery school. Every day he would dress up in a dress, hat, purse, earrings, etc.

"At first I thought this was very cute and funny, but it became a daily routine which began to bother me.

"At one of our nightly adult education meetings we had a guest psychologist from a nearby college and I asked him about this dress-up and how much the male role should be 'taught.' He was emphatic that boys should be taught to be masculine. He said he saw too many mixed-up about this at the college level. This sounded like the answer and I went home and my husband and I agreed that we would take this advice.

"WE TOLD Bobby that dress-up and playing with dolls was just for girls or baby boys and that when he was four (a few months away at the time), we would expect him to stop all feminine play.

"This we were consistent with until we found him hiding behind a chair playing with a doll. From then on we allowed him more freedom in his play but we voiced disapproval of any feminine play.

"About this time Bobby took up a great interest in drawing which we encouraged. He worked and perfected drawing beautiful and elaborate ladies. This has been just about the only thing he draws.

"Bobby loves kindergarten and usually gets along with other children in play. At home we encourage him to play with boys in the neighborhood but he prefers the girls. He says he doesn't like to play with trucks and guns, etc.

"We have bought him a cowboy suit, soldier hats, baseball outfits, etc., which just hang in his closet.

"At school he plays with the girls and names many girl friends — no boyfriends. The boys who used to come over to play don't come anymore.

"MY HUSBAND is very fond of Bobby and tries to take him with him when possible — fishing, working in yard, to get the car fixed. Would you suggest I ask the teacher to encourage Bobby to play with the boys?

"P.S. Bobby tells me that he wishes he were a girl."

My reply in part:

I think you parents are correct in wanting that boy to have more masculine interests.

Perhaps you would have been wiser if, instead of telling him he couldn't play with dolls, you worked hard in getting him to play with other boys his age. It's fine to encourage his drawing, but if I were you I wouldn't show enthusiasm over his drawing unless he drew something other than women and girls.

Try to attract some boys of his age to your home — one at a time at first and more later — when you can study him and encourage him and his playmates in playing boys' games and doing as other boys do.

WHEN HE tells you that he wishes he were a girl, don't argue, just act as if you didn't hear.

My bulletin "Your Child and His Playmates" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Husband Being Held In Shooting Of Wife

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP)—Shot through the head and in the face, neck and hip, Mrs. Lavinia Glass, 55, was able to meet police at her door when they arrived Tuesday. Mrs. Glass remained in critical condition today at a hospital while her husband, Joseph, 73, was in Belmont County Jail at St. Clairsville for investigation.

City police said Glass went to a neighbor and told him he had just shot his wife.

To Add 45 Stores

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Addition of 45 stores is anticipated at Marion's Southland Shopping Center, which a Dayton developer announced plans Tuesday to make into a mall market. Eugene Joffe said the project will cost $6 million and be completed in August 1967.

Brown Says 'No Extension' On Today's Filing Deadline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Travel hazards or not, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown declared that today's 4 p.m. deadline for candidates to file for the Ohio primary election contests would not be extended.

The weather didn't prevent the organization-endorsed top of the Democratic ticket, Frazier Reams Jr. and William L. Coleman, from getting here with their petitions Tuesday.

Few if any new hopefuls for statewide posts were expected to pop up today.

That would leave five two-man races: May 3 for Democratic nominations and only Gov. James A. Rhodes with a primary opponent on the Republican side—rabbit raiser William I. White of Mount Vernon.

The unopposed Republicans are incumbents in all Statehouse offices.

Reams flew from Toledo, which he represents as a state senator, to Columbus despite the snowstorm and had a speech ready.

"I can assure you that I am in this to win" his prepared statement read. "This year—to win in 1966." He said he'll call his campaign "Route 66."

He and Democratic State Chairman Coleman, who arrived from Marysville in his jeep—the one used to lead the 1961 inaugural parade for President Johnson in Washington—promised to campaign hard to unseat Rhodes and his "capitol clique," as they called it.

In order to contest Rhodes (or White) in the Nov. 8 election, Reams must defeat gubernatorial primary rival State Rep. Harry H. McIlwain of Cincinnati and Coleman must best former State Rep. Paul J. Lynch of Columbus. McIlwain filed previously. Lynch said he would do so today.

A surprise contestant to file for short-term state auditor between the November election and start of the full four-year term next Jan. 9 was Richard Barror, Columbus real estate man. His opponent is Clarence H. Knisley of Columbus, former state treasurer, recommended by the committee.

3 Ohioans Finalists In Science Talent Hunt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Ohioans are among 40 high school students named finalists today in the annual Westinghouse Science Talent Search.

Joy Diane Gilbert, 17, Minford; Louise Ann Loynachan, 17, Cleveland, and Larry Eugene Morse, 18, Dayton, are the Ohio youngsters who'll compete for five scholarships totaling $34,250. The competition will be in a five-day program here beginning March 2.

Saturday's Deadline For Filing In W. Va.

CHARLESTON—Saturday is the filing deadline for persons seeking nomination to political office in the West Virginia May 10 primary.

Secretary of State Robert D. Bailey said Tuesday his office will remain open until midnight Saturday to accept filing certificates. He also said certificates placed in the mail and postmarked before midnight Feb. 5 would be accepted.

Woman, Doctor Who Are Robbed Resign Positions

CLEVELAND (AP)—A young woman and a physician, who were attacked and robbed on the city's East Side, resigned their jobs with the county Tuesday.

Miss Gina Arsena, a Welfare Department caseworker, was attacked by a man who jumped into her car as she was leaving a meeting Monday, police said.

She told police the man put an ice pick to her throat and then fled when she struggled free and fell to the pavement. The man escaped with her purse and $5. Five spectators treated the incident as a joke, she told police.

Dr. Samuel Cydulka, a Public Health Service physician, was beaten unconscious Saturday by three men who took $100. Cydulka, on his way to treat a sick welfare child, said the child's family watched the incident through the window without calling police.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Dr. Garry Myers

I'm getting an increasing number of letters from parents who are concerned over boys under six or eight who prefer feminine fun and girl playmates. To illustrate, a mother from California writes: "My husband and I are concerned about our boy, five. Although he is small for his age (my husband and I are both small), he is bright, good-looking, good-natured and in most respects a delightful child. He is the oldest in the family with two younger sisters, four and 2½. When Bobby was three he went two days (mornings) a week to a cooperative nursery school. Every day he would dress up in a dress, hat, purse, earrings, etc.

"At first I thought this was very cute and funny, but it became a daily routine which began to bother me.

"At one of our nightly adult education meetings we had a guest psychologist from a nearby college and I asked him about this dress-up and how much the male role should be 'taught.' He was emphatic that boys should be taught to be masculine. He said he saw too many mixed-up about this at the college level. This sounded like the answer and I went home and my husband and I agreed that we would take this advice.

"WE TOLD Bobby that dress-up and playing with dolls was just for girls or baby boys and that when he was four (a few months away at the time), we would expect him to stop all feminine play.

"This we were consistent with until we found him hiding behind a chair playing with a doll. From then on we allowed him more freedom in his play but we voiced disapproval of any feminine play.

"About this time Bobby took up a great interest in drawing which we encouraged. He worked and perfected drawing beautiful and elaborate ladies. This has been just about the only thing he draws.

"Bobby loves kindergarten and usually gets along with other children in play. At home we encourage him to play with boys in the neighborhood but he prefers the girls. He says he doesn't like to play with trucks and guns, etc.

"We have bought him a cowboy suit, soldier hats, baseball outfits, etc., which just hang in his closet.

"At school he plays with the girls and names many girl friends — no boyfriends. The boys who used to come over to play don't come anymore.

"MY HUSBAND is very fond of Bobby and tries to take him with him when possible — i.e., fishing, working in yard, to get the car fixed. Would you suggest I ask the teacher to encourage Bobby to play with the boys?

"P.S. Bobby tells me that he wishes he were a girl."

My reply in part:

I think you parents are correct in wanting that boy to have more masculine interests.

Perhaps you would have been wiser if, instead of telling him he couldn't play with dolls, you worked hard in getting him to play with other boys his age. It's fine to encourage his drawing, but if I were you I wouldn't show enthusiasm over his drawing unless he drew something other than women and girls.

Try to attract some boys of his age to your home — one at a time at first and more later when you can study him and encourage him and his playmates in playing boys' games and doing as other boys do.

WHEN HE tells you that he wishes he were a girl, don't argue, just act as if you didn't hear.

My bulletin "Your Child and His Playmates" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Young Mother Seeks Help On Posture

Ida Jean Kain

In out-of-kilter posture, one fault leads directly to another and on to painful consequences. A young mother has found this out the hard way, and she asks for help. Her poignant letter emphasizes the need for early awareness.

For several years," she writes, "I have been looking for exercises to ease my round shoulderedness, but my problem seems to be complicated by swayback. This makes caring for a new baby painful and tiring.

"I REALIZE there's not much I can do in the way of permanent correction, since the problem became well entrenched throughout a childhood of careless posture. As a result, now when I remember to try to square my shoulders (after they have begun to ache) I find myself unable to do so. I formed the habit of leaning forward from the neck instead of the waist, and I now find it very painful to maintain sustained leaning over the baby, over the crib, over a wash basin, and so on.

"I've tried posture exercises; the one about holding the spine straight against a wall was particularly hopeless because of my swayback. As a secretary, I had aching shoulders; as a teacher, I had problems. Holding the attention of my 30 eighth-graders left so little time for remembering to square one's shoulders. Also, having a heavy bosom, I felt reluctant to 'throw out my chest.'

"Aside from my considerable discomfort, I find it increasingly difficult to be the calm, good-natured person my husband deserves to find preparing his dinner. At the end of the day the accumulation of fatigue from poor posture is making itself felt. Please help!"

IT MAY NOT be as late as you think for posture correction. Seek help from a physical therapy specialist, and have her supervise your corrective exercises for a few weeks. Then you can carry on at home.

It also would be well for you to check the height of work surfaces. No doubt, some of these could be raised to lessen the need for bending. Longer legs on your work table would be a real help.

The old posture rules to "throw out your chest" and "throw back your shoulders" are all wrong. This can lead to swayback.

Posture correction should begin with the pelvic girdle. From this position of lying on back on floor, flex both knees, keeping soles of feet flat on floor. Pull up-and-in strongly with the lower abdominal muscles, flattening the small of your back against the floor. Hold this position, and contract strongly with the abdominals, for a slow count of eight, breathing freely. Repeat three times.

The second part of the exercise is directed toward the shoulders. From the same position, with arms down at sides and backs of wrists on floor, circle arms around on floor slowly without taking wrists off floor. Circle until arms are resting on floor overhead. Hold; then swing arms back down to sides. Keep small of back on floor as you circle.

It will help you to assume a rest-exercise position in the midafternoon, before you feel tired. The first exercise position is a correction in itself.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Berman Sees A Breakthrough

Timidity continues to haunt TV, says Shelley Berman, but he believes there are definite signs of improvement in the field of racial jokes and characters. As one of our best funny-story tellers and writers, Shelly hasn't had too much luck of his own at breaking down TV's timidity.

Hal Humphrey

A year ago he came up with a TV pilot film for a comedy series about a traveling salesman named Barney who, as the saying goes, "is in textiles."

-:-

BEFORE the script was filmed, Shelley had to remove Barney from textiles and put him in "decorative packaging supplies." Textiles were considered "too Jewish" and, therefore, a sensitive area. Who considered it that? The omniscient "they," of course—the experts who know exactly what will sell on TV and what won't.

Shelley's "Barney" pilot didn't sell anyway, so one might say a man in textiles remains an unknown quantity as far as TV is concerned.

As for Shelley, he's still sure there is something happening which eventually will thaw out TV's timidity in these areas.

"Look at Broadway today with 'Funny Girl,' 'Fiddler on the Roof' and 'Come Blow Your Horn'—all Jewish characters," he points out. "Then there's the book, 'How To Be a Jewish Mother,' which sold many more copies than there are Jews. They even made a record album based on it and did it on the Sullivan show. There's almost a Jewish syndrome."

-:-

THE FACT that Myron Cohen, Allan Sherman and Jackie Mason are accepted on TV regularly is a sign there may soon be a breakthrough for ethnic comedy on the medium, Shelley thinks.

Some of TV's shying away from ethnic or dialect comedy is traceable to legitimate concern, Shelley admits.

"Since more tolerance for our fellow man is evident today than ever before, it is natural that we don't want to see our neighbor sniped at or made fun of through racial humor. But I'm afraid there also are those who censor such humor because they may be ashamed of their own Jewishness," he adds.

A wonderful Jewish story of Shelley's deals with the Chicago shopkeeper whose son calls him long distance from New York to inform his father he is going to become an actor and needs money. After telling it just once on TV, the Anti-Defamation League received several letters from Jews protesting that it hurt them.

"I UNDERSTAND THIS but can't agree with those Jews. For example, I was disturbed at the theme music played whenever Fagin was on stage in 'Oliver.' It was a melody which constantly reminded me of Fagin's ancestry, yet I certainly wouldn't agree with any effort to suppress the composer's effort here, and anyway we also were shown that Fagin was the first man to treat young Oliver Twist with gentleness."

Shelley is aware, too, of those who can't understand what all the fuss is about and who cite Gertrude Berg's famous radio and TV Molly Goldberg and later her Sarah Green character on TV as proof that Jewishness never was discriminated against on these media.

"Molly Goldberg," says Shelley, "was the most gentile Jew I ever saw. She avoided the issue."

HE DOES NOT agree with those who would censure the "Hogan's Heroes" TV series for playing comedy in a Nazi POW camp.

"People are filling in things that aren't there," he maintains. "I believe you can joke about almost anything, if the lines you use are truly funny. I've even made jokes with people about their infirmities, so when I visited an institution for the blind. But it must be funny and the laughs must be guiltless.

"Remember that marvelous scene in Chaplin's 'City Lights' when he lets the blind girl mistakenly unravel his sweater after she has wound the yarn he was holding for her? It was funny, right?"

Shelley currently is writing three more presentations for TV which Warner Bros. is buying as part of a contract with CBS. They will be comedies, but apparently without ethnic overtones.

When asked about this, Shelley grins and replies in all candor, "I am doing my best to conform, and I am delighted with this opportunity to sell out."

Birch Society Figure Seeks Congress Seat

CINCINNATI (AP) — William E. Flax, a member of the John Birch Society, is challenging Robert Taft Jr. for the Republican nomination for U. S. representative from the 1st District.

Flax and Taft both filed nominating petitions Monday for the May primary.

The winner will oppose Democratic incumbent Rep. John J. Gilligan, who is unopposed for his party's nomination.

Flax, an attorney, said he is coordinator for the conservative Birch Society here.

Christian Group Conducts Rally

The Rev. Eugene Petrosky of Ambridge was guest speaker during the Beaver County Christian Youth Rally Saturday at the IBW Hall in Vanport. Several Full Gospel churches were represented by those present.

Ted Eagle of Baden and Ron Drent of Beaver Falls served as co-chairmen for the rally. Bernard Vukelich led group singing and Mrs. Vonnie McClure of Midland accompanied at the organ.

A gospel quartet will be featured at the next rally at the hall Feb. 26 at 7:30 p. m.

4-H Advisory Group Will Meet Thursday

LISBON — Recommendations for the 1966 4-H program will be discussed during a meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday of the Columbiana County 4-H Advisory Council at the Cooperative Extension Office here.

The 4-H awards budget and committee reports also are on the agenda.

The chairman of the council is Mrs. Ed Serafy of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Henry Porter Retires After 45 Years In Mill

Henry H. Porter of 628 Fisher Ave., with 45 years service, and William E. Wilsher of Pittsburgh, with nearly 17 years, retired effective Tuesday at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Porter, who has been general foreman for 33 years in the Blooming Mill, joined the Midland Works in 1919 as weighmaster at No. 2 Scales at the yard office. He later worked as an office clerk at No. 1 Merchant Mill.

He then worked for a short time as bill clerk for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Wellsville and returned in 1923 to the Midland Works to join the Blooming Mill and accumulate 42 years service in that department.

He is a member of Masonic Lodge 681 of East Liverpool and the Crockery City Conservation Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter have four children, Robert H. Porter of Calcutta Acres, East Liverpool, Miss Eleanor Porter, at home, and Mrs. Ruth Cunningham and Mrs. Betty Goodman, both of East Liverpool. There are six grandchildren.

Wilsher joined the Midland Works in 1949 as a foreman in Cold Strip - Finishing. He previously worked 14 years as a finishing foreman at the McLouth Steel Co. in Detroit.

HENRY H. PORTER
Long Service At End.

A native of Carnegie, Pa., he is a graduate of the high school there and a member of the Carnegie Eagles Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilsher reside on Kieners Lane, Pittsburgh. They have two sons, Robert and John Wilsher, both of Bridgeville, and two grandchildren.

Retirement parties are being planned by fellow employes for both men.

Hats Were Trademark Of Late Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movie gossip queen Hedda Hopper, stern mother to filmdom's brightest and brashest stars, once reminisced about her first store-bought hat:

"It was a thing of beauty. Of bright green straw trimmed with red velvet geraniums. It made me feel rich as a queen.

"That hat was a greater attraction on Easter morning than the choir or the preacher's sermon. I said if a hat can get the attention of this many people, I'll never go bareheaded."

She kept her word. Flamboyant, enormous and often outlandish hats remained a trademark of the Chicago Tribune-New York News syndicate columnist until her death Tuesday at 75.

Miss Hopper died at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital of pneumonia complicated by heart trouble. At the hospital when she died was her only son, actor William Hopper, who plays Paul Drake on the Perry Mason television series.

Miss Hopper's death, and the recent retirement of her arch rival, the Hearst Newspapers' Louella O. Parsons, ended a flamboyant period in Hollywood.

"She was more than just a columnist to me," said comedian Bob Hope. "Dolores (Mrs. Hope) and I have known her intimately for the past 25 years."

Born Elda Furry in Hollidaysburg, Pa., one of nine children in a Quaker family, Hedda ran away to New York City when she was 18 and joined a chorus line.

At 23, she married actor William DeWolfe Hopper, 55, a popular performer four years older than her father. They were divorced in 1922.

Miss Hopper then came to Hollywood and portrayed society women in silent and talking films.

Her entry into journalism came in 1936. Before long she was a threat to Miss Parsons' role as the town's gossip queen. Both had radio shows.

Their feud — a Hollywood legend in itself — developed from there.

Despite the fame of their public battle, they occasionally made up and would then say nice things for a while about each other's show business children.

Survivors include, besides her son, a sister, Mrs. C. G. Mitchell, Fairport Harbor, Ohio, and a brother, Edgar Furry, Easton, Pa.

In her will, Miss Hopper asked that funeral services be private, with interment in Martinsburg, Pa.

Area Church Services Set

The Rev. Howard Reisz of Pittsburgh, assistant to the president of the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod, will deliver the sermon Sunday during the 11 a.m. worship service at the Ohio View Lutheran Church in Industry.

The following Sundays of the month thereafter services will be conducted by the Rev. John Pfahler of Sewickley.

The Rev. Ralph E. Blair Jr. preached his final sermon Sunday, concluding a series, "What Are You and I Doing Here Together?"

Rev. and Mrs. Blair will leave Thursday for Jennerstown, the pastor's new charge.

Councilmen installed Sunday by Rev. Blair for three - year terms were George Atherton, Stephen Hazy and Jerry Medlicott.

Received into membership by the rite of confirmation were Patricia Louise Eichler, Lucinda Joy Safford and Christina Marie Stall. Miss Eichler also received the baptismal rite.

The church council met Sunday night, with the Rev. William C. Hankey, D. D., president of the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod, present.

Sunday's altar flowers were presented by Rev. and Mrs. Blair.

Jerry Medlicott will direct the Adult Fellowship Class Sunday at 9:45 a.m., with the discussion topic "Introduction Into Worship, Liturgy and Life."

Akron U. Head Backs Proposal For State Status

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The proposal to transfer Akron University from municipal to state status has the backing of Dr. Norman P. Auburn, president of the university.

He said Tuesday night that the proposed shift was "not a giveaway proposal," but "a transfer of responsibility."

Dr. Auburn addressed City Council and about 100 citizens attending a public hearing on proposed legislation to transfer the educational function and physical assets of the university to the state.

Council must act by March 3 to put the issue before the voters as a charter amendment in the May 3 primary. If the voters approve, the conversion would become effective July 1, 1967.

Lausche Offers Plan For Term In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, proposed Tuesday a constitutional amendment to provide four-year terms for House members. In so doing, he half agreed with President Johnson and half disagreed.

The President in his State of the Union address called for House elections to four - year terms the same years as presidential balloting. Lausche would have representatives elected in the even-year elections between presidential voting years. The senator also would require House members to resign in order to run for any other office except president.

County Driver Fined, Two Forfeit Bonds

LISBON — An East Rochester man was fined $15 Tuesday in Southwest Area County Court on a charge of excessive speed for road conditions.

Edmond J. Hawthorne, 21, pleaded guilty before Judge J. L. MacDonald.

Two motorists forfeited appearance bonds — Charles H. Hughes, 23, of Warren $20 on a charge of operating a motor vehicle left of center on a curve and Richard W. Raleigh, 24, of Wickliffe $15 on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a valid operator's license.

4 Cars Damaged By City Crashes

Four cars were damaged in two mishaps in the downtown area Tuesday afternoon, police reported.

A collision at Jackson St. and Drury Ln. at 3:45 involved a 1965 model station wagon driven by Larry G. Adkins, 26, of Newell and a 1962 sedan operated by Charles W. Freeman, 33, of 225 Washington St. Freeman said he was following Adkins downgrade on Jackson St. when Adkins started a turn into Drury Ln., the local man said he was unable to halt.

A crash at E. 5th St. and Broadway at 1:45 damaged a 1955 four-door sedan driven by Paul R. Laneve, 20, of 1315 Boyce Ave., Wellsville, and a 1963 coupe operated by Linda Ronshausen of 213 E. 4th St. Laneve said he was halted for a traffic light when his car was hit from the rear.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Berman Sees A Breakthrough

Timidity continues to haunt TV, says Shelley Berman, but he believes there are definite signs of improvement in the field of racial jokes and characters. As one of our best funny-story tellers and writers, Shelly hasn't had too much luck of his own at breaking down TV's timidity.

Hal Humphrey

A year ago he came up with a TV pilot film for a comedy series about a traveling salesman named Barney who, as the saying goes, "is in textiles."

-:-

BEFORE the script was filmed, Shelley had to remove Barney from textiles and put him in "decorative packaging supplies." Textiles were considered "too Jewish" and, therefore, a sensitive area. Who considered it that? The omniscient "they," of course—the experts who know exactly what will sell on TV and what won't.

Shelley's "Barney" pilot didn't sell anyway, so one might say a man in textiles remains an unknown quantity as far as TV is concerned.

As for Shelley, he's still sure there is something happening which eventually will thaw out TV's timidity in these areas.

"Look at Broadway today with 'Funny Girl,' 'Fiddler on the Roof' and 'Come Blow Your Horn'—all Jewish characters," he points out. "Then there's the book, 'How To Be a Jewish Mother,' which sold many more copies than there are Jews. They even made a record album based on it and did it on the Sullivan show. There's almost a Jewish syndrome."

-:-

THE FACT that Myron Cohen, Allan Sherman and Jackie Mason are accepted on TV regularly is a sign there may soon be a breakthrough for ethnic comedy on the medium, Shelley thinks.

Some of TV's shying away from ethnic or dialect comedy is traceable to legitimate concern, Shelley admits.

"Since more tolerance for our fellow man is evident today than ever before, it is natural that we don't want to see our neighbor sniped at or made fun of through racial humor. But I'm afraid there also are those who censor such humor because they may be ashamed of their own Jewishness," he adds.

A wonderful Jewish story of Shelley's deals with the Chicago shopkeeper whose son calls him long distance from New York to inform his father he is going to become an actor and needs money. After telling it just once on TV, the Anti-Defamation League received several letters from Jews protesting that it hurt them.

"I UNDERSTAND THIS but can't agree with those Jews. For example, I was disturbed at the theme music played whenever Fagin was on stage in 'Oliver.' It was a melody which constantly reminded me of Fagin's ancestry, yet I certainly wouldn't agree with any effort to suppress the composer's effort here, and anyway we also were shown that Fagin was the first man to treat young Oliver Twist with gentleness."

Shelley is aware, too, of those who can't understand what all the fuss is about and who cite Gertrude Berg's famous radio and TV Molly Goldberg and later her Sarah Green character on TV as proof that Jewishness never was discriminated against on these media.

"Molly Goldberg," says Shelley, "was the most gentile Jew I ever saw. She avoided the issue."

HE DOES NOT agree with those who would censure the "Hogan's Heroes" TV series for playing comedy in a Nazi POW camp.

"People are filling in things that aren't there," he maintains. "I believe you can joke about almost anything, if the lines you use are truly funny. I've even made jokes with people about their infirmities, so when I visited an institution for the blind. But it must be funny and the laughs must be guiltless.

"Remember that marvelous scene in Chaplin's 'City Lights' when he lets the blind girl mistakenly unravel his sweater after she has wound the yarn he was holding for her? It was funny, right?"

Shelley currently is writing three more presentations for TV which Warner Bros. is buying as part of a contract with CBS. They will be comedies, but apparently without ethnic overtones.

When asked about this, Shelley grins and replies in all candor, "I am doing my best to conform, and I am delighted with this opportunity to sell out."

Birch Society Figure Seeks Congress Seat

CINCINNATI (AP) — William E. Flax, a member of the John Birch Society, is challenging Robert Taft Jr. for the Republican nomination for U. S. representative from the 1st District.

Flax and Taft both filed nominating petitions Monday for the May primary.

The winner will oppose Democratic incumbent Rep. John J. Gilligan, who is unopposed for his party's nomination.

Flax, an attorney, said he is coordinator for the conservative Birch Society here.

The 4-H awards budget and committee reports also are on the agenda.

The chairman of the council is Mrs. Ed Serafy of Wellsville R. D. 1.

Henry Porter Retires After 45 Years In Mill

Henry H. Porter of 628 Fisher Ave., with 45 years service, and William E. Wilsher of Pittsburgh, with nearly 17 years, retired effective Tuesday at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Porter, who has been general foreman for 33 years in the Blooming Mill, joined the Midland Works in 1919 as weighmaster at No. 2 Scales at the yard office. He later worked as an office clerk at No. 1 Merchant Mill.

He then worked for a short time as bill clerk for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Wellsville and returned in 1923 to the Midland Works to join the Blooming Mill and accumulate 42 years service in that department.

He is a member of Masonic Lodge 681 of East Liverpool and the Crockery City Conservation Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter have four children. Robert H. Porter of Calcutta Acres, East Liverpool, Miss Eleanor Porter, at home, and Mrs. Ruth Cunningham and Mrs. Betty Goodman, both of East Liverpool. There are six grandchildren.

Wilsher joined the Midland Works in 1949 as a foreman in Cold Strip - Finishing. He previously worked 14 years as a finishing foreman at the McLouth Steel Co. in Detroit.

HENRY H. PORTER
Long Service At End.

A native of Carnegie, Pa., he is a graduate of the high school there and a member of the Carnegie Eagles Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilsher reside on Kieners Lane, Pittsburgh. They have two sons, Robert and John Wilsher, both of Bridgeville, and two grandchildren.

Retirement parties are being planned by fellow employes for both men.

Hats Were Trademark Of Late Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movie gossip queen Hedda Hopper, stern mother to filmdom's brightest and brashest stars, once reminisced about her first store-bought hat:

"It was a thing of beauty. Of bright green straw trimmed with red velvet geraniums. It made me feel rich as a queen.

"That hat was a greater attraction on Easter morning than the choir or the preacher's sermon. I said if a hat can get the attention of this many people, I'll never go bareheaded."

She kept her word. Flamboyant, enormous and often outlandish hats remained a trademark of the Chicago Tribune-New York News syndicate columnist until her death Tuesday at 75.

Miss Hopper died at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital of pneumonia complicated by heart trouble. At the hospital when she died was her only son, actor William Hopper, who plays Paul Drake on the Perry Mason television series.

Miss Hopper's death, and the recent retirement of her arch rival, the Hearst Newspapers' Louella O. Parsons, ended a flamboyant period in Hollywood.

"She was more than just a columnist to me," said comedian Bob Hope. "Dolores (Mrs. Hope) and I have known her intimately for the past 25 years."

Born Elda Furry in Hollidaysburg, Pa., one of nine children in a Quaker family, Hedda ran away to New York City when she was 18 and joined a chorus line.

At 23, she married actor William DeWolfe Hopper, 55, a popular performer four years older than her father. They were divorced in 1922.

Miss Hopper then came to Hollywood and portrayed society women in silent and talking films.

Her entry into journalism came in 1936. Before long she was a threat to Miss Parsons' role as the town's gossip queen. Both had radio shows.

Their feud — a Hollywood legend in itself — developed from there.

Despite the fame of their public battle, they occasionally made up and would then say nice things for a while about each other's show business children.

Survivors include, besides her son, a sister, Mrs. C. G. Mitchell, Fairport Harbor, Ohio, and a brother, Edgar Furry, Easton, Pa.

In her will, Miss Hopper asked that funeral services be private, with interment in Martinsburg, Pa.

Area Church Services Set

The Rev. Howard Reisz of Pittsburgh, assistant to the president of the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod, will deliver the sermon Sunday during the 11 a.m. worship service at the Ohio View Lutheran Church in Industry.

The following Sundays of the month thereafter services will be conducted by the Rev. John Pfahler of Sewickley.

The Rev. Ralph E. Blair Jr. preached his final sermon Sunday, concluding a series, "What Are You and I Doing Here Together?"

Rev. and Mrs. Blair will leave Thursday for Jennerstown, the pastor's new charge.

Councilmen installed Sunday by Rev. Blair for three - year terms were George Atherton, Stephen Hazy and Jerry Medlicott.

Received into membership by the rite of confirmation were Patricia Louise Eichler, Lucinda Joy Safford and Christina Marie Stall. Miss Eichler also received the baptismal rite.

The church council met Sunday night, with the Rev. William C. Hankey, D. D., president of the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia Synod, present.

Sunday's altar flowers were presented by Rev. and Mrs. Blair.

Jerry Medlicott will direct the Adult Fellowship Class Sunday at 9:45 a.m., with the discussion topic "Introduction Into Worship, Liturgy and Life."

Akron U. Head Backs Proposal For State Status

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The proposal to transfer Akron University from municipal to state status has the backing of Dr. Norman P. Auburn, president of the university.

He said Tuesday night that the proposed shift was "not a giveaway proposal," but "a transfer of responsibility."

Dr. Auburn addressed City Council and about 100 citizens attending a public hearing on proposed legislation to transfer the educational function and physical assets of the university to the state.

Council must act by March 3 to put the issue before the voters as a charter amendment in the May 3 primary. If the voters approve, the conversion would become effective July 1, 1967.

Lausche Offers Plan For Term In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, proposed Tuesday a constitutional amendment to provide four-year terms for House members. In so doing, he half agreed with President Johnson and half disagreed.

The President in his State of the Union address called for House elections to four - year terms the same years as presidential balloting. Lausche would have representatives elected in the even-year elections between presidential voting years. The senator also would require House members to resign in order to run for any other office except president.

4 Cars Damaged By City Crashes

Four cars were damaged in two mishaps in the downtown area Tuesday afternoon, police reported.

A collision at Jackson St. and Drury Ln. at 3:45 involved a 1965 model station wagon driven by Larry G. Adkins, 26, of Newell and a 1962 sedan operated by Charles W. Freeman, 33, of 225 Washington St. Freeman said he was following Adkins downgrade on Jackson St. when Adkins started a turn into Drury Ln., the local man said he was unable to halt.

A crash at E. 5th St. and Broadway at 1:45 damaged a 1955 four-door sedan driven by Paul R. Laneve, 20, of 1315 Boyce Ave., Wellsville, and a 1963 coupe operated by Linda Ronshausen of 213 E. 4th St. Laneve said he was halted for a traffic light when his car was hit from the rear.

Kiwanians At Lisbon To Hear Airport Talk

LISBON — The proposed Columbiana County airport will be discussed at the meeting of the Lisbon Kiwanis Club Thursday noon in the McKinley room of the VFW.

Speaking to the group will be Floyd Lower, an officer of the Columbiana County Airport Authority.

The program chairman is Lynn Riddle, Lisbon attorney.

Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the longest U. S. military casualty lists this year, 42 killed in Viet Nam action, carried the name Tuesday of Spec. 4 Richard Webster, nephew of Mrs. Thelma Johnson, Akron, Ohio.

About one in four cars which roll off the assembly line are equipped with air conditioning today, while 10 years ago only one auto in 10 was so equipped.

County Driver Fined, Two Forfeit Bonds

LISBON — An East Rochester man was fined $15 Tuesday in Southwest Area County Court on a charge of excessive speed for road conditions.

Edmond J. Hawthorne, 21, pleaded guilty before Judge J. L. MacDonald.

Two motorists forfeited appearance bonds — Charles H. Hughes, 23, of Warren $20 on a charge of operating a motor vehicle left of center on a curve and Richard W. Raleigh, 24, of Wickliffe $15 on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a valid operator's license.

City Hospital Treats 2 Injured In Accidents

Mickey Hull, son of Harry Hull of 429 Elm St., was treated Tuesday night at City Hospital for a cut on the thumb suffered when his hand became caught in a car door.

Virginia Blystone, daughter of William Blystone of Drain St., was treated yesterday afternoon for bruises of the back, which the family said were received in a fall down post office steps.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Thursday through Monday will average 9-14 degrees below normal. Representative normal highs and lows are Cincinnati 42-46, Columbus 38-22, Cleveland 35 - 19. Colder Thursday, a little warmer Friday, then colder over weekend. Snow about Friday and flurries over weekend expected to total one-half to one inch melted.

523 COLLEGE STREET. Right downtown where you can get by without a car—duplex arrangement, separate entrances, separate utilities, upstairs tenant has been there for several years, two bedrooms downstairs. Asking $7,900 to settle an estate.

SMALL FAMILY BUSINESS. Near downtown, operating for more than 20 years, fully equipped and fully stocked, two rented apartments, extra lot. It is being sold due to the death of the owner—wife must sell it. $19,500 complete.

VODREY ORCHARD FARM. 11½ miles from Calcutta, not very hilly, has solid older barn and four room cottage on it. Lots of road frontage on two roads, has excellent possibilities for the future. $21,500.

ST. CLAIR AVE. One of the top locations, brick, three or four bedrooms, as desired, full bath, two half baths, built in kitchen with refrigerator, washer and dryer, garbage disposal, etc., huge living room with fireplace, dining room, hardwood throughout, new gas heating system with Precipitron, integral garage, lot with frontage on Harding Ave., too. Many extras included. Reduced to $22,750—less than that if you don't need the entire lot.

523 COLLEGE STREET. Right downtown where you can get by without a car—duplex arrangement, separate entrances, separate utilities, upstairs tenant has been there for several years, two bedrooms downstairs. Asking $7,900 to settle an estate.

SMALL FAMILY BUSINESS. Near downtown, operating for more than 20 years, fully equipped and fully stocked, two rented apartments, extra lot. It is being sold due to the death of the owner—wife must sell it. $19,500 complete.

VODREY ORCHARD FARM. 1½ miles from Calcutta, not very hilly, has solid older barn and four room cottage on it. Lots of road frontage on two roads, has excellent possibilities for the future. $21,500.

ST. CLAIR AVE. One of the top locations, brick, three or four bedrooms, as desired, full bath, two half baths, built in kitchen with refrigerator, washer and dryer, garbage disposal, etc., huge living room with fireplace, dining room, hardwood throughout, new gas heating system with Precipitron, integral garage, lot with frontage on Harding Ave., too. Many extras included. Reduced to $22,750—less than that if you don't need the entire lot.

Junior Editors Quiz on GUITARS

QUESTION: What were the ancestors of our modern guitar?

ANSWER: The guitar is one of a class of instruments—including the lute, mandolin and banjo—in which long strings of metal or gut are shortened with the fingers of one hand while being plucked with the fingers of the other. In some cases a plucking object is used. Unlike the violin, with its smooth finge.board, these instruments have metal frets across the finge.board which make the position of the fingers easier to locate. Instruments of this general class were used in far off times by the Chinese, Egyptians and people of other ancient nations, but the particular body shape of the guitar seems to have come from Persia, as suggested in our illustration. The modern guitar shape appeared in Spain about 1600 as well as the name "guitarra." In America, the guitar was not widely used until the jazz age came along. It found its real use with the revival of old-time haunting folk melodies, the singing of which it could accompany with a soft, romantic background, into which elements of jazz syncopation and rhythm could be woven. The latest chapter in the guitar story is the use of electronic equipment which gives a new character to the guitar sound. The sound can be varied and amplified; a strong "twangy" quality can be produced which emphasizes rhythm.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find out more about the remarkable electronic guitar which really is a new kind of musical instrument. Look in a music store window to see the new body shape, often of solid wood. Since the sound is amplified electronically, the older hollow bodies are no longer necessary. Listen for the twangy sound in modern records.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 2, the 33rd day of 1966. There are 332 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1848, Mexico accepted U.S. peace terms, recognizing the Rio Grande as the southwestern boundary of Texas and giving up what now are New Mexico and California and a vast area of other territory.

On this date:

In 1918, onetime heavyweight boxing champion John L. Sullivan died.

In 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt nominated Leon Henderson to be federal price administrator.

In 1944, U.S. Marines captured Namur Island on Kwajalein Atoll.

Ten years ago—Severe cold, blizzards and snowstorms hit wide areas of Europe in what was to be the continent's worst freezeup in 50 years.

Five years ago — President John F. Kennedy, in a special message to Congress, warned the nation had been falling further and further short of its economic capabilities.

One year ago — President Johnson sent special assistant McGeorge Bundy to South Viet Nam to reassess the situation there.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: A man at our favorite service station gave my husband this hint:

To get that grease and dirt off your hands, after working on a car, lawn mower, or any other greasy object, use a mixture of one-half granular laundry detergent and ONE-HALF CORNMEAL!!

I mixed this and put it in a shortening container (a coffee can would be ideal), and left it in our utility room. My husband has been using this for two years now, and swears by it.

By the way, after two years, the can is still three-fourths full so using a smaller amount and smaller container might be more practical and easier to store.

M.M

-:-

Wow!

This hint has been tested and it works fantastically. . . .

I cannot imagine anything so simple. It seems that the cornmeal literally grinds the grease out of the tiny pores in your skin.

Our thanks, not only to you for sending the hint to us, but also to that kind garage man who told your husband about it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When refilling a salt shaker, I always took the shaker to the sink so the loose salt in the cap could fall into it.

Now I wait until I'm cooking a meal, remove the shaker cap right over food which needs to be salted, and let the loose salt in the cap fall right into the food.

Nothing spectacular but thought it might be worth a grain of salt!

MARY.

DEAR HELOISE: When painting with oil base paint, pour some of it from the gallon can into one of the new coffee cans that have the plastic lids.

When a lengthy interruption comes, just snap on the lid, put your paint brush in a plastic bag and twist a rubber band on the bag.

This keeps the air from the brush, and when you go back to painting, the brush is still soft and the paint has no scum.

MRS. T. NORRIS.

DEAR HELOISE: You're losing your grip!

I didn't know there was anything vinegar would do that you didn't know—vinegar, vinegar, vinegar.

I use it for cleaning candles. Works great.

No nylon net—just vinegar and a soft cloth—and wipe the sticky things off!

IRENE TAYLOR

DEAR HELOISE: This suggestion is for those who still desire to hang their wash outdoors:

Instead of lifting and lugging a basket of heavy wash, I use one of those handy shopping carts that rolls on two small wheels.

After putting in a liner of plastic, I'm all set to "wheel" up and down the stairs—inside and outdoors—and when the wash is dried and put back in the cart, I can push it around the house and make "deliveries" to proper locations.

HELENE E. HART.

Helene, you are so right. You can either pull the cart up the steps behind you, or "roll" it down in front of you.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When we use frozen dinners, I always save the metal containers, and give them to my daughter to use at their summer place.

It saves a lot of dishwashing, as she uses them once and throws them away.

I always save the heavy aluminum covers, too. I wash them and press out the creases. They make wonderful bowl covers for leftovers.

DEAR HELOISE: The paper or plastic covered two or three-inch wires used to tie plastic bags, etc. with . . . are wonderful for fastening little girls' ponytails.

They won't pull hair out by the roots like the rubber bands used to do.

You can also match the hair ribbon by covering one with a swatch of ribbon and basting it with a needle and thread.

EVELYN McKEE.

I Killed, I Injured When Struck By Cars

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A pedestrian was hit by a car, then both victim and motorist were hit by another car in a fatal accident here Tuesday. The twice-struck pedestrian, Clarence Taylor, 58, died in a hospital. Thomas Gingrich was hospitalized in fair condition.

Police said Taylor, dodging a car, stepped back in front of Gingrich's auto. After it hit him and Gingrich alighted to help, another auto struck both of them.

14 Ohio Pupils Among Winners Of Scholarships

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fourteen Ohio youngsters are among more than 250 outstanding Negro students announced today as 1966 winners of four-year college scholarships.

The National Merit Scholarship Corp., Evanston, Ill., makes the awards under its National Achievement Scholarship Program.

The scholarships range from $250 to $1,500 a year depending on the student's need and may be used at the accredited colleges of their choice.

James Dailey, Alliance, Western Reserve; Barbara J. Taylor, Athens, Ohio University; Robert W. Faithful Jr., Bridgeport, Miami of Ohio; Luther K. Robinson Jr., Elyria, Oberlin; Jacquelyn O. Wright, Germantown; Columbia Union; James McCaulley, Ontario, General Motors Institute; Kathleen D. Battle, Portsmouth, U. of Cincinnati.

Tomorrow, throughout the world, there will be 90,000 more living persons on earth than there are today. That's a rate increase of about 33 million per year.
